Land-use Education in Africa Issiaka Zoungrana, A. B. Temu, 1996      The Role of Food Science and Nutrition for Sustainable Livelihood of the People in Africa Food Science and Nutrition Network for Africa. Conference, 2002      Thus Until Emilia Ilieva, Reuben Matheka, 2025-08-04 Thus Until A History of Egerton University is a thorough historical chronological and well researched account of Egerton University from a whites only college when it started in 1939 through to the expansion it has experienced over the years culminating in being a full university More than any other university in Kenya Egerton has a long and colourful history but like all the other universities it has suffered from the political economic and financial challenges of the time especially since the double intake of the 1990s Chapter One provides the required background to the study highlighting agricultural and educational policies and steering away from the Happy Valley hype so characteristic of the period The reader will learn about the Egerton family in Chapter Two and particularly about Lord Egerton himself and the colonial circumstances within which he lived The chapter dispels some of the popularly held myths about him Chapter Three deals with the beginnings of the college and the various structural and curriculum experiments tried out and the kind of enrolment and students it experimented with as an all white establishment The chapter ends with Africans beginning to agitate for change With great attention to detail the later chapters put the university in a broader local and international context thereby increasing its relevance to society A History of Egerton University though heavily footnoted and with a detailed bibliography is written in a simple easy flowing and accessible style      Directory of African Universities ,      Religions in Eastern Africa Under Globalization J. N. Kanyua Mugambi, Mary N. Getui, 2004      Journal of Information Science , 1993 Principles practice      Web Information Management Stephen Mutula, Justus Wamukoya, 2007-05-31 This is a cross disciplinary text book on web based information management for students faculty and practitioners in business industry and government The Web has emerged as a universal space of information occasioning proliferation of electronic publications Though efforts have been made in developing tools and methods such as search engines metadata portals subject directories and subject gateways aimed at enhancing the organization of and accessibility to information on the web more remains to be done The book addresses gaps in the existing web based tools and methods for information management Cross disciplinary e g information science information systems computer science business and records management Addresses topical issues in web information management such as content management e records readiness e government portals and intranets open source software emerging technologies WiMax Bluetooth etc Targets audience in tertiary education government business and industry      Kenya National Bibliography Kenya National Library Service. National Reference & Bibliographic Dept, 1997      Regional Financial Integration in Africa: Cross-listings as a Form of Regional Financial Integration Moses Wisdom Chisadza, 2014-02 This book looks at contemporary issues facing financial markets in Southern Africa It has been established that African stock markets are confronted with a multitude of problems which include inadequate liquidity low capitalisation few market participants a small number of listed companies and low trading volumes As a result their broader economic impact has so far been limited The Southern Africa Development Community SADC stock markets with the exception of South Africa are small both in terms of the number of listed companies and market capitalisation and they display considerable illiquidity In general the SADC region has shallow and underdeveloped financial markets Their development has been hampered by a number of factors which include political and economic uncertainty fiscal dominance weak judicial institutions limited investment opportunities in the private sector technological constraints and the shortage of skilled personnel with expertise in banking and finance

Reflections on Education in East Africa Sorobea Nyachio Bogonko, 1992 Translating Transgressive Texts Pauline Henry-Tierney, 2023-12-22 Through close examination of references to gender identity female sexuality and corporeality this book is the first of its kind to shed light on the complexities of translating the recent transgressive turn in contemporary women's writing in French Via four case studies namely the translations into English of Nelly Arcan's Putain 2001 Catherine Millet's La Vie sexuelle de Catherine M 2001 Nancy Huston's Infrarouge 2010 and Nina Bouraoui's Garçon manqué 2000 this book explores how transgressive topoi such as prostitution anorexia matrophobia rape female desire and transgenderism are translated The book considers how auto-fictional female selves portrayed are displaced by translation at both a textual and paratextual level Combining feminist phenomenological perspectives on female lived experience with feminist translation theory this interdisciplinary study offers an insight into how the experiential is brought into language how it journeys via language into new cultural contexts via translation and creates a dialogical space in which the subjectivities of those involved author narrator protagonist translator become open to the porosity of encounters with alterity The volume will appeal to scholars in translation studies French Studies and gender and sexuality studies particularly those interested in feminist translation and literary translation The Weekly Review, 1992 Selling the Story Jonathan Paine, 2019-08-06 A literary scholar and investment banker applies economic criticism to canonical novels dramatically changing the way we read these classics and proposing a new model for how economics can inform literary analysis Every writer is a player in the marketplace for literature Jonathan Paine locates the economics ingrained within the stories themselves revealing how a text provides a record of its author's attempt to sell the story to his or her readers An unusual literary scholar with a background in finance Paine mines stories for evidence of the conditions of their production Through his wholly original reading Balzac's The Splendors and Miseries of Courtesans becomes a secret diary of its author's struggles to cope with the commercializing influence of serial publication in newspapers The Brothers Karamazov transforms into a story of Dostoevsky's sequential bets with his readers present and future about how to write a novel Zola's Money documents the rise of big business and is itself a product of Zola's own big business his factory of novels Combining close readings with detailed analyses of the nineteenth century publishing contexts in which prose fiction first became a product Selling the Story shows how the business of literature affects even literary devices such as genre plot and repetition Paine argues that no book can be properly understood without reference to its point of sale the author's knowledge of the market of reader expectations and of his or her own efforts to define and achieve literary value
