Course Objectives:

Upon successful completion of this course, the student will be able to:

1. Define psychology as a discipline and explain its history, and how it is distinct from and related to other disciplines.
2. Explain how psychology is a science. Become familiar with the research methods used by psychologists, including different research designs, limitations of research findings, and APA ethical principles.
3. Explore the subject matter of the field of psychology and become familiar with the vocabulary, major concepts, theories, and research findings of psychology.
4. Further develop critical thinking skills by applying them to the field of psychology
5. Become a cautious and analytical consumer of psychological information that is proclaimed to be scientific or based on research. Recognize the usefulness and limitations of research findings.
6. Understand and apply psychological principles to personal, social, and organization issues.
7. Become aware & respectful of diversity issues which affect behavior & psychological processes. Recognize that sociocultural contexts may influence the development and application of psychological principles.

Learning Outcomes/Competencies:

Critical Thinking: Upon Completion of this course students will have:

1. Read and demonstrated an understanding of complex ideas by identifying key concepts in the field of psychology.
2. Applied theory to practice using problem solving techniques and data analysis.
3. Analyzed and evaluated research data to produce a well-reasoned argument or position on an issue.

Global Citizenship: Upon Completion of this course students will be able to use psychology concepts to:

1. Explain how social interactions are influenced by local, regional, national, and/or global cultures.
2. Recognize cultural and individual differences that underlie the complexities of human behavior and social interaction.
3. Demonstrate an understanding and knowledge of cultures that are diverse from their own.

Homework:

Homework will be assigned every week, including a PreLecture quiz [online] and reading [online or printed text].

Most PreLecture quizzes take an hour; some will be longer (noted with [15] in the syllabus). There will be a quiz or test in class each week.

Note on Electronic Devices:

Please turn off (or put to sleep) all electronic devices during class. This rule especially applies to devices that make noise and/or distract you or your fellow learners from fully participating in class discussion, and specifically includes: pagers, phones, laptops, iPads, iPods/MP3 players. You may be granted an exception if you use your laptop to take notes. Surfing the web, texting, instant messaging, and emailing during class are not acceptable uses of our class time.

Crawford Slip Method C. C. Crawford, John W. Demidovich, 1983 The Crawford slip method involves two main principles a The Functional or Behavioral approach to improved performance b The Looseleaf one sentence per slip technology for assembling and organizing ideas Of the two the first is by far the more important With its How To emphasis you can mobilize many minds in a search for better ways Attention is on difficulties troubles or deficiencies and on remedial insights matched to them Materials which you produce are then directive not merely descriptive The essence of what this book is all about is a You collect slip information from a variety of people b You classify it into meaningful configurations c You make it available to wider audiences This technique of writing down ideas evaluating them and developing procedures from these slips of paper is particularly good for brainstorming think tanks Current Law Index ,1981 Paperbound Books in Print ,1982
