This report examines a grass roots movement for teacher diversity and development paraeducator pathways into teaching. The desire to recruit a more diverse pool of teachers for urban schools and critical shortage areas has spurred a renewed interest in paraprofessional career opportunity programs. The 149 paraeducator to teacher programs identified in a survey by Recruiting New Teachers are described in terms of program scope and purpose, a profile of participants overcoming barriers to participation, program models, recruiting, evaluating and tracing participants, program budget and administration and outlook. Sources of support for paraeducator to teacher programs include foundations, federal and state sponsorship and teacher unions and paraprofessional associations. The study suggests that the paraeducator to teacher programs are an important influence in diversifying the teacher workforce, can be an important link between schools and communities and can raise skill levels and earning power of their participants. A substantial bibliography is included. The appendices include profiles of nine programs, study methodology, presentation of data from the program survey, strategies to help paraeducators surmount barriers to career advancement and workshop topics for staff.

Disrupting and Countering Deficits in Early Childhood Education Fikile Nxumalo, Christopher P. Brown, 2019-08-15. This powerful edited collection disrupts the deficit oriented discourses that currently frame the field of early childhood education (ECE) and illuminates avenues for critique and opportunities for change. Researchers from across the globe offer their insight and expertise in challenging the logic within ECE that often frames children and their families through gaps, risks and deficits across such issues as poverty, language, developmental psychology, teaching and learning. Chapters propose practical responses to these manufactured crises and advocate for democratic practices and policies that enable ECE programs to build on the wealth of cultural and personal knowledge children and families bring to the early learning process. Moving beyond a dependence on deficits, this book offers opportunities for scholars, researchers and students to consider their practices in early education and develop their understanding of what it means to be an educator who seeks to support all children.
