Jerome,2008-10-18 Occasionally a friend will ask me some such question as this Do you prefer dark women or fair Another will say Do you like tall women or short A third Do you think light hearted women or serious the more agreeable company I find myself in the position that once upon a time overtook a certain charming young lady of taste who was asked by an anxious parent the years mounting and the family expenditure not decreasing which of the numerous and eligible young men then paying court to her she liked the best She replied that was her difficulty She could not make up her mind which she liked the best They were all so nice She could not possibly select one to the exclusion of all the others What she would have liked would have been to marry the lot but that she presumed was impracticable I feel I resemble that young lady not so much perhaps in charm and beauty as indecision of mind when questions such as the above are put to me It is as if one were asked one s favourite food      Second Thoughts of an Idle Fellow Jerome K. Jerome,2018-07-08 Second Thoughts of an Idle Fellow by Jerome Klapka Jerome We laugh at her but are we so very much better Come my superior male friend have you never stood amid your wardrobe undecided whether in her eyes you would appear more imposing clad in the rough tweed suit that so admirably displays your broad shoulders or in the orthodox black frock that after all is perhaps more suitable to the figure of a man approaching let us say the nine and twenties Or better still why not riding costume Did we not hear her say how well Jones looked in his top boots and breeches and hang it all we have a better leg than Jones What a pity riding breeches are made so baggy nowadays Why is it that male fashions tend more and more to hide the male leg As women have become less and less ashamed of theirs we have become more and more reticent of ours We are delighted to publish this classic book as part of our extensive Classic Library collection Many of the books in our collection have been out of print for decades and therefore have not been accessible to the general public The aim of our publishing program is to facilitate rapid access to this vast reservoir of literature and our view is that this is a significant literary work which deserves to be brought back into print after many decades The contents of the vast majority of titles in the Classic Library have been scanned from the original works To ensure a high quality product each title has been meticulously hand curated by our staff Our philosophy has been guided by a desire to provide the reader with a book that is as close as possible to ownership of the original work We hope that you will enjoy this wonderful classic work and that for you it becomes an enriching experience The Second
