Precalculus: Foundations of mathematics Charlene Edwards, 1971 Left Behind Edward P. St. John, 2015-11-30 This book argues that American cities have been engaged for the past three decades in a radical but failing effort to transform general and vocational high schools into college preparatory institutions By examining the educational reforms in four urban charter schools across the United States and four public high schools in New York City it reveals how educators contend with the challenge of developing new courses while providing social support for students to build college going cultures

Source Book of Projects, 1981 The Genetic Lottery Kathryn Paige Harden, 2022-10-11 A provocative and timely case for how the science of genetics can help create a more just and equal society In recent years scientists like Kathryn Paige Harden have shown that DNA makes us different in our personalities and in our health and in ways that matter for educational and economic success in our current society In The Genetic Lottery Harden introduces readers to the latest genetic science dismantling dangerous ideas about racial superiority and challenging us to grapple with what equality really means in a world where people are born different Weaving together personal stories with scientific evidence Harden shows why our refusal to recognize the power of DNA perpetuates the myth of meritocracy and argues that we must acknowledge the role of genetic luck if we are ever to create a fair society Reclaiming genetic science from the legacy of eugenics this groundbreaking book offers a bold new vision of society where everyone thrives regardless of how one fares in the genetic lottery Teaching Mathematics in Secondary and Middle School James S.
