a collection of stories for children by Oscar Wilde first published in May 1888 It contains five stories In a town where there are a lot of poor people who suffer a swallow who was left behind after his flock flew off to Egypt for the winter meets the statue of the late Happy Prince who in reality has never experienced true sorrow for he lived in a palace where sorrow was not allowed to enter Viewing various scenes of people suffering in poverty from his tall monument the Happy Prince asks the swallow to take the ruby from his hilt the sapphires from his eyes and the gold leaf covering his body to give to the poor As the winter comes and the Happy Prince is stripped of all of his beauty his lead heart breaks when the swallow dies as a result of his selfless deeds and severe cold The people unaware of their good deeds take the statue down from the pillar due to its shabbiness intending to replace it with one of the Mayor and the metal melted in a furnace leaving behind the broken heart and the dead swallow they are thrown in a dust heap These are taken up to heaven by an angel that has deemed them the two most precious things in the city This is affirmed by God and they live forever in his city of gold and garden of paradise

The Happy Prince ,2011 Retelling of Oscar Wilde s classic tale of the statue of a prince who watches over the city where he once ruled Once called the Happy Prince he is saddened by the hunger and pain he sees in the people around him A kind bird helps the statue share his treasures with those in need until one day the two of them have nothing left to give The

Happy Prince ,2015 THE HAPPY PRINCE(CD1□□□)(ART CLASSIC STORIES 19) Julie Sormark,2010-10-01 The Happy Prince and Other Tales Oscar Wilde,2011-12 Nine lovely tragic tales the nine magically airy yarns in this collection are definitely enchanting stories The Happy Prince and The Selfish Giant are perhaps the most famous of the nine In the first story the golden statue of a prince weeps for all the suffering people he sees and begs a swallow to strip him of his riches and distribute them to the masses In the second tale a giant builds a wall around his beautiful garden to keep out the noisy children only to find out that he has also locked out the Spring The Young King is a variation on the theme of A Happy Prince When a young monarch learns of the suffering and misery caused by his requirement for a robe a crown and a sceptre he refuses to handle any of these riches and is given a more fitting raiment by a Divine Power Keeping with the royal theme is The Star Child about a beautiful but horrible young boy whose physical appearance grows to match his ugly spirit Another little bird appears in The Nightingale and the Rose to help a young man win the heart of the woman he loves The stories themes include beauty tragedy agony compassion innocence and Platonic love Some characters give their lives or sell their souls in the name of love There are also the same archetypes that appear in dreams the Divine Child the Trickster the Wise Old Man or Woman the Number 3 and more Add all this to Wilde s delicate writing and gilded imagination and you get some of the most original tales ever written Though most of these stories end happily all end tragically That is to say even when the endings are happy someone always dies Each story manages to associate everything thrilling and exquisite about beauty with the starkness of death Accordingly not all of these tales are suitable for children For example one scene in The Fisherman and His Soul features witches dancing before the devil and the princess in The Birthday of the Infanta is a heartless child whose mockery leads to the death of a little dwarf The keening poignant loveliness shines through making you want to read each story again and again and again The Happy Prince and Other Tales Oscar Wilde,2017-02-17 The

The Happy Prince and Other Tales Oscar Wilde,2021-04-19 High above a city stands an ornate statue of the Happy Prince recently deceased He oversees the town and is pained by the suffering of his people One night a Swallow who had not gone to Egypt with his flock for the winter because he was pursuing a beautiful Reed arrives in the city and rests on the Happy

Prince's statue The Swallow notices the Prince is crying and the Prince explains that during his lifetime he had lived in a palace devoid of misery and therefore had never experienced sorrow Now though he can see the suffering of his people He then asks the Swallow to distribute the gemstones and gold leaf from his form to various families in need The Swallow loves the Prince and decides to stay By the time winter arrives though the Happy Prince is stripped of all his beauty while the Swallow dies of the harsh cold As a result the Happy Prince's lead heart breaks When the Mayor finds the statue in such a decrepit state he decides to take it down melt it and make an ornate statue of himself The lead heart and the dead swallow are discarded like they are nothing but when God tells an Angel to bring Him the two most precious things in the city the Angel brings him the dead bird and the lead heart
