Demographic	Conditional mean of y given the values of the covariates	Value for average values of the covariates (first element of the parameter vector)
Example	$\text{age} = 10$	$\text{intercept} = 100$
What is it useful?	Conditional means $\mu = E(y x_1, x_2, \dots, x_n)$ for all x	Describe any covariate for the intercept μ (e.g. for all x)
What the group $\text{age} = 10$	What the regression (at that age) looks like	What the intercept/first component

Values were used based on the regression, where $\alpha = 0.05$, except for those with $p < 0.001$ as the association in the other half of the population.

Identity Work in the Contemporary University Jan Smith,Julie Rattray,Tai Peseta,Daphne Loads,2015-12-24 Academic identities research is a growing area of scholarly enquiry especially as academics themselves question the evolving nature of their roles in rapidly changing university environments Performative frameworks in many countries around the world reflect these changes and this volume brings a number of disciplinary perspectives to bear on how we understand the lived experiences of academic life in a global context Contributors explore the power of conceptual tools drawn from Philosophy Psychology Sociology and Politics to challenge increasingly instrumental neoliberal political approaches to higher education supported by empirical evidence Worthwhile teaching learning and research require significant personal investment and the book pays particular attention to the deeply affective dimensions of current academic practices In Part One tools to conceptualise academic identity work drawn from foundational academic disciplines are applied to contemporary higher education practices Part Two foregrounds how working in universities today proceeds with a particular focus on how academics respond to the multiplicity of institutional demands The most pressing perceived demand supported by contributions in Part Three is publication the need to be visible to count is now a global imperative with the affective dimensions not yet well understood at policy level In Part Four those who support colleagues negotiating a reconfigured academic terrain explore productive approaches towards this task to ensure that academic practice remains rooted in the values previously outlined This book will be of interest to those working in universities globally who seek a deeper appreciation of the contextual drivers that shape academic work
