Predicted Gcse Maths November 2014:

Underdogs Joel Budd, 2025-04-17 A BBC Radio 4 Book of the Week Essential reading Telegraph Not just well timed but admirably powerful The Guardian A calm sensitive soothingly sociological book The Sunday Times Will change how you see Britain Robert Ford author of Brexitland _____ Underdogs is a surprising journey into the heart of the misunderstood white working class And it might just change how you see Britain While Brexit helped to turn the white working class into a social and political force in its aftermath one third of the population has been reduced to a caricature Portrayed as angry and hostile to change as xenophobic even racist it s a tired narrative favoured by both politicians and the press The truth is far more compelling In Underdogs Economist journalist Joel Budd takes us across the UK from the shores of Teesside to the Isle of Wight from the Valleys of South Wales to the fields of Lincolnshire talking with a diverse group of people about their jobs their families and neighbourhoods their struggles and hopes Offering an eye opening corrective to the familiar stereotype Budd discovers the white working class are not just grumbling about the transformation of Britain With warmth and determination they are pushing the country forward

Spending round 2013 Great Britain: H.M. Treasury, 2013-06-26 The Government s economic plan has three parts keeping mortgage rates low for families and fixing the banks to support investment in business dealing with the country s debts to maintain confidence in the UK s ability to pay its way and long term economic reform to back aspiration and equip Britain to win the global race The Government will continue to reduce the deficit by taking difficult decisions to cut public spending and prioritise investment in infrastructure to deliver a stronger economy and fairer society Because spending reductions since 2010 have been accompanied by reforms to how services are delivered crime is at its lowest level in 30 years school standards have risen and employment is at record levels The Government will reduce current spending by 11.5 billion in 2015-16 allowing it to increase capital spending plans by 3 billion a year from 2015-16 and by 18 billion over the next Parliament Without the 3.6 billion savings from the welfare budget in 2015-16 that were announced at Autumn Statement 2012 reductions in departmental spending would have been commensurately higher The Government will protect spending on health schools and overseas development maintaining the vital public services that everyone relies on at home and supporting the poorest overseas

The Working Classroom Matt Bromley, Andy Griffith, 2023-11-08 Schools do amazing work to support children from disadvantaged backgrounds But this book will enable them to do more Disadvantage comes in many forms but cultural poverty where some students have relative knowledge gaps compared with their more affluent peers can be addressed successfully by schools The Working Classroom explores how working class students are disadvantaged by a flawed system and what schools can do to close the gap Written by two experienced authors with a deep understanding of the challenges that poverty and low aspiration can bring and a passion for social justice The Working Classroom examines how and why we must seek systemic changes The book focuses on actions within the control of teachers and school leaders which will ensure that we create a socially just education system

one that builds on the rich heritage of the working class rather than seeing their background as a weakness It offers practical ways for students and families to build on the best of working class culture whilst also empowering teachers students and parents to change the system The Working Classroom provides teachers with useful methods to improve the cultural capital of students from disadvantaged backgrounds that can be easily replicated and implemented in their own setting Backed up by practical case studies that have a proven impact in schools with high levels of deprivation this book will enable teachers to audit their current provision and encourage them to adopt new systems and practices so that they and the wider school will have a greater impact on the lives of working class students and their families Suitable for both teachers and leaders in a secondary school or sixth form college setting who seek to support social change in education and anyone in the corporate or non education world who wants to practice effective altruism or philanthropy Assessment: Getting it Right in a Week Martin Fautley, Alison Daubney, 2025-02-28 Is assessment just a tick box exercise for you Are you able to integrate assessment into your everyday teaching Are you sure that your assessment of learners leads to learning gains This book acknowledges that you are the expert in your own particular context and allows you to take control of assessment for your learners and yourself It presents strategies and responds to current educational challenges offering a variety of assessment approaches and a straightforward toolkit of ideas for effective assessment Designed to be read over a week the book is divided into seven concise chapters detailing clear strategies examining the strategy in action and summarising the underpinning theory So sit back and enjoy exploring what meaningful assessment can do for you and your learners

Gender and Education in England since 1770 Jane Martin, 2022-01-02 This book takes a novel approach to the topic combining biographical approaches and local history a synthesis of sociological and historical literature with new research to address a variety of themes and provide a comprehensive rounded history demonstrating the entanglement of educational experience and the influence of different modes of discrimination and prejudice Using the lens of gender Jane Martin reassesses the gendered nature of the modern history of education and provides an overview of intertwined aspects of education society politics and power Its organisation is user friendly providing accessible information with regard to chronologies of legislation and key events to reflect constancy and change whilst mapping the larger political economic social and cultural contexts making it ideal for use as a textbook or a resource for teachers and students So What Now? Time for learning in your school to face the future John West Burnham, Malcolm Groves, 2022-07-19 It is not the role of schools to solve the climate crisis or any of the other multiple crises now facing humankind But it is powerfully their role if they so choose to equip young people as well as possible to deal with the consequences of the serious problems they will be inheriting from their elders not betters Could it be our collective failure to respond effectively to the threat of the climate emergency or the challenges of the pandemic has been shaped to a small but significant degree by the nature of the learning that happens in our schools and a failure to enable young people to learn appropriately there That question lies at the heart of this thought provoking new book as it unpicks the concept of deep learning for future sustainability This combines deep understanding with action and links both to moral purpose It is not enough just to be concerned about climate change awareness must lead to action The book draws on an eclectic range of sources case studies of actual practice critical perspectives and opportunities for reflection The authors argue that first and foremost it is for educators and leaders to get on as best they can in their own school context to do what is both necessary and right to secure learning fit for a just and sustainable future irrespective of governmental lead in these matters In doing so the authors set out some clear evidence informed principles for school development and leadership that are central to the success of that mission

Educating Tomorrow's Engineers Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Science and Technology Committee, 2013-02-08 In the UK we teach young people to become computer users and consumers rather than programmers and software engineers This is creating a chronic skills gap in ICT We need around 82 000 engineers and technicians just to deal with retirements up to 2016 and 830 000 SET professionals by 2020 On the plus side the Government's proposal to include computer science as a fourth science option to count towards the EBac is welcomed The Committee also welcomes the EBac's focus on attainment of mathematics and science GCSEs but is concerned that subjects such as Design and Technology D T might be marginalised A Technical Baccalaureate TechBac is being designed but if it is to be a success schools should be incentivised to focus on the TechBac by making it equivalent to the EBac Reforms to vocational education following the Wolf Review meant that Level 2 of the Engineering Diploma a qualification highly regarded would count as equivalent to one GCSE despite requiring curriculum time and effort equivalent to several GCSEs The Engineering Diploma however is currently being redesigned as four separate qualifications The Committee also expressed concerns over the Department for Education's DfE lack of clarity on its research budget and use of evidence in decision making The DfE needs to place greater focus on gathering evidence before changes to qualifications are made and must leave sufficient time for evidence to be gathered on the effectiveness of policies before introducing further change The possibility of gathering evidence from randomised controlled trials RCTs should be seriously considered
