

Inspection

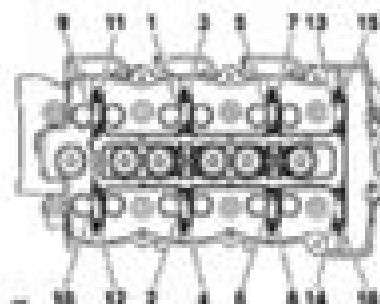

- Inspect the sprockets for damage and wear or broken teeth.
- Inspect the bearing surfaces in the cylinder head and cam follower. If wear or damage is found, the cylinder head must be replaced.
- Inspect the cam chain (see page 3.7).
- Check camshaft journal to cam follower clearance using Plastigage (Plastig part number 8601100-1000) as follows:

Caution

During the fitting procedure, the engine must not be rotated. Damage to valves, pistons and the cylinder head can result from rotating the engine.

- Position a camshaft in the cylinder head in its correct location, (intake cam is left valve, exhaust cam is exhaust valve). Ensure that the fitting marks on the cam sprocket are positioned as for removal.
- Release and remove the cam follower as previously described. Wipe the exposed areas of one of the camshaft journals and the corresponding position on the cam follower.
- Apply a thin smear of grease to the wiped camshaft journal and a small quantity of silicone release agent to the corresponding position on the cam follower.
- Size a piece of Plastigage to fit across the wiped camshaft journal.
- Fit the Plastigage to the camshaft journal using the grease to hold it in place.
- Position the cam follower in the cylinder head, aligning bearing areas with cam journals. At this stage, it is not necessary to fit the cam chain top part.

- Finger-tighten the cam follower bolts until the under-head areas are in contact with the cam follower.
- In the sequence shown below slowly and progressively tighten the cam follower bolts, approximately half a turn each, until the cam follower is in full contact with the head.

Cam follower tightening sequence

- In the same sequence, torque each cam follower bolt to 10 Nm.
- Release and remove the cam follower as previously described.
- Using the gauge provided with the Plastigage kit, measure the width of the now compressed Plastigage.

Fitting a plastigage measurement

- Calculate the cam journal clearance using the chart provided with the Plastigage kit.

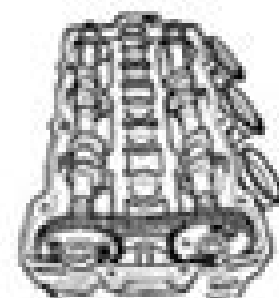

- If the journal to cam follower clearance is within the specified tolerances (see table below), remove the cam follower and check off all faces of Plastigage, silicone release agent and grease.

Standard	0.042 - 0.091 mm
Service limit	0.15 mm

- Check the diameter of the camshaft journals

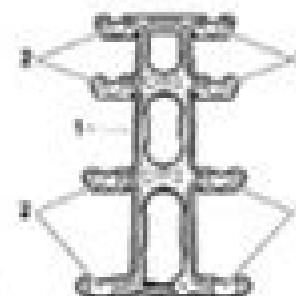

Standard	22.95 - 23.00 mm
----------	------------------

- If any of the journal to cam follower distances are outside the specified tolerances, but the camshaft journals are within their specified tolerances, the cylinder head must be replaced.

Locate camshaft

- Locate the cam bearing areas of the cam follower with a slight corner of engine oil and molybdenum disulphide grease.

- Cam follower
- Cam bearing areas
- Lubricate the threads of the cam follower bolts with clean engine oil.
- Position the cam follower in the cylinder head, aligning bearing areas with cam journals.
- Finger-tighten the cam follower bolts until the bolts under-head areas are in contact with the cam follower.

- Working on one cam at a time, locate the cam chain over the camshaft sprockets.
- Ease the cam chain away from the sprockets then turn each camshaft until as many teeth as possible are facing away from the valves. Allow the chain to drop back onto the cams.

Caution

To avoid damage to the cam follower, always ensure as many cam lobes as possible are facing away from the valves. This will reduce stress on the cam follower during assembly. Damage to the cam follower will result in replacement of the complete head.
