Ripley S Believe It Or Not Daily Cartoons 1929 1930:

Ripley's Believe It or Not!: Daily Cartoons 1929-1930 Robert Ripley, 2014-10-21 Ripley's Believe It or Not Odditoriums are among the most popular attractions worldwide yet most people don't know that it all started with a daily cartoon drawn by one man Robert Ripley. Originally a sports cartoonist, Ripley developed Believe It or Not in the 1920s. By the end of the decade the series had become a phenomenal hit. In an era when few people traveled outside their own home town let alone out of the country, Ripley became a globetrotter seeking stories of bizarre and unusual proportion to put in his internationally known feature. The cartoons were adapted into radio and television programs and helped make Ripley the highest paid cartoonist in the world. This series begins a chronological reprinting of Ripley's famous daily cartoons in hardcover collections reminding us that first and foremost Robert Ripley explorer, radio movie and television personality, entrepreneur and museum impresario was an astounding artist cartoonist. The first volume reprises cartoons from 1929 and 1930 when Ripley's fame raised him from relative obscurity to international celebrity and includes bonus and background material from Ripley's impressive archives.

Andrea Stulman Dennett, 1997-10 On the history of the dime Museum How Comics Are Made Glenn

Fleishman, 2025-06-03 No one before now has written a history of the comic strip as a technological artifact not at least in such depth and on such a sound foundation of research. Michael Chabon, author The Amazing Adventures of Kavalier & Clay. If you love comics you'll love this visual history of comic strips featuring all of the methods, techniques and wizardry that made the funny pages such an important staple of American life. Featuring interviews with dozens of the century's most famous cartoonists and hundreds of rare archival images, How Comics Are Made covers the entire history of newspaper comics from a unique angle: how they were made and printed. This book combines years of research and dozens of interviews with cartoonists, historians and production people to tell the story of how a comic starts with an artist's hand and makes its way through transformations into print and onto a digital screen. You'll see reproductions of art and artifacts that have never appeared in print anywhere and some historic comics will appear for the first time ever in any medium in this book. And you'll find out about metal etching. Dragon's Blood, a real thing, flong, also a real thing, and the massively almost impossibly complicated path that original artwork took to get onto newsprint in the days of metal relief printing. The book is divided by time and transitions from the start of consistently appearing daily and weekly comics in newspapers: The Early Days from the Yellow Kid in the 1890s to the 1910s Syndication in Metal. When it became affordable to make hundreds or thousands of copies of daily strips to send around the country or world from the 1910s to the 1970s. Flatland: Newspapers switch from relief to flat printing and the shift to purely photographic transformations from the 1950s to the 1980s. Pixel Perfect: The transition from photographic to digital from scanning to digital creation from the 1970s to the 2000s and through the present day. Webcomics and Beyond: Look ma, no ink! Digital comics read online and sometimes put on press to make books. Each section features interviews with artists, reproductions of original cartoon art, printing and coloring artifacts and the way cartoons appeared in print or on screen. Santa Claus Pat Koch and Emily Thompson, 2013

Santa Claus, Indiana, acquired its famous name in 1856 and has been celebrating the spirit of Christmas ever since. Postmaster James Martin began answering children's letters to Santa and his elves in 1914, a tradition that continues to this day and makes Santa Claus a favored destination for those seeking the holiday spirit. The town's unique name prompted Robert Ripley to feature it in his popular cartoon strip, and businessmen such as Carl Barrett and Milton Harris raced to erect Christmas attractions as early as 1935. Beating Walt Disney by nearly a decade, Louis J. Koch opened Santa Claus Land, the nation's first theme park, in 1946. Today visitors still flock to Santa Claus to share in the magic of America's Christmas Hometown. American Newspaper Comics Allan
