Riot In Ephesus Activity And Craft:

The Function of the Speeches in the Acts of the Apostles Janusz Kucicki, 2017-11-20 In The Function of the Speeches in the Acts of the Apostles Janusz Kucicki offers a new approach to interpretation of speeches contained in the Acts of the Apostles He separated all speeches from the narrative parts of Acts and analyze them independently Without narrative contexts the speeches expose their interrelation that allow to categorize the speeches into two major groups The first group named the topic speeches contains the speeches which create the topic group with common theme that is developed within the three speeches where the first takes introductory character the second takes the progressive character and the third takes the conclusive character The second group of speeches named the structural speeches contains the speeches without developed theme of the means and the glorification of our precious aims It is otherwise with the artist Confronted by the same enigmatical spectacle the artist descends within himself and in that lonely region of stress and strife if he be deserving and fortunate he finds the terms of his appeal His appeal is made to our less obvious capacities to that part of our nature which because of the warlike conditions of existence is necessarily kept out of sight within the more resisting and hard qualities like the vulnerable body within a steel armour His appeal is less loud more profound less distinct more stirring and sooner forgotten Yet its effect endures forever The changing wisdom of successive generations discards ideas questions facts demolishes theories But the artist appeals to that part of our being which is not dependent on wisdom to that in us which is a gift and not an acquisition and therefore more permanently enduring He speaks to our capacity for delight and wonder to the sense of mystery surrounding our lives to our sense of pity and beauty and pain to the latent feeling of fellowship with all creation and to the subtle but invincible conviction of solidarity that knits together the loneliness of innumerable hearts to the solidarity in dreams in joy in sorrow in aspirations in illusions in hope in fear which binds men to each other which binds together all humanity the dead to the living and the living to the unborn It is only some such train of thought or rather of feeling that can in a measure explain the aim of the attempt made in the tale which follows to present an unrestful episode in the obscure lives of a few individuals out of all the disregarded multitude of the bewildered the simple and the voiceless For if any part of truth dwells in the belief confessed above it becomes evident that there is not a place of splendour or a dark corner of the earth that does not deserve if only a passing glance of wonder and pity The motive then may be held to justify the matter of the work but this preface which is simply an avowal of endeavour cannot end here for the avowal is not yet complete Fiction if it at all aspires to be art appeals to temperament And in truth it must be like painting like music like all art the appeal of one temperament to all the other innumerable temperaments whose subtle and resistless power endows passing events with their true meaning and creates the moral the emotional atmosphere of the place and time Such an appeal to be effective must be an impression conveyed through the senses and in fact it cannot be made in any other way because temperament whether individual or collective is not amenable to persuasion All art therefore appeals primarily to the senses and the artistic aim when expressing itself in written words must also make its appeal through the senses if its highest desire is to reach the secret spring of responsive emotions It must strenuously aspire to the plasticity of sculpture to the colour of painting and to the magic suggestiveness of music which is the art of arts And it is only through complete unswerving devotion to the perfect blending of form and substance it is only through an unremitting never discouraged care for the shape and ring of sentences that an approach can be made to plasticity to colour and that the light of magic suggestiveness may be brought to play for an evanescent instant over the commonplace surface of words of the old old words worn thin defaced by ages of careless usage
