

which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation. ¶

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, — That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security. — Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world. ¶

- He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good. ¶
- He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them. ¶
- He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right inestimable to them and inaccessible to tyrants only. ¶

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures. ¶

He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people. ¶

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected, whereby the Legislative powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise, the State remaining in the mean time exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and confusion within. ¶

Cheung, Victor S.K. Lee, Ronghuai Huang, 2010-07-30 This book constitutes the proceedings of the Third International Conference on Hybrid Learning ICHL 2010 held in Beijing China in August 2010 The 50 contributions presented in this volume were carefully reviewed and selected from 225 submissions In addition two keynote talks are included in this book The topics covered are interactive hybrid learning systems content management for hybrid learning pedagogical and psychological issues outcome based teaching and learning instructional design issues experiences in hybrid learning improved flexibility of learning processes computer supported collaborative learning assessment strategies for hybrid learning and organisational frameworks and institutional policies Developing Faculty Learning Communities at Two-Year Colleges Susan Sipple, Robin Lightner, 2023-07-03 This book introduces community college faculty and faculty developers to the use of faculty learning communities FLCs as a means for faculty themselves to investigate and surmount student learning problems they encounter in their classrooms and as an effective and low cost strategy for faculty developers working with few resources to stimulate innovative teaching that leads to student persistence and improved learning outcomes Two year college instructors face the unique challenge of teaching a mix of learners from the developmental to high achievers that requires using a variety of instructional strategies and techniques Even the most experienced teachers can find this diversity demanding Faculty developers at many two year colleges still rely solely on the one day workshop model that while useful rarely results in sustained student centered changes in pedagogy or the curriculum and may not be practicable for the growing cohort of part time faculty members By linking work in the classroom with scholarship and reflection FLCs provide participants with a sense of renewed engagement and stimulate collegial exploration of ways to achieve educational excellence FLCs are usually faculty instigated and cross disciplinary and comprise groups of six to fifteen faculty that work collaboratively through regular meetings over an extended period of time to promote research and an exchange of experiences foster community and develop the scholarship of teaching FLCs alleviate burnout and isolation promote the development testing and peer review of new classroom strategies or technologies and lead to the reenergizing and professionalization of teachers This book introduces the reader to FLCs and to the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning offering examples of application in two year colleges Individual chapters describe among others an FLC set up to support course redesign an Adjunct Connectivity FLC to integrate part time faculty within a department and collaborate on the curriculum a cross disciplinary FLC to promote student self regulated learning and improve academic performance and persistence a critical thinking FLC that sought to define critical thinking in separate disciplines examine interdisciplinary cross over of critical thinking and measure critical thinking more accurately an FLC that researched the transfer of learning and developed strategies to promote students application of their learning across courses and beyond the classroom Each chapter describes the formation of its FLC the processes it engaged in what worked and did not and the outcomes achieved Just as when college faculty fail to remain current in their fields the failure to engage in continuing development of teaching skills will equally lead teaching and learning to suffer When two year college administrators restrain scholarship and reflection as inappropriate for the real work of the institution they are in fact hindering the professionalization of their teaching force that is essential to institutional mission and student success When FLCs are supported by leaders and administrators and faculty learn that collaboration and peer review are valued and even expected as part of being a teaching professional they become intrinsically motivated and committed to collaboratively solving problems setting the institution on a path to becoming a learning organization that is proactive and adept at navigating change
