

Bungee Jumping (15.0%)

Suppose that the function

$$h(t) = 5t^3 - 25t^2 + 20t + 100$$

can be used to model the bungee jumper's height above the ground at time  $t$  in seconds.

Complete this table to answer the height of the jumper at a bungee jumper at given values of time  $t$  (in seconds).

$t$ (sec)	$h(t)$
0	100
1	105
2	100
3	105
4	100
5	105
6	100
7	105

Questions

1) Describe a graph representing this data function.

Answer: Domain is 0 to 7 seconds and the height is 100 to 105 feet. There is a local minimum at  $t = 2$  and  $t = 4$ .

2) How tall was the jumper when she first started jumping? How do you know? (with units) There are three correct answers: 100 ft.

3) The bungee jumper went up a little more than an earlier one attached to her (she may have missed the platform) when jumped. What does this point of the jump mean?  $h(1) = 105$  seconds, the jumper was 105 ft. in the air. This represents jumping 105 ft. in 1 sec. It is a local max where the jumper is.

4) What is the lowest that the bungee jumper comes to the ground? After how many seconds does the jumper hit the ground again?  $h(5) = 100$  seconds, the jumper was 100 ft. in the air when she jumped.

5) About how many feet the bungee jumper falling down at jumping back up? (Height, jumping back up  $h(2) = 100$  ft. height and not jumped when the jumper is jumping to 100).

6) Since the jumper through the point  $(4, 100)$ , it is correct to say: "At 4 or 4 seconds, the jumper is falling." However, this is misleading. At  $t = 4$  sec, the jumper is falling. Why?

There is a local min at  $t = 4$  and  $h(4) = 100$ , so when the height of the jumper is 100 feet, the jumper is not falling. The height is increasing, so the jumper is not falling at 4 seconds.

7) Evaluate the function at  $t = 7$ . Does this value make sense in the context of the problem? Explain your reasoning.

$h(7) = 105$  ft. This doesn't make sense because the jumper is jumping back up. The jumper is not falling when the height is 105 feet. The jumper is jumping back up when the height is 105 feet. The jumper is jumping back up when the height is 105 feet. The jumper is jumping back up when the height is 105 feet.

Teaching and Learning High School Mathematics Charlene E. Beckmann, Denisse R. Thompson, Rheta N. Rubenstein, 2009-11-02 Too many high school students faced with mathematics in courses at the level of algebra and beyond find themselves struggling with abstract concepts and unwilling to pursue further study of mathematics When students curtail their course taking in mathematics they may be impacting their college and career options Thus high school mathematics teachers have the responsibility to help students recognize the value and importance of mathematics while also designing instruction that makes mathematics accessible to all students Ball and Bass 2000 as well as other mathematics educators have recognized that mathematics teachers not only need to know mathematics content and mathematics pedagogy i e teaching strategies but they also need to know how these ideas are integrated This mathematical knowledge for teaching is the knowledge that teachers of mathematics need and it differs from the knowledge that research or applied mathematicians must know This text is designed to provide teachers with insights into this mathematical knowledge for teaching Teaching and Learning High School Mathematics is likely different from many other texts that you have used It integrates both content and pedagogy to help you develop and build your own understanding of teaching The text is designed to help you develop deep conceptual understanding of fundamental mathematics Ma 1999 so that you are able to approach mathematics from multiple perspectives with many tools Such flexibility in teaching is essential if teachers are to help all students become mathematically proficient Throughout this book you are encouraged to work in cooperative teams This strategy is designed to help you develop a mathematics learning community and build a professional network that will be a valuable resource during your professional career Hopefully you will experience the benefits of engaging in rich mathematical discussions with peers and consider how to encourage such learning environments in your own classrooms Lesson planning is another element pervasive throughout this text To help teachers plan for effective student centered lessons the Question Response Support QRS Guide is introduced in Lesson 1 1 and used throughout the remainder of the lessons The QRS Guide is a tool on which teachers may record tasks or questions Q for students expected and observed student responses R and teacher support S in the form of additional just enough questions to support students in their progress on the task In each unit teachers expand their repertoire of teaching and learning elements and strategies and incorporate these elements as they plan additional lesson segments In Unit 4 lesson planning is formally introduced as teachers put together elements from previous units into complete cohesive lesson plans Resources in Education ,1998

A Five-Year Study of the First Edition of the Core-Plus Mathematics Curriculum Harold Schoen,Steven W. Ziebarth,Christian R. Hirsch,Allison BrckaLorenz,2010-07-01 The study reported in this volume adds to the growing body of evaluation studies that focus on the use of NSF funded Standards based high school mathematics curricula Most previous evaluations have studied the impact of field test versions of a curriculum Since these innovative curricula were so new at the time of many of these studies students and teachers were relative novices in their use These earlier studies were mainly one year or less in duration Students in the comparison groups were typically from schools in which some classes used a Standards based curriculum and other classes used a conventional curriculum rather than using the Standards based curriculum with all students as curriculum developers intended The volume reports one of the first studies of the efficacy of Standards based mathematics curricula with all of the following characteristics The study focused on fairly stable implementations of a first edition Standards based high school mathematics curriculum that was used by all students in each of three schools It involved students who experienced up to seven years of Standards based mathematics curricula and instruction in middle school and high school It monitored students mathematical achievement beliefs and attitudes for four years of high school and one year after graduation Prior to the study many of the teachers had one or more years of experience teaching the Standards based curriculum and or professional development focusing on how to implement the curriculum well In the study variations in levels of implementation of the curriculum are described and related to student outcomes and teacher behavior variables Item data and all unpublished testing instruments from this study are available at www.wmich.edu/cmpm for use as a baseline of instruments and data for future curriculum evaluators or Core Plus Mathematics users who may wish to compare results of new groups of students to those in the present study on common tests or surveys Taken together this volume the supplement at the CPMP Web site and the first edition Core Plus
