The Acquisitors The Canadian Establishment Volume Two:

A History of Law in Canada, Volume Two Jim Phillips, Philip Girard, R. Blake Brown, 2022-11-01 This is the second of three volumes in an important collection that recounts the sweeping history of law in Canada. The period covered in this volume witnessed both continuity and change in the relationships among law, society, Indigenous peoples, and white settlers. The authors explore how law was as important to the building of a new urban industrial nation as it had been to the establishment of colonies of agricultural settlement and resource exploitation. The book addresses the most important developments in the seventeenth, eighteenth, and nineteenth centuries, including legal pluralism and the co-existence of European and Indigenous law. It pays particular attention to the Métis and the Red River Resistance, the Indian Act, and the origins and expansion of residential schools in Canada. The book is divided into four parts: the law and legal institutions; Indigenous peoples and Dominion law; capital, labour, and criminal justice; and those less favoured by the law. A History of Law in Canada examines law as a dynamic process shaped by and affecting other histories over the long term. Historical Perspectives on Canadian Competition Policy R. S. Khemani, W. T. Stanbury, 1991 This publication includes eight papers which address the following issues: the beginning of Canadian competition policy, 1888-1900; the administration and enforcement of competition policy in Canada, 1889 to 1952; Canadian competition law reform, 1919 and 1935; the history of price maintenance legislation in Canada; the evolution of legislation, adjudication, and administration; the case of the Competition Act; a comparison of Canada's competitive environment in 1889 and 1989; and 1889-1989 and into the twenty-first century. Hostages to Fortune Peter C Newman, 2016-11 Explains the role the United Empire Loyalists had in the founding of Canada. Frank Manning Covert Barry Cahill, 2004-12-08 A member of what Peter Newman christened the Munitions and Supply Gang in World War II, Ottawa Covert was a protégé of the legendary minister of everything, C. D. Howe, for whom he later helped create the post of chancellor of Dalhousie University. Appointed an officer of the Order of Canada in 1982, Covert's citation noted that he had given generously of his counsel and leadership to universities, hospitals, and charitable organizations, an understatement typical of the man who believed that successful work was its own best reward. Canadian Defence Policy in Theory and Practice, Volume 2 Thomas Juneau, Philippe Lagassé, 2023-09-30 This edited volume, the second volume in this collection, provides a comprehensive overview of contemporary debates and issues in Canadian defence policy studies. The contributors examine topics including sexual misconduct and the crisis of defence culture; personnel retention in the CAF; the impacts of climate change; NORAD modernization; policy trade-offs in the wake of the war in Ukraine; defence spending; procurement; as well as the defence policy-making process. Cloak of Green Elaine Dewar, 1995 Most concerned citizens trust environmental groups to fight on behalf of the public for sensible solutions to the world's most pressing problems. But Elaine Dewar discovered that this trust is often misplaced. In this book, the award-winning journalist explores links between key environmental groups, government, and big business. Written like a mystery, Cloak of Green follows the author from a Toronto fundraiser for the Kayapo Indians of Brazil to the Amazon rainforest and the global backrooms of Brasilia Washington and Geneva Along the way she meets some fascinating people Anita Roddick of the Body Shop businessman politician Maurice Strong and activists who run key Canadian and American environmental groups She discovers some disturbing revelations about these groups and their relations to green corporations and government Cloak of Green is a penetrating investigative study that challenges many established pieties of the environmental movement Corporate Catalyst Tony Griffiths, 2012-08-02 An inside look at the real business world In Corporate Catalyst Tony Griffiths gives readers a ringside seat on the many boardroom and corporate battles that he both fought and witnessed through the nearly six decades of his productive and colorful career Among other stories Griffiths replays his two stints as the CEO of Canada's darling of the telecom industry Mitel Corporation The first was in the late 1980s a time when he helped staunch the flow of red ink and returned the company to profitability The second was in the early 1990s when he steered the company through its majority ownership by British Telecom and then its sale to Schroder Ventures As Griffiths relates it he had to learn how to deal with the bureaucratic style of the former and the power hungry moves of the latter Corporate Catalyst includes the author's blow by blow account of what went on inside Confederation Life in the 1980s and early 1990s a story that should have prevented the failure of the likes of Lehman Brothers in the recent Great Recession Griffiths who had his hands full at the time with challenges at Mitel also sat on Confed's board He tried to warn Confederation Life's executives and his fellow board members of the financial dangers the company was facing No one but a few other board members would listen and even they did not do so consistently The fall of Confed Life became one of the largest failures of a major finance company in corporate history Griffiths takes the reader on a dramatic tour of the trickery betrayal and politicking that the world of business seems to attract He introduces readers to the biggest and boldest names in Canadian business including Jake Moore of Brascan Robert Campeau of Campeau Corporation Terry Mathews of Mitel Ted Rogers of Rogers Communications Conrad Black of Hollinger Adam Zimmerman of Noranda Pat Burns of Confederation Life and Christopher Ondaatje of The Ondaatje Corporation In the book's many cautionary tales Griffiths warns against mixing the roles of governance and management and shows the marked tendency of executives to take up residence far from reality when times get tough We don't listen We don't plan We don't act he wrote in frustration to the board and management of Confederation Life after months of trying to get someone to address the financial mess they were in Full of hard won wisdom Corporate Catalyst is a must read for anyone working in business or interested in what the business world is really like The Canadian Revolution Peter C.
