A Textbook of Children's and Young People's Nursing - E-Book Edward Alan Glasper, James Richardson, Duncan Randall, 2021-03-19 This innovative textbook provides a concise and accessible guide for undergraduate students specializing in children and young people's nursing in the UK and further afield. Each chapter has been fully updated to reflect current knowledge and practice. The wide range of topics covered includes all the essentials such as contemporary child health policy and legal issues, knowledge and skills for practice and caring for children with special needs. Students will learn how to recognize the deteriorating child, use procedural play and distraction, and consider the mental health of children and young people. A Textbook of Children's and Young People's Nursing is written by multidisciplinary experts rooted in child-centred healthcare within a family context and draws upon best contemporary practice. It is an invaluable resource that will help nursing students provide effective evidence-based care. Key points, summary boxes, and clearly defined aims, objectives, and learning outcomes to support learning. Conversation boxes to enliven the text. Patient scenarios to relate theory to practice. New chapters on skin health and the use of therapeutic play. Suggestions for seminar discussion topics to help teachers. Resource lists and online resources for further study or research. Online slides to complement chapters within book.

Interacting Selves Arlene Vetere, Peter Stratton, 2016-02-05. The counselling and psychotherapy professions have experienced a rapid growth and expansion throughout Europe and internationally. State regulation of these professional practices has required personal development hours for those in training, continuing professional development for all qualified practitioners, as well as supervision of their practice. Interacting Selves provides concepts and principles of personal and professional development, PPD in training and supervision, as part of an approach to lifelong learning for all those involved in psychotherapeutic work. Leading European trainers and practitioners draw on their shared background in systemic therapy to articulate a strong theoretical base for PPD. The volume functions not simply as a coherent description of the philosophy and rationale underlying PPD, but also as a practice workbook whose chapters contain an array of elegantly crafted exercises portable across the broad range of disciplines that give life to the social care and mental health fields at the same time as meeting the PPD needs of counsellors and psychotherapists of different theoretical persuasions. The approaches work through constant attention to PPD as an interpersonal process where thoughts, ideas, and emotions need to be nurtured. PPD can involve working at the extremes, and the book provides a secure basis for confronting abuse and violence head-on. Each chapter shows how personal and professional development promotes a focus on emotional competence, positive emotion, resilience, and ethical practice. Interacting Selves introduces and develops the concepts and principles of personal and professional development, PPD in training and supervision, as part of an approach to lifelong learning for all psychotherapists undergoing or providing PPD. This pioneering book will appeal to psychotherapy trainees, trainers, practitioners, and supervisors in the mental health field and social care professionals.
