Assessment and Governance of Sustainable Soil Management Katharina Helming,Thomas Koellner,Katrin Daedlow,Bernd Hansjürgens,2020-01-24 The role of soils for achieving the Sustainable Development Goals is multifarious Soils are the essential basis for food and biomass provision in support of food security SDG 2 and energy security SDG 7 Soil carbon sequestration is paramount for climate action SDG 13 Soil mediated water purification and retention nutrient and matter cycling and soils habitat functions are essential for maintaining ecosystem services and biodiversity SDG 15 Healthy soils perform well in all these functions simultaneously However the globally increasing demand for food fiber and bio based products poses massive challenges to soil health Minimizing trade offs between biomass production and soil health requires systemic approaches to assessment and governance of sustainable soil management in agriculture and food systems It provides interdisciplinary insights into key questions What are the impacts of agricultural management practices on sustainability targets in specific geophysical and socio economic contexts What are the opportunities and risks of future trends such as climate change digitalization and emerging technologies for soil management and soil health How can institutions and governance instruments be improved to enable decision makers to take action on sustainable soil management The book was initiated in the frame of the National German research program BonaRes Soil as a sustainable resource for the bioeconomy and it is meant to trigger interdisciplinary thinking

The Common Agricultural Policy after 2013 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Environment, Food and Rural Affairs Committee,2011-04-15 The Environment Food and Rural Affairs Committee criticises the European Commission s proposed sweeping reforms of the CAP that would see the current complex and bureaucratic system of direct payments replaced by one that could be even worse These changes include a new tier of environmental conditions with penalties for farm businesses that do not comply or fail to meet new criteria for active farmers farm size and number of employees The Committee sets out the key principles the UK government should promote The first objective of the CAP should be to maintain and enhance the EU s capacity to produce food with a significant degree of self sufficiency and in the long term less reliance on income support from the tax payer The UK s future food security is threatened by the low profitability of its agriculture More than half of UK farm businesses would be unprofitable without the support they receive through the CAP The Committee concludes that direct payments have a place within the CAP for as long as business conditions in agriculture fail to deliver a thriving and profitable industry The CAP must deliver a competitive and viable agricultural sector that produces safe and high quality food with a lower environmental impact The UK should press for the EU to argue more strongly for recognition of environmental and animal welfare production standards within trade agreements The committee also warns that the EU proposal for a multi tiered single farm payment will require expensive new computer systems and auditing
