Road Kills Driving For Their Lives:

Road Kill Craig Hodge, 2011 It has been the best part of 12 years since I investigated a fatal accident and dealt with grieving relatives It has taken me 12 years to have the strength to write about it to put pen to paper and record what has caused me so much grief and anguish So writes Craig Hodge one of Victoria Police s leading investigators of fatal road accidents A police officer for 20 years eight of which he spent with the Accident Investigation Section now the Major Collision Investigation Unit Hodge attended the horrific scenes of more than 350 accidents that resulted in deaths and serious injuries In ROAD KILL Hodge recounts harrowing investigations and details the processes involved in finding out the causes of such tragedies which often led to prosecutions His story is a cautionary tale in which responsible driving messages loom large ROAD KILL also provides a poignant account of the emotional and psychological impact such carnage has on all involved not least of all on investigators like Hodge who struggled at times to find a balance between being sensitive to victims and their families while also trying to remain emotionally detached for his own sanity and wellbeing

Pontius, Michael P. Mueller, David Greenwood, 2020-06-08 This edited volume explores 21st century stories of hunting foraging and fishing for food as unique forms of place based learning Through the authors narratives it reveals complex social and ecological relationships while readers sample the flavors of foraging in Portland Oregon feel some of what it s like to grow up hunting and gathering as a person of Oglala Lakota and Shoshone Bannock descent track the immersive process of learning to communicate with rocky mountain elk encounter a road killed deer as a spontaneous source of local meat and more Other topics in the collection connect place food and learning to issues of identity activism spirituality food movements conservation traditional and elder knowledge and the ethics related to eating the more than human world This volume will bring lively discussion to courses on place based learning food studies environmental education outdoor recreation experiential education holistic learning human dimensions of natural resource management sustainability food systems environmental ethics and others Reflections on Roadkill between Mobility Studies and Animal Studies Matthew Calarco, 2023-04-27 Roadkill is a recurrent but often unthought feature of modern life Yet consideration of the broader significance of the myriad social ethical and political issues related to roadkill has largely gone missing from mainstream scholarship and activism This neglect persists even in fields such as mobility studies and animal studies that would otherwise seem to have a vested interest in the topic This book aims to bring roadkill to the foreground of current discussions among scholars and activists in these fields in order to demonstrate that roadkill is a uniquely important site from which to understand and contest the machinations of the dominant social order It argues that a careful examination of roadkill can help both to uncover the hidden violence of contemporary human centered systems of mobility and to develop alternative modes of mobility for a renewed social life in common with our more than human kin

Lyles, 2024-04-08 For 10 000 years before any European immigrants arrived on the North American Continent Native American Indians engaged in a communal lifestyle From 1600 to 1791 American Colonists established a thriving home production economy and having ownership of their tools or means of production they produced everything they needed to survive They were self reliant and the American Colonists sold their excess goods to merchants who resold them for a profit By 1791 the merchants were able to start the first textile factories as a result which brought an abrupt end to the home production economy and the beginning of American Capitalism Former independent colonists were now forced into the textile factory and the first wage contract appeared in America The wage contract also set in motion a contradiction between the capitalist owners of the means of production and the new American Working Class The wage contract allowed the owners of working class labor and the instruments of production to evolve into an American Ruling Class and the producers of all commodities and wealth became the American Working Class People wage workers class Because of their divergent interests the two classes formed a class contradiction and the latter became known as the capitalist American Ruling Class Opposite and the American Working Class Opposite People wage workers This development occurred mainly in the northern factory economy while in the South uncompensated African Slave Labor was dominant which was owned by an American Slaveholding Class By 1860 the contradiction between the capitalist American Ruling Class Opposite owner of the wage labor system came into a head on contradiction with uncompensated African Slave Labor and a bloody Civil War was fought to determine which type of means of production would prevail and dominate during the 20th Century The South was defeated and the wage contract system became nationalized Therefore throughout the twentieth Century including the beginning of the new Millennium the capitalist American Ruling Class Opposite expropriated the labor s product of the American Working Class Opposite People wage workers which resulted in this class accumulation of multiple billions of dollars of Surplus Value and simultaneously this loss translated into the American Working Class Opposite People wage workers increasing alienation estrangement loss self identity self expression and freedom
