

7 KEYS

for navigating a life-changing diagnosis

1. Walk Two Roads

Balance staying positive while also seeking honest, accurate information. This helps you stay hopeful and grounded to reality.

ACTION

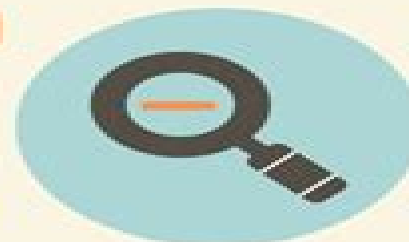

Ask yourself what you are hoping for and what you need to plan for just in case?

2. Zoom Out

Every illness has a known pattern to it. Understanding this storyline gives you a birds-eye view of where you are at in your illness and the long view.

Ask your provider "What will my illness look like over time? What can I expect along the way?"

ACTION

3. Know Your Style

Your unique way of being will have as much impact on your illness experience as the illness itself. Harness information about your style to gain more control.

ACTION

Reflect on your tendencies when facing stressful situations and how those might apply in your illness.

4. Customize Your Order

At times you may want to tailor your care to match your values. Use your values and preferences to guide your decisions throughout your illness.

Ask yourself what do you value most?

ACTION

5. Anticipate Ripple Effects

Your inner crew (e.g. family and caregivers) will have a parallel illness journey. Their lives will be affected in multiple ways.

ACTION

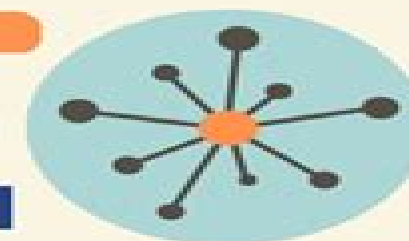

Consider what support you need from your inner crew. Encourage them to get information and support too.

6. Connect the Dots

You and your inner crew need to play a central role in co-ordinating information. This enhances continuity and safety, especially at transition points.

Ask yourself who will be the manager of your journey?

7. Invite Yourself

Initiate conversations with your healthcare team. Don't assume no news is good news. Passive, polite patients are encouraged to be respectfully assertive.

Ask questions and seek the information you need so you can make informed decisions.

They Sing the Wedding of God John Napier,2013-06-12 In Rajasthan India a caste of musicians and mendicants the Nath Jogis sing stories of kings who renounce their thrones to become wandering mendicants They also sing of a god Mahadeva Shiva who must abandon his world renouncing life and marry thus establishing the very caste that tells his story This is the first detailed ethnomusicological study of the music of this caste examining how the existential questions of the sung stories of the conflict between loyalty to families or communities and the transcending desire to renounce the material world are articulated in musical performances in which the caste's own ethnography is inscribed. Discussing the relationship between the performed repertoire and the caste's identity, the contexts of performance and ways in which familiar stories are effectively retold, the book offers a transcription, translation, and musical and ethnographic analysis of one performance by Kishori Nath and shows how the questions the performances project are not merely speculative acts of self-identification but also challenges to audiences to consider their own responses.

Jewish Antiquities: Or a Course of Lectures on the Three First Books of Godwin's Moses and Aaron. To which is Annexed, a Dissertation on the Hebrew Language. Edited by P. Furneaux. David Jennings, 1808. Born Out of Wedlock David McCoy, 2015-08-27. With a backdrop of World War II and its aftermath in England in 1952, the peace of a usually quiet small village in the Chilterns is shattered when an eleven-year-old boy is the victim of a vicious attack. This triggers the memory of his working-class mother, a nurse at the local cottage hospital, and she thinks back to the terrible events of 1940 and their impact on village life. She wistfully reminisces about her son's upper-middle-class father, a Spitfire pilot reported missing during the Battle of Britain. In addition to the difficulties and worries due to the war, the boy's mother and grandmother have to cope with the class system and the stigma of the boy's illegitimacy. The people of the village are traumatized and shocked by the tragedy. They are fearful for the safety of their children. Will the guilty criminal strike again? The police are urgently trying to track him down. Can the village return to its erstwhile peace and quiet? The future alone can provide the answer.

When Maggie loses a lucrative contract for her P.I. agency due to an accidental full frontal flashing, she's forced to accept the only other job on offer: one involving her nemesis, the pampered show cat Quibbles. Maggie and her wacky associate Lenny are hired to escort Quibbles to the final round of auditions to become the face of a luxury cat food brand, Purrfect Paws. Instead of the five-star hotel they were promised, Maggie and Lenny find themselves trapped in a run-down hostelry in the middle of a hurricane. To make matters worse, their fellow guests include five spoiled celebrity cats and their ruthlessly ambitious owners, all of whom are determined that their cat should be chosen as the face of Purrfect Paws.
