Parliament. House of Commons. Select Committee on Science and Technology,2009 This report HCP 44 session 2009 10 ISBN 9780215542663 from the Science and Technology Committee looks at literacy programmes evidence check and concludes that expectations by the Department for Children Schools and Families of the quality of the evidence base for reading programmes are worryingly low It urges the Government to commission randomised controlled trials RCTs The Committee also states it is particularly concerned about the quality of evidence demonstrating cost effectiveness of different programmes and further recommends that the Government reviews its guidelines on RCT design it says even Wikipedia is more thorough and informative The Committee also concludes that the Government s focus on early literacy interventions and phonics based teaching is based on the best available evidence the use of Reading Recovery is based on a lower quality of evidence than the Committee is comfortable with and that the decision to introduce Reading Recovery nationally is not evidence based The Committee further expressed alarm that there was a complete lack of randomised controlled trials using standardised test scores for the Reading Recovery programme in the UK school system before national implementation of the programme

Teachers' Career Trajectories and Work Lives Martin Bayer,Ulf Brinkkjaer,Helle Plauborg,Simon Rolls,2009-06-25

The working and career lives of teachers have changed radically over the last two decades Reforms have turned education into a commodity and pupils into consumers Yet not since 1992 has there been a comprehensive overview of research findings on teachers working lives This anthology plugs the gap by collecting various scholarly contributions and perspectives on teachers career trajectories and work lives The material includes an introduction to previous research within the field presents a range of contemporary research and offers suggestions as to what lies ahead Among the contributors are leading educational academics who describe a variety of national contexts illustrating how problems and challenges relating to the teaching profession manifest themselves and are tackled in different countries The anthology also shows just how many aspects of teachers career trajectories and work lives transcend national boundaries Common international themes include stronger ties between education and the economy and a growing importance placed on how students skills relate to the perceived needs of the labour market There is also a greater degree of political interference in curriculum goals and processes and an expanding obsession with evaluation In many countries a whole generation of teachers are reaching retirement age changing the guard with a crop of new young recruits who are ever harder to attract At a time when there is an increasing focus on issues such as teacher recruitment retention and professional development this anthology offers insight and inspiration to teacher educators and educational policy makers as well as to current and prospective teachers It also aims at encouraging research into the field of teachers working lives
