The Annotated Lolita Vladimir Nabokov, Vladimir Vladimirovich Nabokov, 1971 The Annotated Lolita Vladimir Nabokov, Alfred Appel, 1970 The Philosophy of Stanley Kubrick Jerold Abrams, 2007-05-04 In the course of fifty years director Stanley Kubrick produced some of the most haunting and indelible images on film His films touch on a wide range of topics rife with questions about human life behavior and emotions love and sex war crime madness social conditioning and technology Within this great variety of subject matter Kubrick examines different sides of reality and unifies them into a rich philosophical vision that is similar to existentialism Perhaps more than any other philosophical concept existentialism the belief that philosophical truth has meaning only if it is chosen by the individual has come down from the ivory tower to influence popular culture at large In virtually all of Kubrick's films the protagonist finds himself or herself in opposition to a hard and uncaring world whether the conflict arises in the natural world or in human institutions Kubrick's war films Fear and Desire Paths of Glory Dr Strangelove and Full Metal Jacket examine how humans deal with their worst fears especially the fear of death when facing the absurdity of war Full Metal Jacket portrays a world of physical and moral change with an environment in continual flux in which attempting to impose order can be dangerous The film explores the tragic consequences of an unbending moral code in a constantly changing universe Essays in the volume examine Kubrick's interest in morality and fate revealing a Stoic philosophy at the center of many of his films Several of the contributors find his oeuvre to be characterized by skepticism irony and unfettered hedonism In such films as A Clockwork Orange and 2001 A Space Odyssey Kubrick confronts the notion that we will struggle against our own scientific and technological innovations Kubrick's films about the future posit that an active form of nihilism will allow humans to accept the emptiness of the world and push beyond it to form a free and creative view of humanity Taken together the essays in The Philosophy of Stanley Kubrick are an engaging look at the director's stark vision of a constantly changing moral and physical universe They promise to add depth and complexity to the interpretation of Kubrick's signature films Secret Sharers Jennifer Spitzer, 2023-02-21 Secret Sharers traces a genealogy of secret sharing between literary modernism and psychoanalysis focusing on the productive entanglements and intense competitive rivalries that helped shape Anglo American modernism as a field As Jennifer Spitzer reveals such rivalries played out in explicit criticism inventive misreadings and revisions of Freudian forms from D H Lawrence's re-descriptions of the unconscious to Vladimir Nabokov's parodies of the psychoanalytic case study While some modernists engaged directly with Freud and Freudian psychoanalysis with unmistakable rivalry and critique others wrestled in more complex ways with Freud's legacy The key protagonists of this study D H Lawrence Virginia Woolf W H Auden and Vladimir Nabokov are noteworthy for the way they engaged with popularized and revised the terms of Freudian psychoanalysis while also struggling with it as an encroaching discourse Modernists read psychoanalysis misread psychoanalysis and sometimes refused to read it altogether while expressing anxiety about being read by psychoanalysis subjecting themselves and their art to psychoanalytic interpretations As analysts such as Freud Ernest Jones and Alfred Kuttner turned to literature and art to illustrate psychoanalytic theories modernists sought to counter such reductive narratives by envisioning competing formulations of the relationship between literature and psychic life Modernists often expressed ambivalence about the probing symptomatic style of psychoanalytic interpretation and responded with a re-doubling of arguments for aesthetic autonomy formal self-consciousness and amateurism Secret Sharers reveals how modernists transformed the hermeneutic and diagnostic priorities of psychoanalysis into novel aesthetic strategies and distinctive modes of epistemological and critical engagement In reassessing the historical and intellectual legacies of modernism this book suggests that modernist responses to psychoanalytic criticism anticipate more recent critical debates about the value of symptomatic reading and the hermeneutics of suspicion Reading Vladimir Nabokov: 'Lolita' John Lennard, 2008-01-01 An illuminating study of Vladimir Nabokov's controversial novel with special attention to its film versions From its first publication in 1955 Nabokov's Lolita has been denounced as immoral filth hailed as a moral masterpiece and both praised and damned Vladimir Nabokov's Lolita Ellen Pifer, 2003 This volume comprises an interview with Nabokov as well as nine critical essays that follow a progression focusing first on textual and thematic features of Lolita and then proceeding to broader issues and cultural implications including the novel's relations to other work of literature and art The New Romanticism Eberhard Alsen, 2000 First Published in 2000 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company The Taboo Harold Bloom, Blake Hobby, Sterling Professor of Humanities Harold Bloom, 2010 From a Polynesian word meaning prohibition a taboo is a social more that should never be broken This volume discusses the role of the taboo in Howl Lolita Lord of the Flies The Miller's Tale and many more works That Other World Azar Nafisi, 2019-06-25 The foundational text for the acclaimed international best seller Reading Lolita in Tehran Empathetic incisive A sweeping overview of Nabokov's major works Graceful and discerning Kirkus Reviews The ruler of a totalitarian state seeks validation from a former schoolmate now the nation's foremost thinker in order to access a cultural cache alien to his regime A literary critic provides commentary on an unfinished poem that both foretells the poet's death and announces the critic's secret identity as the king of a lost country The greatest of Vladimir Nabokov's enchanters Humbert is lost within the antithesis of a fairy story in which Lolita does not hold the key to his past but rather imprisons him within the knowledge of his distance from that past In this precursor to her international best seller Reading Lolita in Tehran Azar Nafisi deftly explores the worlds apparently lost to Nabokov's characters their portals of access to those worlds and how other worlds hold a mirror to Nabokov's experiences of physical linguistic and recollective exile Written before Nafisi left the Islamic Republic of Iran and now published in English for the first time and with a new introduction by the author this book evokes the reader's quintessential journey of discovery and reveals what caused Nabokov to distinctively shape and reshape that journey for the author The Translator's Doubts Julia Trubikhina, 2019-08-28 Using Vladimir Nabokov as its case study this volume approaches translation as a crucial avenue into literary history and theory philosophy and interpretation The book attempts to bring together issues in translation and the shift in Nabokov studies from its earlier emphasis on the metaliterary to the more recent metaphysical approach Addressing specific texts both literary and cinematic the book investigates Nabokov's deeply ambivalent relationship to translation as a hermeneutic oscillation on his part between the relative stability of meaning which expresses itself philosophically as a faith in the beyond and deep metaphysical uncertainty While Nabokov's practice of translation changes profoundly over the course of his career his adherence to the Romantic notion of a true but ultimately elusive metaphysical language remained paradoxically constant Five Fictions in Search of Truth Myra Jehlen, 2016-07-26 Fiction far from being the opposite of truth is wholly bent on finding it out and writing novels is a way to know the real world as objectively as possible In Five Fictions in Search of Truth Myra Jehlen develops this idea through readings of works by Flaubert James and Nabokov She invokes Proust's famous search for lost memory as the exemplary literary process which strives whatever its materials for a true knowledge In Salammb Flaubert digs up Carthage in The Ambassadors James plumbs the examined life and touches at its limits while in Lolita Nabokov traces a search for truth that becomes a trespass In these readings form and style emerge as fiction's means for taking hold of reality which is to say that they are as epistemological as they are aesthetic each one emerging by way of the other The aesthetic aspects of a literary work are just so many instruments for exploring a subject and the beauty and pleasure of a work confirm the validity of its account of the world For Flaubert famously a beautiful sentence was proven true by its beauty James and Nabokov wrote on the same assumption that form and style were at once the origin and the confirmation of a work's truth In Five Fictions in Search of Truth Jehlen shows moreover that fiction's findings are not only about the world but immanent within it Literature works concretely through this form that style this image that word seeking a truth that is equally concrete Writers write and readers read to discover an incarnate secular knowledge and in doing so they enact a basic concurrence between literature and science

The Aesthetics of International Law Edward M. Morgan, 2007-01-01 In The Aesthetics of International Law Ed Morgan engages in a literary parsing of international legal texts In order to demonstrate how these types of legal narratives are imbued with modernist aesthetics Morgan juxtaposes international legal documents and modern as well as some immediately pre and post modern literary texts

Nabokov's Palace Márta Pellérdi, 2010-08-11 Nabokov's distinguished and unique position in American literature has always been indisputable but paradoxical There has always been an element of foreignness in his writing Nabokov's Palace however aims to discover those sub texts and inter textual patterns embedded in Nabokov's American novels which undeniably contribute towards making these works an integral part of the Anglo American literary tradition Aware of this tradition in some of his late novels Nabokov also provides a literary historical overview of particular themes such as friendship melancholy madness and trance as they surfaced in literary texts throughout the history of English and American literature To Nabokov aesthetic bliss meant a sense of being somehow somewhere connected with other states of being where art curiosity tenderness kindness ecstasy is the norm Most of Nabokov's American novels express through different elaborate literary structures themes motifs and metaphors these other states of being where the fantastic recurrence of literary situations and communion with dead poets and writers Poe Shakespeare Hawthorne and Melville among many others becomes possible The American reality that some readers miss in his writings with the exception of Lolita and the absence of which questions whether Nabokov truly belongs to the Anglo American tradition is clearly to be found in the wayside murmur of the allusive sub texts Nabokov's Palace is thus recommended for scholars students and devotees of Nabokov's fiction who wish to make further discoveries in the distinct otherworld of Art in Nabokov's American novels

Multiple Narratives, Versions and Truth in the Contemporary Novel Nicholas Frangipane, 2019-10-22 Multiple Narratives Versions and Truth in the Contemporary Novel considers the shifting perception of truth in fiction Nicholas Frangipane examines the narrative technique of telling multiple versions of the same sets of events presenting both true and false versions of the events within a fictional work This book looks closely at these Reflexive Double Narratives in order to understand the way many contemporary writers have attempted to work past postmodernism without forgetting its lessons Frangipane explores how writers like Ian McEwan Yann Martel and Alice

Munro have departed from the radical experimentation of their predecessors and instead make sincere attempts to find ways that fictional writing can reveal enduring truths and in so doing redefine the meaning of truth itself and signal the emergence of post postmodernism

The Wolf at the Door Geoffrey Cocks, 2004 Discovers a Holocaust subtext in Kubrick's films culminating in his 1980 adaptation of Stephen King's horror novel The Shining Maintains that this is reflected in his depiction of harsh struggles with and over power and violence Several of his films deal with war and state power The Shining is seen as an artistic and philosophical response to the horrors of World War II Among the influences on the filmmaker are Hilberg's The Destruction of the European Jews Kubrick's Jewish past and his early years that were affected by fascism and war Kubrick's marriage into an artistic German family also contributed to his preoccupation with the history of Nazi Germany and the Holocaust which were indirectly reflected in his oeuvre

The Guestroom Novelist Donald Harington, 2019-04-01 Donald Harington best known for his fifteen novels was also a prolific writer of essays articles and book reviews The Guestroom Novelist A Donald Harington Miscellany gathers a career spanning and eclectic selection of nonfiction by the Arkansawyer novelist Donald Harington that reveals how a life of devastating losses and disappointments inspired what the Boston Globe called the quirkiest most original body of work in contemporary US letters This extensive collection of interviews and other works of prose many of which are previously unpublished offers glimpses into Harington's life loves and favorite obsessions replays his minor and not so minor dramas with literary critics and reveals the complicated and sometimes contentious relationship between his work of the writers he most admired The Guestroom Novelist which takes its title from an essay that serves as a love letter to his fellow underappreciated writers paints a rich portrait of the artist as a young middle aged and fiercely funny old man as well as comic sentimentalist philosopher and critic paying testimony to the writer's magnificent ability to transform the seemingly crude stuff of our material existence into enduring art
