The Age Of Scientific Naturalism Tyndall And His Contemporaries:

The Age of Scientific Naturalism Michael S Reidy, 2015-07-28 The essays in this volume focus on the way Victorian Physicist John Tyndall and his correspondents developed their ideas through letters periodicals and journals and challenge assumptions about who gained authority and how they attained and defended their position within the scientific community

The Age of Scientific Naturalism Bernard Lightman, Michael S. Reidy, 2016-02-19 Physicist John Tyndall and his contemporaries were at the forefront of developing the cosmology of scientific naturalism during the Victorian period They rejected all but physical laws as having any impact on the operations of human life and the universe Contributors focus on the way Tyndall and his correspondents developed their ideas through letters periodicals and scientific journals and challenge previously held assumptions about who gained authority and how they attained and defended their position within the scientific community

Science and Societies in Frankfurt am Main Ayako Sakurai, 2016-09-12 The nineteenth century saw science move from being the preserve of a small learned elite to a dominant force which influenced society as a whole Sakurai presents a study of how scientific societies affected the social and political life of a city As it did not have a university or a centralized government Frankfurt am Main is an ideal case study of how scientific associations funded by private patronage for the good of the local populace became an important centre for natural history

Brewing Science, Technology and Print, 1700-1880 James Sumner, 2015-07-28 How did the brewing of beer become a scientific process Sumner explores this question by charting the theory and practice of the trade in Britain and Ireland during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries

The Metaphysical Society (1869-1880) Catherine Marshall, Bernard V. Lightman, Richard England, 2019 This book contains essays by important scholars on the historical significance of the Metaphysical Society 1869 1880 The contributors examine the innermost thoughts of the leading intellectuals of the period as they grappled with the changes around them

Of Popes and Unicorns David Hutchings, James C. Ungureanu, 2022 Of Popes and Unicorns shares the story of John Draper and Andrew White who in the late 19th century published books falsely claiming a toxic history between religion and science This book examines the implications of Draper and White's conspiracy and debunks the conflict thesis once and for all

Mobilizing Traditions in the First Wave of the British Animal Defense Movement Chien-hui Li, 2019-06-11 This book explores the British animal defense movement's mobilization of the cultural and intellectual traditions of its time from Christianity and literature to natural history evolutionism and political radicalism in its struggle for the cause of animals in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Each chapter examines the process whereby the animal protection movement interpreted and drew upon varied intellectual moral and cultural resources in order to achieve its manifold objectives participate in the ongoing re creation of the current traditions of thought and re shape human animal relations in wider society Placing at its center of analysis the movement's mediating power in relation to its surrounding traditions Li's original perspective uncovers the oft ignored cultural work of the movement whilst restoring its agency in explaining social change Looking forward it points at the same time to the potential of all traditions through ongoing mobilization to effect change in the human animal relations of the future      The Making of Modern Anthrax,

1875-1920 James F. Stark,2016-08-05 From the mid nineteenth century onwards a number of previously unknown conditions were recorded in both animals and humans Known by a variety of names and found in diverse locations by the end of the century these diseases were united under the banner of anthrax Stark offers a fresh perspective on the history of infectious disease He examines anthrax in terms of local national and global significance and constructs a narrative that spans public professional and geographic domains      Natural Philosophy Alister E. McGrath,2023 This book argues for the retrieval of the concept of natural philosophy encompassing the natural sciences philosophy and theology amongst others It identifies the essential characteristics of natural philosophy from its Aristotelian roots onwards and then makes a creative proposal on how we might reincorporate it into our current worldview      William E. Wilson (1851-1908) - The Work and Family of a Westmeath Astronomer Ian Elliott and Charles Mollan,2018-10-11 Wilson was a wealthy gentleman who could afford to indulge his hobby of Astronomy He was attracted to this subject when as a teenager he took part in the Total Eclipse Expedition to Algeria in 1870 He set up a well equipped private Observatory at Daramona House in Streete County Westmeath His contributions to Astronomy included The first fairly accurate estimate of the temperature of the Sun s visible surface the first photo electric measurements of the brightness of stars a series of superb celestial photographs with a 24 inch Grubb reflector The first use of cinematography in solar physics One of the first to suggest that radio activity might keep the stars shining The book covers all these initiatives and much more Wilson though he never attended university was elected to Fellowship of the London Royal Society and received an honorary doctorate from Dublin University But the book covers his family and life style with brief biographies of his contemporary scientific colleagues The book is well illustrated with family and astronomical photographs It is written for the educated layman and no knowledge of Astronomy or indeed science is required      Victorian Interdisciplinarity and the Sciences Bernard Lightman,Efram Sera-Shriar,2024-05-14 The specialization thesis the idea that nineteenth century science fragmented into separate forms of knowledge that led to the creation of modern disciplines has played an integral role in the way historians have described the changing disciplinary map of nineteenth century British science This volume critically reevaluates this dominant narrative in the historiography While new disciplines did emerge during the nineteenth century the intellectual landscape was far muddier and in many cases new forms of specialist knowledge continued to cross boundaries while integrating ideas from other areas of study Through a history of Victorian interdisciplinarity this volume offers a more complicated and innovative analysis of discipline formation Harnessing the techniques of cultural and intellectual history studies of visual culture Victorian studies and literary studies contributors break out of subject based silos exposing the tension between the rhetorical push for specialization and the actual practice of knowledge sharing across disciplines during the nineteenth century      Victorian Literature and the

Physics of the Imponderable Sarah C Alexander,2015-07-28 The Victorians were obsessed with the empirical but were frequently frustrated by the sizeable gaps in their understanding of the world around them This study examines how literature and popular culture adopted the emerging language of physics to explain the unknown or imponderable

Victorian Medicine and Popular Culture Louise Penner,Tabitha Sparks,2016-09-12 This collection of essays explores the rise of scientific medicine and its impact on Victorian popular culture Chapters include an examination of Charles Dickens s involvement with hospital funding concerns over milk purity and the theatrical portrayal of drug addiction plus a whole section devoted to the representation of medicine in crime fiction This is an interdisciplinary study involving public health cultural studies the history of medicine literature and the theatre providing new insights into Victorian culture and society

Chaos in the Heavens Jean-Baptiste Fressoz,Fabien Locher,2024-03-12 Nothing could seem more contemporary than climate change Yet in Chaos in the Heavens Jean Baptiste Fressoz and Fabien Locher show that we have been thinking about and debating the consequences of our actions upon the environment for centuries The subject was raised wherever history accelerated by the conquistadors in the New World by the French revolutionaries of 1789 by the scientists and politicians of the nineteenth century by the European imperialists in Asia and Africa until the Second World War Climate change was at the heart of fundamental debates about colonisation God the state nature and capitalism From these intellectual and political battles emerged key concepts of contemporary environmental science and policy For a brief interlude science and industry instilled in us the reassuring illusion of an impassive climate But in the age of global warming we must once again confront the chaos in the heavens

The Medical Trade Catalogue in Britain, 1870-1914 Claire L. Jones,2016-08-05 By the late nineteenth century advances in medical knowledge technology and pharmaceuticals led to the development of a thriving commercial industry The medical trade catalogue became one of the most important means of promoting the latest tools and techniques to practitioners Drawing on over 400 catalogues produced between 1870 and 1914 Jones presents a study of the changing nature of medical professionalism She examines the use of the catalogue in connecting the previously separate worlds of medicine and commerce and discusses its importance to the study of print history more widely

Uncommon Contexts: Encounters between Science and Literature, 1800-1914 Ben Marsden,Hazel Hutchinson,Ralph

O'Connor,2016-09-12 Britain in the long nineteenth century developed an increasing interest in science of all kinds Whilst poets and novelists took inspiration from technical and scientific innovations those directly engaged in these new disciplines relied on literary techniques to communicate their discoveries to a wider audience The essays in this collection uncover this symbiotic relationship between literature and science at the same time bridging the disciplinary gulf between the history of science and literary studies Specific case studies include the engineering language used by Isambard Kingdom Brunel the role of physiology in the development of the sensation novel and how mass communication made people lonely

The Making of British Anthropology, 1813-1871 Efram Sera-Shriar,2016-08-03 Victorian anthropology has been derided as an armchair practice distinct from the scientific discipline of the twentieth century But the observational practices that characterized the study of human diversity developed from the established sciences of natural history geography and medicine Sera Shriar argues that anthropology at this time went through a process of innovation which built on scientifically grounded observational study Far from being an evolutionary dead end nineteenth century anthropology laid the foundations for the field based science of anthropology today Astronomy in India, 1784-1876 Joydeep Sen,2016-09-12 Indian scientific achievements in the early twentieth century are well known with a number of heralded individuals making globally recognized strides in the field of astrophysics Covering the period from the foundation of the Asiatick Society in 1784 to the establishment of the Indian Association for the Cultivation of Science in 1876 Sen explores the relationship between Indian astronomers and the colonial British He shows that from the mid nineteenth century Indians were not passive receivers of European knowledge but active participants in modern scientific observational astronomy A History of Scientific Journals Aileen Fyfe,Noah Moxham,Julie McDougall-Waters,Camilla Mørk Røstvik,2022-10-03 Modern scientific research has changed so much since Isaac Newton's day it is more professional collaborative and international with more complicated equipment and a more diverse community of researchers Yet the use of scientific journals to report share and store results is a thread that runs through the history of science from Newton's day to ours Scientific journals are now central to academic research and careers Their editorial and peer review processes act as a check on new claims and findings and researchers build their careers on the list of journal articles they have published The journal that reported Newton's optical experiments still exists First published in 1665 and now fully digital the Philosophical Transactions has carried papers by Charles Darwin Dorothy Hodgkin and Stephen Hawking It is now one of eleven journals published by the Royal Society of London Unrivalled insights from the Royal Society's comprehensive archives have enabled the authors to investigate more than 350 years of scientific journal publishing The editorial management business practices and financial difficulties of the Philosophical Transactions and its sibling Proceedings reveal the meaning and purpose of journals in a changing scientific community At a time when we are surrounded by calls to reform the academic publishing system it has never been more urgent that we understand its history Nineteenth-Century British Secularism Michael Rectenwald,2016-03-08 Nineteenth Century British Secularism offers a new paradigm for understanding secularization in the nineteenth century It addresses the crisis in the secularization thesis by foregrounding a nineteenth century development called Secularism the particular movement and creed founded by George Jacob Holyoake from 1851 to 1852 Nineteenth Century British Secularism rethinks and reevaluates the significance of Holyoake's Secularism regarding it as a historic moment of modernity and granting it centrality as both a herald and exemplar for a new understanding of modern secularity In addition to Secularism proper the book treats several other moments of secular emergence in the nineteenth century including Thomas Carlyle's natural supernaturalism Richard Carlile's anti theist science advocacy Charles Lyell's uniformity principle in geology Francis Newman's naturalized religion or

primitive Christianity and George Eliot's secularism and post secularism
