The Inner-work of Leadership Barry Brownstein, 2010 In The Inner Work of Leadership Barry Brownstein has pioneered a new pathway to effective leadership Brownstein explains that it is the transformational process taking place inside of us that makes great leaders and great organizations possible Many books offer us techniques to engage employees but Brownstein who holds the CSX Chair in Leadership at the Merrick School of Business of the University of Baltimore makes clear why techniques wear out quickly and many managers go on firefighting The Inner Work of Leadership takes us on a journey to discover a fresh unfailing source of leadership energy To tap into it Brownstein shows us how to do our inner work We need add nothing rather we uncover and then give up mistaken beliefs we have about ourselves and those we lead When we drop our mistaken beliefs we discover tremendous reserves of human ingenuity Following his practical guidance inner work leads to elevated purposes higher values and simple principles that unleash organizational intelligence Integrating the perennial spiritual wisdom lessons learned by quantum physicists and modern management principles Brownstein offers us a lens through which we can see fresh possibilities for intelligent wholehearted engagement beyond what we have dreamed was possible in organizations A pathway to emergent innovative change is revealed Brownstein amply demonstrates the power of inner work sharing the experiences of individuals and the performance of organizations in business the arts education healthcare and sports This masterful book is brimming with guidance and inspiration

The Meaning Revolution Fred Kofman, 2018-05-01 One of the most extraordinary thinkers on leadership and management I have ever encountered Sheryl Sandberg Forget the standard practices of leadership taught in business school all about compensation command and control This is a new model for how to inspire through purpose principle and people The Meaning Revolution is Fred Kofman's call to arms for anyone who has ever felt unengaged at work and offers actionable advice for how we can all find more meaning and dignity whatever we do Bringing together economics and conflict resolution counselling and mindfulness Kofman explains how our most deep seated anxiety is that we are wasting our lives The things that we think matter salaries and job titles actually only account for 15% of our motivation at work The other 85% is about how we belong feeling we make a difference that we serve a purpose larger than ourselves Transformative leadership is about helping employees feel connected to a great mission or purpose and discovering the immortality project at the core of your business
