Vermeulen, 2012-12-06 In February 1979 I wrote to the Alfred P Sloan Foundation

seeking support for the Aspen Institute for Humanistic Studies to embark on a policy oriented program in vocational education. The reason for the request which was generously granted by the foundation was stated as follows: The federal program on vocational education dates from World War I. Important changes were made in later legislation in 1963 and 1976 affecting the programs conducted by the Department of Health Education and Welfare. The recently enacted Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) of the Department of Labor has brought large federal support to efforts to reduce unemployment especially for youth by providing preparatory training. It may be an understatement to report that the programs of these two government departments have lacked adequate coordination in Washington or in the field. Certainly there is a long way to go in improving both policy and program and an opportunity presents itself in preparing the policies to be proposed to the Congress when the vocational education program next comes up for reconsideration in 1980 and 1981. Responsibility for preparing the administration's position and recommendations lies with the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation of HEW.

The Handbook of Policy Practice, Ira C. Colby, 2018. The Handbook for Policy Practice is a hands-on practice textbook that explores ways to influence social policy in an agency setting or through formal governmental processes. The text offers a common sense approach to issue analysis with added attention to the concept of social justice and necessary critical thinking skills.

National Service, Citizenship, and Political Education Eric B. Gorham, 1992-01-01. This book analyzes the issues surrounding civilian national service policy from a fresh and original perspective. The author connects national service programs to the political theories of civic republicanism and communitarianism, assesses the practical consequences of these theories, and examines past youth service programs such as the CCC and Peace Corps to see if they are appropriate models or ideals for a national program. Gorham engages the issue of compulsory versus voluntary service and questions whether service tasks can instill a sense of citizenship in young people as defenders of the program claim. Using the work of Michel Foucault, Charles Taylor, Carole Pateman, and others, he suggests that national service as presently planned will not create the citizen so much as a post industrial and gendered subject In the concluding chapters he presents an argument for a democratic national service and offers an alternative program for policymakers to consider Government by the People
