Learning to Live Together David A. Hamburg M.D., Beatrix A. Hamburg M.D., 2004-04-08 With a view to deepening our understanding of sources of hatred and prejudice this book uses a developmental and evolutionary perspective to explore and explain the process by which our beliefs are conveyed to the youngest members of society Discussing the psychological obstacles to peaceful relations between groups the authors focus on the developmental processes by which we can work to diminish ethnocentrism prejudice and hatred which children learn from a very early age Until now scholarship and practice in international relations have gravely neglected crucial psychological aspects of these terrible problems and have not yet explored the educational opportunities related to them Addressing these promising lines of inquiry and innovation this book fosters a more humane and less violent development in childhood and adolescence Educators religious leaders developmental and social psychologists will find this a valuable resource as will a socially concerned segment of the public who are looking for practical ways to work for peace Applied Mechanics Reviews ,1995 Interest Group Politics in America Ronald J. Hrebener, Ruth K. Scott, 2015-02-12 Interest group lobbying is a controversial activity in American politics and this book provides a study of group power This edition includes expanded coverage of the changing dynamics of power politics in America new media venues and grassroots organizing and the perennial issue of reform Conservative Conservationist J. Brooks Flippen, 2006-09-01 In the history of American environmentalism Russell E Train plays a starring role Few individuals have been so influential in creating the United States environmental policies and encouraging conservation efforts around the world In this absorbing new biography J Brooks Flippen describes Train s significance within the fascinating history of the contemporary environmental movement A lifelong Republican Train left a successful judicial career to found the African Wildlife Leadership Foundation As the problems of pollution and unrestrained growth became apparent he adopted a more ecological approach to nature and became a leader of the emerging environmental movement of the 1960s He soon headed the Conservation Foundation one of the first organizations to appreciate that humans represent only one strand in the web of life President Richard Nixon appointed Train as the initial chairman of the Council on Environmental Quality just as the country celebrated its first Earth Day There he helped craft the most important environmental legislation in U S history After three years he became administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency enforcing regulations during the Energy Crisis and much of the troubled 1970s With the election of Democrat Jimmy Carter Train returned to the private sector as head of the American affiliate of the World Wildlife Fund He found himself increasingly at odds with many Republicans as a new more ideological brand of conservatism grew and bipartisanship faded Train s Republican credentials and environmental advocacy made him a vestige of the past and in a sense a hope for the future Given complete access to the personal papers and recollections of Russell Train Flippen casts an unbiased eye on this remarkable man and the causes he has so fervently promoted Of a prominent Washington family Train has known every president from Herbert Hoover to George W Bush His life and career illustrate the political dynamics of modern environmentalism and illuminate the insider culture of Washington D C
