Tuska, 1999-11-01 The Western Story A Chronological Treasury consists of twenty Western stories spanning the years 1892 to 1994 For that generation of American writers who saw the frontier in the last century including Mark Twain Bret Harte and Owen Wister it seemed exotic strange wonderful Others such as Frederic Remington and John G Neihardt reflected the clash between various Indian nations and pioneers These authors prepared the way for the founders of the first Golden Age of the Western story Willa Cather who wrote of pioneer life in Nebraska Zane Grey who combined wilderness experiences with romance and the search for spiritual truth B M Bower who portrayed the cowboys and frontier women she knew growing up in Montana Max Brand who created dramas in which the psychological and spiritual meaning of life was more important than the physical terrain and Ernest Haycox who combined character and drama with historical accuracy Another generation of writers perpetuated this first Golden Age Peter Dawson and T T Flynn who began writing Western stories in the 1930s Walter Van Tilburg Clark who created a masterpiece in The Ox Bow Incident Dorothy M Johnson and Les Savage Jr who experimented with making the Western story still more realistic and Louis L Amour whose visibility and popularity won legions of new readers to the genre Humanity depth and verisimilitude were already part of the Western story when Will Henry Elmer Kelton and T V Olsen came on the scene to intensify these qualities in their own stories even as they experimented with new perspectives And Cynthia Haseloff's story written especially for this collection with its symbolism and its simplicity may be the harbinger of a second Golden Age Telling Western Stories Richard W. Etulain, 1999 What has the western of literature and film contributed to American culture Richard Etulain the leading cultural historian of the West answers that question by tracing four distinct storytelling traditions and exploring the indelible images each has left in the public's mind over the past 125 years Our images of cowboys lawmen outlaws and Indians come from a collage of sources including Buffalo Bill Frederick Jackson Turner Calamity Jane Mary Hallock Foote Geronimo Mourning Dove Owen Wister Zane Grey Walter Noble Burns John Ford Louis L Amour Wallace Stegner Patricia Nelson Limerick Leslie Marmon Silko and Larry McMurtry Etulain begins with the dominant image conveyed in Wild West shows and dime novels of the late nineteenth century the West as a place of adventure and danger In the early twentieth century stories by women and Indians appeared but they were soon overlooked and not rediscovered until the 1970s The period from the 1920s to the 1950s represents the classic era of western movies and novels of cavalry charges to save the day and heroes in white hats But since the 1960s a counter story has emerged one of ambiguity and complexity that often turned upside down our notions about what really mattered in how we look at the West

John Ford Made Westerns Gaylyn Studlar, Matthew Bernstein, 2001-04-22 The Western is arguably the most popular and longlived form in cinematic history and the acknowledged master of that genre was John Ford His Westerns including The Searchers Stagecoach and The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance have had an enormous influence on contemporary U S filmmakers and on everything from Star Wars to Taxi Driver In nine major essays from some of the most prominent scholars of Hollywood film John Ford Made Westerns Filming The Legend in The Sound Era situates the sound era westerns of John Ford within contemporary critical contexts and regards them from fresh perspectives These range from examining Ford's relation to other art forms most notably literature painting and music to exploring the development of the director's public reputation as a director of Westerns Articles also address the intricacies of Ford's shifting approach to storytelling and the subtle techniques whereby Ford's films guide spectator interpretation and emotional engagement While giving attention to film style and structure the volume also explores the ways in which these much loved films engage with notions of masculinity and gender roles capitalism and community as well as racial and sexual identity Authors also examine how Ford's sound era Westerns create a complex relationship to the genre's traditional project of defining an American nation and how they uphold up but also question popular culture depictions of history and nationhood to offer a commentary that engages with both the past the present and the future In addition to new scholarship the volume also offers a dossier section of out of the way magazine articles that illuminate the issues raised by essays including the director's tribute to John Wayne as well as a moving posthumous appraisal of the director published by the Director's Guild of America
