Eco-Nihilism Wendy Lynne Lee,2017-02-22 If we were to ask what is the root cause of our current and unprecedented environmental crisis climate change many particularly on the progressive Left would refer to the excesses of capitalism and they d be right In Eco Nihilism The Philosophical Geopolitics of the Climate Change Apocalypse Wendy Lynne Lee demonstrates that there are no versions of conquest capital compatible with the fact of a finite planet and that a logic whose operating premise is growth is destined to not only exhaust our planetary resources but also generate profound social injustice and geopolitical violence in its pursuit Nonetheless it is clear that the violence and injustice of capital is selective some benefit greatly while others are subjugated to its pathological drive to profit Hence Lee argues that any comprehensive analysis of what Jason Moore has dubbed the Capitalocene must include an equally probing account of human chauvinism that is the axes along which capital is supplied with resources and labor Defined in terms of race sex gender and species these axes come ready made to the advantage of capitalist commodification Without an understanding of how and why humanity will remain doomed to settling for a sustainably unjust world as opposed to realizing a just and desirable one Indeed on our current trajectory we may not even achieve the sustainable The introduction of climate change into the mix of environmental deterioration the ever widening economic gap between global North and global South and the accelerating violence of terrorism civil war and human slavery make of a warming planet a combustible world The only way out requires ending the myth of endless resources a rejection of climate change denial and a radical re valuation of human centeredness not as a locus of power but as an opportunity to take moral and epistemic responsibility for a world whose biotic diversity and ecological integrity make the struggle to realize it worthwhile This solution demands not only an end to capitalism but the deliberate reclamation of value aesthetic moral and civic and a radical transformation of both personal and collective conscience Lee appeals to the experiential aesthetics of John Dewey and the feminist concept of the standpoint of the subjugated She argues for a version of the precautionary principle informed by an environmentally and socially responsible concept of the desirable future as the clearest path away from the precipice her former students graduated high school She was shocked at how few were heading to college and none were going to elite four year schools These students were representative of a larger national phenomenon In 2021 31 percent of rural adults aged twenty five and older held a postsecondary degree compared to 45 percent of urban adults and rural students are especially unlikely to pursue degrees from private selective schools Why Tieken wondered And what happens to the handful of rural students who do attend elite colleges colleges that may feel worlds away from home Tieken addresses these questions in Educated Out a study that shows how geography shapes rural first generation students access to college their college experiences and their postgraduation plans and opportunities Tieken closely follows a group of nine students for their college years and beyond at an elite New England private school that she calls Hilltop Interviews with these students reveal the critical moments in the students educational careers when their rural origins mattered most when applying to college she shows how students are hindered by limited college counseling resources Once on campus they learn that many of the school's opportunities are not available to them they cannot access spring break trips job networks or low pay but important internships These students discover that home and college are very different worlds with different academic social and political climates and over time they start to question both As they near graduation and navigate a job market in which the highest paying and most prestigious opportunities are located in urban centers they begin to feel the complicated burden of their schooling they've been educated out Their stories show the costs of college for rural students If they do not pursue higher education they lose the opportunity for social mobility if they do they face a more permanent departure These costs are individual but rural families and communities also suffer they lose young people with talent and skills In addition to advocating for a higher education landscape that truly includes rural students Tieken critiques a system that requires people to leave their rural homes in search of opportunities Our current economy depends on inexpensive rural labor Without meaningful change some students will have to make the impossible decision to leave home and far more will remain there undereducated and overlooked Both engaging and accessible Educated Out presents important and timely questions about rurality identity education and inequality
