for postnatal care World Health Organization, 2025-07-19 Digital Adaptation Kits DAKs are part of WHO's SMART guidelines initiative. This aims to ensure that the content of WHO's evidence-based guidelines is accurately reflected in the digital systems being used at country level. The DAKs provide software neutral operational and structured documentation based on WHO recommendations related to clinical care, health systems and use of data to systematically and transparently inform the design of digital systems. Standard components of each DAK include 1 linked health interventions and recommendations 2 generic personas 3 user scenarios 4 generic business processes and workflows 5 core data elements mapped to standard terminology codes e.g. the international classification of diseases 6 decision support 7 programme indicators and 8 functional and non functional requirements. This DAK focuses on PNC and aims to provide a common language across various audiences: maternal newborn infant and child health and other programme managers software developers and implementers of digital systems to ensure a common understanding of the appropriate health information content within a defined health programme area as a mechanism to catalyse the effective use of these digital systems. Digital adaptation kit for antenatal care

, 2021-02-18 Innovations in Global Maternal Health: Improving Prenatal and Postnatal Care Practices Management Association, Information Resources, 2019-12-06 Whether they are in developed or developing nations all women are susceptible to dying from complications in childbirth. While some of these complications are unavoidable many develop during pregnancy and can be prevented or when caught in time treated. These difficulties are often a result of inaccessibility to care inadequate health services poor prenatal screening and uninformed mothers among others that in many cases are a direct consequence of the mother's geographical location and economic status. Innovations in Global Maternal Health: Improving Prenatal and Postnatal Care Practices explores new techniques tools and solutions that can be used in a global capacity to support women during pregnancy childbirth and the postpartum period regardless of their wealth or location. Highlighting a range of topics such as maternal care models breastfeeding and social media and internet health forums this publication is an ideal reference source for world health organizations obstetricians midwives lactation consultants doctors nurses hospital staff directors counselors therapists academicians and researchers interested in the latest practices currently in use that can combat maternal mortality and morbidity and lead to healthier women and newborns. Consolidated

Guideline on Sexual and Reproductive Health and Rights of Women Living with HIV World Health Organization, 2017-02-20 The starting point for this guideline is the point at which a woman has learnt that she is living with HIV and it therefore covers key issues for providing comprehensive sexual and reproductive health and rights related services and support for women living with HIV. As women living with HIV face unique challenges and human rights violations related to their sexuality and reproduction within their families and communities as well as from the health care institutions where they seek care particular emphasis is placed on the creation of an enabling environment to support more effective health interventions and better health outcomes. This guideline is meant to help countries to more effectively and efficiently plan develop and monitor programmes and services that promote gender equality and human rights and hence are more acceptable and appropriate for women living with HIV taking into account the national and local epidemiological context It discusses implementation issues that health interventions and service delivery must address to achieve gender equality and support human rights Managing Newborn Problems World Health Organization. Reproductive Health and Research,2003-12-31 Every year throughout the world about four million babies die before they reach one month old most during the critical first week of life Most of these deaths are a result of the poor health and nutritional status of the mother combined with problems such as tetanus or asphyxia trauma low birth weight or preterm birth However many of the conditions which result in perinatal death are preventable or treatable without the need for expensive technology Against this background this publication contains guidance on evidence based standards for high quality care provision during the newborn period considering the needs of mother and baby It has been produced to assist countries with limited resources to reduce neonatal mortality The information is arranged under four main headings clinical assessment findings and management principles of newborn baby care procedures record keeping and essential equipment supplies and drugs
