The Age Of Empathy Natures Lessons For A Kinder Society:

The Age of Empathy Frans de Waal, 2011-01-01 Kindness and co operation have played a crucial role in raising humans to the top of the evolutionary tree We have thrived on the milk of human kindness Observer BY THE AUTHOR OF ARE WE SMART ENOUGH TO KNOW HOW SMART ANIMALS ARE There is a widely held assumption that humans are hard wired for relentless and ruthless competition Frans de Waal sees nature differently as a biological legacy in which empathy not mere self interest is shared by humans bonobos and animals Ben Macintyre The Times Empathy holds us together That we are hardwired to be altruistic is the result of thousands of years of evolutionary biology which has kept society from slipping into anarchy But we are not alone primates elephants even rodents are empathetic creatures too Social behaviours such as the herding instinct bonding rituals expressions of consolation and even conflict resolution demonstrate that animals are designed to feel for each other From chimpanzees caring for mates that have been wounded by leopards elephants reassuring youngsters in distress and dolphins preventing sick companions from drowning with a wealth of anecdotes scientific observations wry humour and incisive intelligence The Age of Empathy is essential reading for all who believe in the power of our connections to each other The Age of Empathy Dr Frans de Waal, 2014-05-09 Primatologist Frans de Waal examines how empathy comes naturally to a great variety of animals including humans The Age of Empathy Frans De Waal, Frans B. M. Waal, 2010 From chimpanzees caring for mates that have been wounded by leopards elephants reassuring youngsters in distress to dolphins preventing sick companions from drowning The Age of Empathy demonstrates that animals are guided by cooperation The Age of Empathy Frans de Waal, 2010-09-21 An engrossing lucid exploration of the origins of human morality that challenges our most basic assumptions from the world's leading primatologist Is it really human nature to stab one another in the back in our climb up the corporate ladder Competitive selfish behaviour is often explained away as instinctive thanks to evolution and survival of the fittest but in fact humans are equally hard wired for empathy Using research from the fields of anthropology psychology animal behaviour and neuroscience de Waal brilliantly argues that humans are group animals highly cooperative sensitive to injustice and mostly peace loving just like other primates elephants and dolphins This revelation has profound implications for everything from politics to office culture

Handbook of Neurosociology David D. Franks, Jonathan H. Turner, 2012-07-09 Until recently a handbook on neurosociology would have been viewed with skepticism by sociologists who have long been protective of their disciplinary domain against perceived encroachment by biology But a number of developments in the last decade or so have made sociologists more receptive to biological factors in sociology and social psychology Much of this has been encouraged by the coeditors of this volume David Franks and Jonathan Turner This new interest has been increased by the explosion of research in neuroscience on brain functioning and brain environment interaction via new MRI technologies with implications for social and psychological functioning This handbook emphasizes the integration of perspectives within sociology as well as between fields in social neuroscience For example Franks represents a social constructionist position following from G H Mead's voluntaristic theory of the act while Turner is more social structural and positivistic Furthermore this handbook not only contains contributions from sociologists but leading figures from the psychological perspective of social neuroscience The Nonviolent God J. Denny Weaver, 2013-11-26 This bold new statement on the nonviolence of God challenges long standing assumptions of divine violence in theology the violent God pictured in the Old Testament and the supposed violence of God in Revelation In The Nonviolent God J Denny Weaver argues that since God is revealed in Jesus the nonviolence of Jesus most truly reflects the character of God According to Weaver the way Christians live Christian ethics is an ongoing expression of theology Consequently he suggests positive images of the reign of God made visible in the narrative of Jesus nonviolent practice forgiveness and restorative justice issues of racism and sexism and more in order that Christians might live more peacefully The Nature of Early Memory Mark L. Howe, 2011-05-26 A valuable resource for anyone interested in the development of memory This text discusses the development of long term memory including autobiographical memory and argues that memory is an adaptive mechanism for the development and survival of humans and non human animals

Purposeful Empathy Anita Nowak, 2023-04-11 Empathy has never been more important yet we're living in an era of a massive empathy deficit At the same time workplace culture has changed dramatically Leaders who have already been stretched to the limit are now being called on to create and nurture genuine connection psychological safety and well being across their organizations all while adapting to the values of a new generation that won't compromise on diversity equity and inclusion As this book shows human beings are wired to care and we can become more empathic with practice Empathy increases dopamine reduces stress boosts self esteem heightens the immune system and enriches our relationships Empathy also improves business key performance indicators This means that leveraging empathy on purpose can lead to better health happier and more productive workplaces and a more meaningful life That's why empathy is our superpower Through inspiring stories interviews with experts including business leaders neuroscientists activists social entrepreneurs and spiritual leaders a new model rooted in positive psychology and coaching and self development exercises at the end of each chapter Purposeful Empathy offers wisdom and practical advice to foster personal organizational and social transformation

Empathy Imperiled Gary Olson, 2012-12-12 The most critical factor explaining the disjuncture between empathy's revolutionary potential and today's empathically impaired society is the interaction between the brain and our dominant political culture The evolutionary process has given rise to a hard wired neural system in the primal brain and particularly in the human brain This book argues that the crucial missing piece in this conversation is the failure to identify and explain the dynamic relationship between an empathy gap and the hegemonic influence of neoliberal capitalism through the analysis of the college classroom the neoliberal state media film and photo images marketing of products militarization mass culture and government policy This book will contribute to an empirically grounded dissent from capitalism's narrative about human nature Empathy is putting oneself in another's emotional and cognitive shoes and then acting in a deliberate appropriate manner Perhaps counter intuitively it requires self empathy because we're all products of an empathy anesthetizing culture The approach in this book affirms a scientific basis for acting with empathy and it addresses how this can help inform us to our current political culture and process and make it of interest to students and scholars in political science psychology and other social sciences

Kindness Wars Noel A. Cazenave, 2023-09-15 Kindness Wars rescues our understanding of kindness from the clutches of an intellectually and morally myopic popular psychology and returns it to the stage of big ideas in keeping with the important Enlightenment era debates about human nature and possibilities Cazenave conceptualizes kindness not just as a benevolent feeling a caring thought or a generous action but as a worldview a theory or an ideology that explains who we are and justifies how we treat others Here kindness wars refer to the millennia old kindness theory and ideological conflicts over what kind of societies humans can and should have The book's title denotes the two types of kindness wars it analyzes conflict over 1 whether to be kind or not i.e. the conflicts between kindness and other societal values and ideologies and 2 what it means to be kind i.e. the wars within kindness over different ideas as to what it means to be kind and to whom Using a conflict theoretical perspective Kindness Wars examines the history of the kindness concept its many struggles with opposing notions of our true nature and possibilities and what the lessons of that history and those battles offer us toward the development of a large robust and politically engaged conceptualization of kindness

The Early Evolutionary Imagination Emelie Jonsson, 2021-09-29 Darwinian evolution is an imaginative problem that has been passed down to us unsolved It is our most powerful explanation of humanity's place in nature but it is also more cognitively demanding and less emotionally satisfying than any myth From the publication of the Origin of Species in 1859 evolution has pushed our capacity for storytelling into overdrive sparking fairy tales adventure stories political allegories utopias dystopias social realist novels and existential meditations Though this influence on literature has been widely studied it has not been explained psychologically This book argues for the adaptive function of storytelling integrates traditional humanist scholarship with current knowledge about the evolved and adapted human mind and calls for literary scholars to reframe their interpretation of the first authors who responded to Darwin

Handbook of Moral Development Melanie Killen, 2013-10-08 The Handbook of Moral Development is the definitive source of theory and research on the development of morality Since the publication of the first edition ground breaking approaches to studying the development of morality have reinvigorated debates about what it means to conceptualize and measure morality in early childhood how children understand fairness and equality what the evolutionary basis is for morality and the role of culture The contributors of this new edition grapple with these questions and provide answers for how morality originates changes evolves and develops during childhood adolescence and into adulthood Thoroughly updated and expanded the second edition features new chapters that focus on infancy neuroscience theory of mind moral personality and identity cooperation and culture gender sexuality prejudice and discrimination Reflecting the interdisciplinary nature of the study of moral development this edition contains contributions from over 50 scholars in developmental science cognitive psychology social neuroscience comparative psychology and evolution and education

Essays on Neuroscience and Political Theory F. Vander Valk, 2013-03-01 The past 20 years have seen increasingly bold claims emanating from the field of neuroscience Advances in medical imaging brain modelling and interdisciplinary cognitive science have forced us to reconsider the nature of social cultural and political activities This collection of essays is the first to explore the relationship between neuroscience and political theory with a view to examining what connections can be made and which claims represent a bridge too far The book is divided into three parts Part I places neuroscience as a social and political practice into historical context Part II weaves together the insights from contemporary neuroscience with the wisdom of major figures in the history of political thought Part III considers how neuroscience can inform contemporary debates about a range of issues in political theory This work brings together scholars who are sceptical about the possibility of integrating neuroscience and political theory with proponents of a neuroscience informed approach to thinking about political and social life The result is a timely and wide ranging collection of essays about the role that our brain might play in the life of the body politic It should be essential reading for all those with an interest in the cutting edge of political theory

Nature Conservation in Southern Africa , 2018-11-26 Nature conservation in southern Africa has always been characterised by an interplay between Capital specific understandings of Morality and forms of Militarism that are all dependent upon the shared subservience and marginalization of animals and certain groups of people in society Although the subjectivity of people has been rendered visible in earlier publications on histories of conservation in southern Africa the subjectivity of animals is hardly ever seriously considered or explicitly dealt with In this edited volume the subjectivity and sentience of animals is explicitly included The contributors argue that the shared human and animal marginalisation and agency in nature conservation in southern Africa and beyond could and should be further explored under the label of sentient conservation Contributors are Malcolm Draper Vupenyu Dzingirai Jan Bart Gewald Michael Glover Paul Hebinck Tariro Kamuti Lindiwe Mangwanya Albert Manhamo Dhoya Snijders Marja Spierenburg Sandra Swart Harry Wels

The Fair Society Peter Corning, 2011-03-01 We've been told again and again that life is unfair But what if we're wrong simply to resign ourselves to this situation What if we have the power and more the duty to change society for the better We do And our very nature inclines us to do so That's the provocative argument Peter Corning makes in The Fair Society Drawing on the evidence from our evolutionary history and the emergent science of human nature Corning shows that we have an innate sense of fairness While these impulses can easily be subverted by greed and demagoguery they can also be harnessed for good Corning brings together the latest findings from the behavioral and biological sciences to help us understand how to move beyond the Madoffs and Enrons in our midst in order to lay the foundation for a new social contract a Biosocial Contract built on a deep understanding of human nature and a commitment to fairness He then proposes a sweeping set of economic and political reforms based on three principles of fairness equality equity and reciprocity that together could transform our society and our world At this crisis point for capitalism Corning reveals that the proper response to bank bailouts and financial chicanery isn't to get mad it's to get fair The Oxford Handbook of Positive Psychology C. R. Snyder, Shane J. Lopez, Lisa M. Edwards, Susana C. Morton, 2012-08-08 Breakdowns in civil societies can be catalyzed by factors ranging from war and genocide to natural disaster disease and economic downturns Restoring Civil Societies examines social processes related to civic engagement in the wake of these societal ruptures The authors show how crises in civil society can be both pervasive and localized broad based and limited to defined social sub groups Whatever their scale Restoring Civil Societies identifies models that analyze the social psychology of crises in order to devise ways of re activating civic engagement and safeguarding civil society Focusing on these positive interventions the authors identify a number of key strategies ranging from the simplicity and directness of bystander interventions to the volunteer armies mobilized in the wake of natural disasters They include collective action organized to redress systemic inequalities and the vital healing role played by truth commissions in Rwanda and elsewhere Restoring Civil Societies fills the gap between basic research on social issues and translation into social policies and programs an area which in light of current economic and social unrest is more important now than ever

Affective Ecocriticism Kyle A. Bladow, Jennifer K. Ladino, 2018-11 Scholars of ecocriticism have long tried to articulate emotional relationships to environments Only recently however have they begun to draw on the complex interdisciplinary body of research known as affect theory Affective Ecocriticism takes as its premise that ecocritical scholarship has much to gain from the rich work on affect and emotion happening within social and cultural theory geography psychology philosophy queer theory feminist theory narratology and neuroscience among others This vibrant and important volume imagines a more affective and consequently more effective ecocriticism as well as a more environmentally attuned affect studies These interdisciplinary essays model a range of approaches to emotion and affect in considering a variety of primary texts including short story collections films poetry curricular programs and contentious geopolitical locales such as Canada's Tar Sands Several chapters deal skeptically with familiar environmentalist affects like love hope resilience and optimism others consider what are often understood as negative emotions such as anxiety disappointment and homesickness all with an eye toward reinvigorating or reconsidering their utility for the environmental humanities and environmentalism Affective Ecocriticism offers an accessible approach to this theoretical intersection that will speak to readers across multiple disciplinary and geographic locations The Politics of Species Raymond Corbey, Annette Lanjouw, 2013-09-05 Experts from a range of disciplines identify the key barriers to a definition of moral respect that includes nonhuman animals Handbook of the Sociology of Emotions: Volume II Jan E.
