Office in 1972 the industry had changed little since the birth of broadcast network television in the late 1940s The arrival of the premium cable channel began a revolution in the business and programming of TV For the generation that has grown up with the vast array of viewing choices available today it is almost inconceivable that our ever expanding media universe began with a few hours of unimpressive programming on a single cable channel Written by an insider this is the story of HBO s reconfiguration of television and the company s continual reinvention of itself in a competitive and dynamic industry
