Der Post Et Al,2011-06-01 DescriptionA varied collection of parents stories about raising children and teenagers with Aspergers The contributors have bravely written totally honest deeply moving and sometimes harrowing accounts about what it really feels like to care for a challenging child The book helps to remove the isolation and guilt felt by so many parents Embedded within the narratives are their unique ways of coping which may inspire some with new strategies to try This book will also appeal to relatives friends and professionals seeking to get a better understanding of Aspergers and the far reaching effect on the family unit About the AuthorAnna Van Der Post is both a research psychologist and a mother of a teenager with Aspergers She has worked as a researcher for both mental health charities and the National Health Service For the last fourteen years she has lived in the South West of England with her son whom she has home educated Anna enjoys coastal walks cryptic crosswords and spending time with her friends      Asperger Syndrome in Adolescence Liane Holliday Willey, 2003-01-01 Reflecting the views of parents professionals and those with AS themselves this book tackles issues that are pertinent to all teenagers such as sexuality depression and friendship as well as topics like disclosure and therapeutic alternatives that are more specific to those with AS This book is an essential survival guide to adolescence      The Autism Matrix Gil Eyal, 2010-07-26 The authors argue that the recent rise in autism should be understood as an aftershock of the real earthquake which was the deinstitutionalization of mental retardation in the mid 1970s This entailed a radical transformation not only of the institutional matrix for dealing with developmental disorders of childhood but also of the cultural lens through which we view them It opened up a space for viewing and treating childhood disorders as neither mental illness nor mental retardation neither curable nor incurable but somewhere in between From publisher description      Talking Teenagers Ann Boushey, 2007-01-01 Written by the mother of a teenager with autism this book provides advice to parents on how to deal with issues that may arise with their teenagers Covers holidays anger school bullying sex and religion      The Social Success Workbook for Teens Barbara Cooper, Nancy Widdows, 2008 Includes ideas on how to read social cues recognise and use your strengths and understand social rules and make friends      Evidence-Based Group Work in Community Settings David E. Pollio, Mark J. Macgowan, 2013-09-13 There has been a strong recent trend towards incorporating evidence into Social Work practice in general and into group work in particular This trend has focused on the education of students in the use of evidence development of evidence based interventions and discussion of how evidence can be used to improve practice A limitation of most of this literature is that it has been written by researchers for the consumption of practitioners limiting the ability of evidence based practices to be incorporated into unique community settings and with specific populations In spite of this difficulty implementation of evidence based practices continues quietly in practice settings This book describes efforts to integrate evidence into community settings which have two foci The first part details group models developed through collaborations between researchers and community agencies Each chapter details efforts to implement research or review programs in community settings The second part deals with issues around instruction and dissemination of evidence based group work into practice settings The volume makes a significant contribution to the discussion about evidence based group work This book was published as a special issue of Social Work with Groups
