Second Grade Math Common Core Pacing Guide:

Teaching to the Math Common Core State Standards F. D. Rivera, 2014-02-05 This is a methods book for elementary majors and preservice beginning elementary teachers It takes a very practical approach to learning to teach elementary school mathematics in an emerging Age of the Common Core State Standards The Common Core State Standards in Mathematics CCSSM is not meant to be the official mathematics curriculum it was purposefully developed primarily to provide clear learning expectations of mathematics content that are appropriate at every grade level and to help prepare all students to be ready for college and the workplace A quick glance at the Table of Contents in this book indicates a serious engagement with the recommended mathematics underlying the kindergarten through grade 5 portions of the CCSSM first with issues in content practice assessment learning teaching and classroom management pursued next and in that order In this book we explore what it means to teach to the CCSSM within an alignment mindset involving content practice learning teaching and assessment The CCSSM content standards which pertain to mathematical knowledge skills and applications have been carefully crafted so that they are teachable learnable coherent fewer clearer and higher The practice standards which refer to institutionally valued mathematical actions processes and habits have been conceptualized in ways that will hopefully encourage all elementary students to engage with the content standards more deeply than merely acquiring mathematical knowledge by rote and imitation Thus in the CCSSM proficiency in content alone is not sufficient and so does practice without content which is limited Content and practice are both equally important and thus must come together in teaching learning and assessment in order to support authentic mathematical understanding This blended multisourced text is a getting smart book It helps elementary majors and preservice beginning elementary teachers work within the realities of accountable pedagogy and develop a proactive disposition that is capable of supporting all elementary students in order for them to experience growth in mathematical understanding necessary for middle school and beyond including future careers

Elementary School Teachers' Mathematics Instructional Decision Making in the Context of District Mandates on Instruction Heather Anne Martin, 2008 In the current educational climate teachers in low performing schools are experiencing pressure from state and district policy makers to raise student performance on state tests Some district administrations have undertaken various measures including implementing numerous and specific mathematics content standards adopting particular curricular packages and requiring teachers to use them as their primary instructional materials and even creating pacing guides with uniform timelines for presenting lessons to students These efforts have had the cumulative effect of urging teachers to stick closely to a standard curriculum in order to raise student test scores Teachers must also interpret and attend to the needs of their students and ideally teach their students to understand mathematical concepts and processes as opposed to narrowly mastering procedural skills It may not always be possible to both follow administrative mandates about instruction and meet student needs and teachers may have to make a compromise between these two objectives In this study I examined how elementary school teachers in a particular accountability pressured school decided to teach mathematics Drawing on multiple interviews and ten classroom observations per teacher I created portraits of the mathematics instructional choices of four second grade teachers including their use of instructional materials such as textbooks I drew on an analytical framework adapted from Stein Grover and Henningsen 1996 to assess various features of the lesson in order to note the interaction between the materials and the teachers decisions about how to use them I developed a lesson signature for each teacher a visual representation of the typical organization of the teacher s lessons and how materials were used within them My findings indicated that the teachers individual goals for their teaching beliefs about their students needs and interpretations of the district s curricular mandates interacted to steer their instructional choices to very different results Two of the teachers dutifully followed the textbook while two essentially disregarded it in favor of other materials Teachers own senses of their autonomy to make curricular decisions and their support for their students autonomy in learning math emerged as important factors I suggest implications for teacher professional development and curricular materials development
