The Apartment A Novel:

The Apartment Greg Baxter, 2012 One snowy morning in an old European capital a man wakes in a hotel room A young local woman he has befriended calls to the hotel and the two of them head out into the snow to find the man an apartment to rent

The Apartment Danielle Steel, 2016-05-05 They come together by chance in the heart of New York City four young women at turning points in their lives Claire finds the spacious loft apartment But the aspiring shoe designer needs at least one roommate to manage the rent She meets Abby a writer trying to make it on her own far from her successful family in L A Then Morgan joins them She s ambitious with a serious finance job on Wall Street Finally Sasha a medical student And so the sprawling space with its exposed brick and rich natural light becomes a home to friends about to embark on new exhilarating adventures Their shared life in the apartment turns them into a family of beloved friends But as unexpected opportunities and challenges alter the course of each of their lives they face the bittersweet reality that in time they will inevitably move away from the place where their dreams began Danielle Steel is famous for her inspirational stories about family love and life Her novels will be enjoyed by readers of Penny Vincenzi Jodi Picoult and Diane Chamberlain

The Apartment Greg Baxter, 2013-12-03 A powerful and elegant debut novel about love memory exile and war One snowy December morning in an old European city an American man leaves his shabby hotel to meet a local woman who has agreed to help him search for an apartment to rent The Apartment follows the couple across a blurry illogical and frozen city into a past the man is hoping to forget and leaves them at the doorstep of an uncertain future their cityscape punctuated by the man s lingering memories of time spent in Iraq and the life he abandoned in the United States Contained within the details of this day is a complex meditation on America s relationship with the rest of the world an unflinching glimpse at the permanence of guilt and despair and an exploration into our desire to cure violence with violence A novel about how our relationships to others and most importantly to ourselves alters how we see the world The Apartment perfectly captures the peculiarity and excitement of being a stranger in a strange city Written in an affecting and intimate tone that gradually expands in scope intensity poetry and drama Greg Baxter s clear eyed first novel tells the intriguing story of these two people on this single day Both beguiling and raw in its observations and language The Apartment is a crisp novel with enormous range that offers profound and unexpected wisdom

The Apartment Danielle Steel, 2016-05-03 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER This vibrant tender and moving tale pulses with the excitement of New York City as Danielle Steel explores twists of fate and the way that sometimes in special places friends can be the family we need most They come together by chance in the heart of New York City four young women at turning points in their lives Claire Kelly finds the walk up apartment a spacious loft in Hell s Kitchen But the aspiring shoe designer needs at least one roommate to manage it She meets Abby Williams a writer trying to make it on her own far away from her successful family in L A Four years later Morgan Shelby joins them She s ambitious with a serious finance job on Wall Street Then Sasha Hartman a medical student whose identical twin sister is a headline grabbing supermodel And so the sprawling space with its exposed brick and rich natural light becomes a home to friends about to embark on new exhilarating adventures Frustrated by her ultra conservative boss Claire soon faces a career crisis as a designer Abby is under the spell of an older man an off off Broadway producer who exploits her and detours her from her true talent as a novelist while destroying her self confidence Morgan is happily in love with a successful restaurateur who supplies her roommates with fine food At her office she begins to suspect something is off about her boss a legendary investment manager whom she s always admired But does she even know him And Sasha begins an all work no play residency as an OB GYN as her glamorous jet set sister makes increasingly risky decisions Their shared life in the apartment grounds them as they bring one another comfort and become a family of beloved friends Unexpected opportunities alter the course of each of their lives and as they meet the challenges they face the bittersweet reality that in time they will inevitably move away from the place where their dreams began

Apartment Stories Sharon Marcus,2023-11-15 In urban studies the nineteenth century is the age of great cities In feminist studies it is the era of the separate domestic sphere But what of the city s homes In the course of answering this question Apartment Stories provides a singular and radically new framework for understanding the urban and the domestic Turning to an element of the cityscape that is thoroughly familiar yet frequently overlooked Sharon Marcus argues that the apartment house embodied the intersections of city and home public and private and masculine and feminine spheres Moving deftly from novels to architectural treatises legal debates and popular urban observation Marcus compares the representation of the apartment house in Paris and London Along the way she excavates the urban ghost tales that encoded Londoners ambivalence about city dwellings contends that Haussmannization enclosed Paris in a new regime of privacy and locates a female counterpart to the fl neur and the omniscient realist narrator the porti re who supervised the apartment building In urban studies the nineteenth century is the age of great cities In feminist studies it is the era of the separate domestic sphere But what of the city s homes In the course of answering this question Apartment Stories provides a singular

(Re)Visions of History in Language and Fiction Dorota Gutfeld,Monika Linke,Agnieszka Sowińska,2013-02-21 In imagining history one must inevitably rely on its textual representations whether fictitious or supposedly objective yet always subject to the constraints and conventions of textuality Still it is precisely by exploiting and consciously relying on the textual in the presentation of the past that contemporary authors including politicians and makers of history strive to provide it with current significance emotional impact and universal meaning The study of such attempts benefits from a variety of perspectives encompassing not only classical but also popular texts and media An interdisciplinary collection of papers devoted to the issues of retelling rewriting and representation of the past in fiction and various text types this volume juxtaposes modern and post modern understanding of collective versus personal history The contributors are scholars specializing in literary studies e g postcolonialism and popular fiction linguistics e g critical discourse analysis and cultural studies e g media studies bringing a wide spectrum of theoretical insights into the field The collection opens with papers on the general changes in viewing history that have occurred since the 19th century Further papers discuss postcolonial feminist and gender related perspectives on history reflected in postmodern fiction revealing the power struggle around the depiction of the past The next part of the volume is devoted to the presentation of historical breakthroughs in political and media discourse Finally the collection draws attention to some unorthodox visions of history involving alternative worlds and fantastic elements encountered in the genre of speculative fiction At Home with the Holocaust Lucas F. W. Wilson, 2025-03-11 At Home with the Holocaust examines the relationship between intergenerational trauma and domestic space focusing on how Holocaust survivors' homes became extensions of their traumatized psyches that their children inhabited. Analyzing second and third generation Holocaust literature such as Art Spiegelman's Maus, Jonathan Safran Foer's Everything Is Illuminated, Sonia Pilcer's The Holocaust Kid and Elizabeth Rosner's The Speed of Light as well as oral histories of children of survivors, Lucas F. W. Wilson's study reveals how the material conditions of survivor family homes along with household practices and belongings rendered these homes as spaces of traumatic transference. As survivors' traumas became imbued in the very space of the domestic, their homes functioned as material archives of their Holocaust pasts, creating environments that not uncommonly second-handedly wounded their children. As survivor family homes were imaginatively transformed by survivors' children into the sites of their parents' traumas like concentration camps and ghettos, their homes catalyzed the transmission of these traumas.

The Female Intruder in the Novels of Edith Wharton Carol Wershoven, 1982 This study reflects recent feminist interest in Wharton as a critic of American materialism and as a woman who personally escaped from the confines of the conventional prosperous Eastern urban society of her time. Building upon the work of R. W. B. Lewis and C. G. Wolff, the author gives close readings of Wharton's best known novels and traces her interpretation of changing social mores from the 1870s through the 1920s. Concludes that Wharton was not a fossilized old New Yorker but an independent, fearless seeker of the intelligent creative life. ISBN 0 8386 3126 6 24 50 The Waverley Novels Sir Walter Scott, 1846 The Waverly Novels Sir Walter Scott, 1846 Contemporary Spanish American Novels by Women Susan Carvalho, 2007 A reading of contemporary women's fiction in Spanish America in which space rather than time is seen as the driver of the narrative. Space is critical to imaginative writing. As English novelist Elizabeth Bowen has observed, nothing can happen nowhere. This book offers an interdisciplinary framework for reading novels and, in particular, women's fiction in Spanish America with a focus on geoplots on space rather than time as the narrative engine. Following the work of Lefebvre and Friedman, the author examines recent works by Spanish America's most visible women novelists: Angeles Mastretta (Mexico), Isabel Allende (Chile), Rosario Ferré (Puerto Rico), Sara Seefchovich (Mexico), and Laura Restrepo (Colombia), and the ways in which their female protagonists challenge the spatial barriers erected by capitalist hegemony. Margins, borders, liminal spaces, the chora space, and the body are emphasized as potential sites of transgression. The analysis identifies spatial negotiation as a mechanism both for cementing and for undermining authority, thus exposing the strategies through which literature constructs and represents power. SUSAN CARVALHO is Associate Professor of Hispanic Studies at the University of Kentucky and Director of the Middlebury College Spanish School.

Men in African Film & Fiction Lahoucine Ouzgane, 2011 Fills a gap in the international literature by offering new insights into the heterogeneous ways in which African men are performing, negotiating, and experiencing masculinity. Through their analysis of the depictions in film and literature of masculinities in colonial independent and post independent Africa the contributors open some key African texts to a more obviously politicized set of meanings Collectively the essays provide space for rethinking current theory on gender and masculinity how only some of the most popular theories in masculinity studies in the West hold true in African contexts how Western masculinities react with indigenous masculinities on the continent how masculinity and femininity in Africa seem to reside more on a continuum of cultural practices than on absolutely opposite planes and how generation often functions as a more potent metaphor than gender Lahoucine Ouzgane is Associate Professor of English Film Studies University of Alberta Canada

Mastering the Marketplace Anne O'Neil-Henry, 2017 Mastering the Marketplace examines the origins of modern mass media culture through developments in the new literary marketplace of nineteenth century France and how literature itself reveals the broader social and material conditions in which it is produced Anne O Neil Henry examines how French authors of the nineteenth century navigated the growing publishing and marketing industry as well as the dramatic rise in literacy rates libraries reading rooms literary journals political newspapers and the advent of the serial novel O Neil Henry places the work of canonical author Honor de Balzac alongside then popular writers such as Paul de Kock and Eug ne Sue acknowledging the importance of low authors in the wider literary tradition By reading literary texts alongside associated advertisements book reviews publication histories sales tactics and promotional tools O Neil Henry presents a nuanced picture of the relationship between high and low literature one in which critics and authors alike grappled with the common problem of commercial versus cultural capital Through new literary readings and original archival research from holdings in the United States and France O Neil Henry revises existing understandings of a crucial moment in the development of industrialized culture In the process she discloses links between this formative period and our own in which mobile electronic devices internet based bookstores and massive publishing conglomerates alter once again the way literature is written sold and read
