Writing without Teachers Peter Elbow, 1998-06-25 In Writing Without Teachers well known advocate of innovative teaching methods Peter Elbow outlines a practical program for learning how to write His approach is especially helpful to people who get stuck or blocked in their writing and is equally useful for writing fiction poetry and essays as well as reports lectures and memos The core of Elbow's thinking is a challenge against traditional writing methods Instead of editing and outlining material in the initial steps of the writing process Elbow celebrates non stop or free uncensored writing without editorial checkpoints first followed much later by the editorial process This approach turns the focus towards encouraging ways of developing confidence and inspiration through free writing multiple drafts diaries and notes Elbow guides the reader through his metaphor of writing as cooking his term for heating up the creative process where the subconscious bubbles up to the surface and the writing gets good 1998 marks the twenty fifth anniversary of Writing Without Teachers In this edition Elbow reexamines his program and the subsequent influence his techniques have had on writers students and teachers This invaluable guide will benefit anyone whether in the classroom boardroom or living room who has ever had trouble writing

Questions H. Hiz,2012-12-06 To the philosopher the logician and the linguist questions have a special fascination The two main views of language that it describes the world and that it expresses thought are not directly applicable to questions Questions are not assertions A question may be apt sharp to the point important or it may be inappropriate ambiguous awkward irrelevant or irreverent But it cannot be true or false It does not have a truth value not just because an utterance like Was the letter long does not indicate which letter is being talked about The indicative The letter was not long has the same indeterminacy In actual context the anaphoric definite article will be resolved both for a question and for an indicative sentence Contextual resolutions are easily found for most cross references A question cannot be either true or it does not describe a state of affairs Neither does it express false because thought because it is an expression of suspended thought of lack of judgment To dress it in other philosophical styles a question is not a judgment it is not a proposition it is not an assertion A philosopher may try to paraphrase a question as an indicative sentence for instance as a statement of ignorance or as a statement of the desire to know Hintikka Wachowicz and Lang explore this territory Or he may interpret it as a meta statement intimating the direction in which the flow of the discourse is going Educational Materials Laboratory Report ,1961
