From the beginning horror has been part of the cinema landscape. Despite some of the earliest genre films with gay directors such as F. W. Murnau's Nosferatu and James Whale's Frankenstein, LGBTQIA characters have rarely been portrayed in full view. For decades filmmakers have included coded content in their films with the homosexual experience translated into censor-friendly subtext for consumption by general audiences. Gradually LGBTQIA characters and themes have moved from the background to the foreground as the horror genre has grown along with its audience's tastes and attitudes. Likewise more and more LGBTQIA writers and directors have begun to offer their queer-centric takes on scary movies and today queer horror is a thriving film genre. With more than 900 entries, this critical filmography is a comprehensive critical yet playful examination of the history of LGBTQIA content in horror films. Eight journalistic contributors dig into every era of scary movies including the early silents pre and post Hays Code content, grindhouse sleaze, LGBTQIA indies, and megaplex studio releases. From Whale's The Old Dark House (1932) to Don Mancini's Chucky films and everything in between, this collection explores what can be found at the intersection of LGBTQIA and horror in the film industry.

Stories at the Edge of Time Alan Robbins, 2007-10. A family on the last starship finds that stories themselves may very well save a dying world. In one of those stories, a man dies of radio while another finds a new lease on life in an ancient dingus. A phone that can be used to call a few minutes into the future leads to unexpected turmoil. An android on trial for a murder may be the victim of a faulty linguistic circuit. A retired astronaut who cannot get his footing, the last librarian on earth, tales of a future ghetto where surprise is still a possibility, and a mathematician whose brilliant insight continually slips his mind. These are few of the themes to be found in this collection of mystery/science fiction tales in the speculative tradition of the satires of Kurt Vonnegut and the ironies of Jorge Luis Borges from the author of A Small Box of Chaos and the award-winning An Interlude in Dreamland.
