Mergent International Manual, 2001 The Oxford Handbook of Agricultural History Jeannie M. Whayne, 2024
Agricultural history has enjoyed a rebirth in recent years in part because the agricultural enterprise promotes economic and cultural connections in an era that has become ever more globally focused but also because of agriculture's potential to lead to conflicts over precious resources. The Oxford Handbook of Agricultural History reflects this rebirth and examines the wide reaching implications of agricultural issues featuring essays that touch on the green revolution the development of the Atlantic slave plantation the agricultural impact of the American Civil War the rise of scientific and corporate agriculture and modern exploitation of agricultural labor Rules Lorraine Daston, 2023-08-08 In Rules historian Lorraine Daston traces their development in the Western tradition and shows how rules have evolved from ancient to modern times. Drawing on a rich trove of examples including legal treatises cookbooks military manuals traffic regulations and game handbooks

From the Indian Ocean to the Mediterranean Sebouh David Aslanian, 2011 Drawing on a rich trove of documents including correspondence not seen for 300 years this study explores the emergence and growth of a remarkable global trade network operated by Armenian silk merchants from a small outpost in the Persian Empire. Based in New Julfa Isfahan in what is now Iran these merchants operated a network of commercial settlements that stretched from London and Amsterdam to Manila and Acapulco. The New Julfan Armenians were the only Eurasian community that was able to operate simultaneously and successfully in all the major empires of the early modern world both land based Asian empires and the emerging sea borne empires astonishingly without the benefits of an imperial network and state that accompanied and facilitated European mercantile expansion during the same period. This book brings to light for the first time the trans imperial cosmopolitan world of the New Julfans. Among other topics it explores the effects of long distance trade on the organization of community life the ethos of trust and cooperation that existed among merchants and the importance of information networks and communication in the operation of early modern mercantile communities Manual del miliciano, 1937 The Spinning World Giorgio Riello, Prasanna Parthasarathi, 2011-09-22 This collection of essays examines the history of cotton textiles at a global level over the period 1200-1850. It provides new answers to two questions: what is it about cotton that made it the paradigmatic first global commodity? Gems in the Early Modern World Michael Bycroft, Sven Dupré, 2018-11-27 This edited collection is an interdisciplinary study of gems in the early modern world It examines the relations between the art science and technology of gems and it does so against the backdrop of an expanding global trade in gems The eleven chapters are organised into three parts The first part sets the scene by describing how gems moved around the early modern world how they were set in motion and how they were pulled together in the course of their travels The second part is about value It asks why people valued gems how they determined the value of a given gem and how the value of a gem was connected to its perceived place of origin The third part deals with the skills involved in cutting polishing and mounting gems and how these skills were transmitted and articulated by artisans The common themes of all these chapters are materials knowledge and global trade The contributors to this volume focus on the material properties of gems such as their weight and hardness on the knowledge involved in exchanging them and valuing them and on the cultural consequences of the expanding trade in gems in Eurasia and the Americas

The Global Lives of Things Anne Gerritsen, Giorgio Riello, 2015-11-19 The Global Lives of Things considers the ways in which things ranging from commodities to works of art and precious materials participated in the shaping of global connections in the period 1400-1800 By focusing on the material exchange between Asia Europe the Americas and Australia this volume traces the movements of objects through human networks of commerce colonialism and consumption It argues that material objects mediated between the forces of global economic exchange and the constantly changing identities of individuals as they were drawn into global circuits It proposes a reconceptualization of early modern global history in the light of its material culture by asking the question what can we learn about the early modern world by studying its objects This exciting new collection draws together the latest scholarship in the study of material culture and offers students a critique and explanation of the notion of commodity and a reinterpretation of the meaning of exchange It engages with the concepts of proto globalization the first global age and commodities consumption Divided into three parts the volume considers in Part One Objects of Global Knowledge in Part Two Objects of Global Connections and finally in Part Three Objects of Global Consumption The collection concludes with afterwords from three of the leading historians in the field Maxine Berg Suraiya Faruqi and Paula Findlen who offer their critical view of the methodologies and themes considered in the book and place its arguments within the wider field of scholarship Extensively illustrated and with chapters examining case studies from Northern Europe to China and Australia this book will be essential reading for students of global history

The Cambridge Global History of Fashion: Volume 2 Christopher Breward, Beverly Lemire, Giorgio Riello, 2023-08-17 Examines the challenges of fashion from the nineteenth century to the present day from decolonisation to sustainability

Clothing the Poor in Nineteenth-Century England Vivienne Richmond, 2013-09-19 In this pioneering study Vivienne Richmond reveals the importance of dress to the nineteenth century English poor who valued clothing not only for its practical utility but also as a central element in the creation and assertion of collective and individual identities During this period of rapid industrialisation and urbanisation formal dress codes corporate and institutional uniforms and the spread of urban fashions replaced the informal dress of agricultural England This laid the foundations of modern popular dress and generated fears about the visual blurring of social boundaries as new modes of manufacturing and retailing expanded the wardrobes of the majority However a significant impoverished minority remained outside this process Clothed by diminishing parish assistance expanding paternalistic charity and the second hand trade they formed a sartorial underclass whose material deprivation and visual distinction was a cause of physical discomfort and psychological trauma

Envisioning Diplomacy Mayu Fujikawa, 2025-10-14 In the late sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries Japan sent its first diplomatic delegations to visit the popes and dignitaries of Europe European artists portrayed these historic ambassadors the Tensh embassy 1582-90 and the Keich embassy 1613-20 in numerous oil paintings frescoes drawings and prints Envisioning Diplomacy analyzes these images including newly discovered and lost works within their cross cultural and diplomatic contexts Drawing on extensive and geographically expansive archival research art historian Mayu Fujikawa investigates how the embassies were received and either assimilated or differentiated at European courts She demonstrates how delegates gifts to their hosts their Europeanized kimonos and the Western clothes they wore while traveling functioned as tools of soft diplomacy Fujikawa also shows how printed materials functioned much as news does today promoting the embassies widely and conveying information about the guests and their striking physical appearance Envisioning Diplomacy
