Hicks, 2016-04-08 Since the beginning of the twenty first century major Anglophone authors have flocked to a literary form once considered lowbrow genre fiction the post apocalyptic novel Calling on her broad knowledge of the history of apocalyptic literature Hicks examines the most influential post apocalyptic novels written since the beginning of the new millennium including works by Margaret Atwood David Mitchell Cormac McCarthy Jeanette Winterson Colson Whitehead and Paolo Bacigalupi Situating her careful readings in relationship to the scholarship of a wide range of historians theorists and literary critics she argues that these texts use the post apocalyptic form to reevaluate modernity in the context of the new century's political economic and ecological challenges In the immediate wake of disaster the characters in these novels desperately scavenge the scraps of the modern world But what happens to modernity beyond these first moments of salvage In a period when postmodernism no longer defines cultural production Hicks convincingly demonstrates that these writers employ conventions of post apocalyptic genre fiction to reengage with key features of modernity from historical thinking and the institution of nationhood to rationality and the practices of literacy itself

Contemporary Women's Post-Apocalyptic Fiction Susan Watkins, 2020-02-29 This book examines how contemporary women novelists have successfully transformed and rewritten the conventions of post apocalyptic fiction Since the dawn of the new millennium there has been an outpouring of writing that depicts the end of the world as we know it and women writers are no exception to this trend However the book argues that their fiction is distinctive Contemporary women's work in this genre avoids conservatism a nostalgic mourning for the past and the focus on restoring what has been lost aspects key to much male authored apocalyptic fiction Instead contemporary women writers show readers the ways in which patriarchy and neo colonialism are intrinsically implicated in the disasters they envision and offer qualified hope for a new beginning for society culture and literature after an imagined apocalyptic event Exploring science nature and matter the posthuman body the maternal imaginary time narrative and history literature and the word and the post secular the book covers a wide variety of writers and addresses issues of nationality race and ethnicity as well as gender and sexuality

The Ironic Apocalypse in the Novels of Leopoldo Marechal Norman Cheadle, 2000 A fresh look at the Argentine novelist Marechal emphasises his subversive approach in his novels to the

Peronist politics of his time Leopoldo Marechal has become a chosen precursor of many contemporary Argentine writers cineastes and intellectuals and so his novels universally recognized but rarely studied demand treatment from a contemporary critical sensibility This study departs from the line of criticism that reads Marechal as a Christian apologist arguing instead that Marechal's metaphysical novels are really metafictional ludic exercises informed by ironic scepticism Ad n Buenosayres 1948 inverts the Christian Platonist narrative of redemption through the Logos in El Banquete de Severo Arc ngelo 1965 Marechal tongue firmly in cheek leads his readers on a metaphysical wild goose chase and in Megaf n o la guerra 1970 he finally lays apocalypticism to rest The close readings of his novels presented in this book help to lay the theoretical groundwork underpinning Marechal's reinscription in contemporary Argentine culture
