Great Source Aim Pennsylvania, 2002-01-01 Value-added Assessment in Practice Daniel F. McCaffrey, Laura S. Hamilton, 2007. Value added assessment VAA systems use statistical techniques to analyze test score data. VAA data is intended to help educators make more informed decisions about curriculum and instruction. The authors examined the rollout of Pennsylvania's VAA program and found that in its pilot phase the program had little effect on student achievement and received limited use by most principals and teachers at schools participating in the program.

Policy, Leadership, and Student Achievement C. Kent McGuire, Vivian W. Ikpa, 2008-09-01. This is the second book in the series examining student achievement. The chapters in this book reflect the scholarly papers presented at the July 2006 Education Policy Leadership Summer Institute (EPLSI) by K-16 educators, researchers, community advocates, and policymakers who work in urban communities. The Institute serves as a place where individuals interested in scholarly discussions and research directly related to:

1. how data can be utilized to inform policy
2. examining the urban school context from the perspectives of the policy school leaders, students, and other related internal and external actors, and
3. identifying strategies for improving student academic achievement can gather. During this week long Institute participants examined the structural problems and policy tensions affecting urban communities and student achievement. The Institute's theme, Meeting the Challenges of Urban Schools, is reflected throughout this book. Specifically, this edition explores the interrelated aspects of policy, practice, and research and how they affect academic achievement. The five sections in this book examine different challenges facing urban schools and their impact on student performance.

School Social Work JoAnn Jarolmen, Cindy Bautista-Thomas, 2022-10-12. The foundations of working with vulnerable populations are a vital part of understanding the nuances and complexities of working with children and adolescents in today's educational environments. In the updated Second Edition School Social Work: A Direct Practice Guide, combines critical thinking and evidence-based interventions in the context of global issues, special education, and current societal issues affecting children today. The authors provide hands-on experiences, best practice approaches, and case examples throughout the book to demonstrate assessments and techniques in a culturally responsive and diverse school setting. Each chapter includes in-depth activities and self-reflection and class discussion questions that allow school social workers to thoughtfully apply their growing skills and knowledge to ethical dilemmas and real-life situations in schools.

Excellence Through Equity Alan M. Blankstein, Pedro Noguera, Lorena Kelly, 2016-02-26. Excellence Through Equity is an inspiring look at how real-world educators are creating schools where all students are able to thrive. In these schools, educators understand that equity is not about treating all children the same. They are deeply committed to ensuring that each student receives what he or she individually needs to develop their full potential and succeed. To help educators with what can at times be a difficult and challenging journey, Blankstein and Noguera frame the book with five guiding principles of Courageous Leadership: Getting to your core, Making organizational meaning, Ensuring constancy and consistency of purpose, Facing the facts and your fears, Building sustainable relationships. They further emphasize that the practices are grounded in three important areas of research that are too often disregarded: 1. child development, 2. neuroscience, and 3. environmental influences on child development and learning. You'll hear from Carol Corbett Burris, Michael Fullan, Marcus J. Newsome, Paul Reville, Susan Szachowicz, and other bold practitioners and visionary thinkers who share compelling and actionable ideas, strategies, and experiences for closing the achievement gap in your classrooms and school. Ensuring that all students receive an education that cultivates their talents and potential is in all our common interest. As Andy Hargreaves writes in the coda, "The opportunity for all Americans is to articulate and believe in an inspiring vision of educational change that is about what the next generation of America and Americans should become, not about a target or ranking that the nation should attain."
