Scott, James I. Livingston, 2008 This new book focuses on the that latest research gains in the field of educational technology which is a creative blending of idea and product technologies with subject matter content in order to engender and improve teaching and learning processes

Educational technology is often associated with the terms instructional technology or learning technology. Product technologies are tangible, for example, computer hardware or software. Idea technologies are cognitive frameworks or schemes, for example, the Multiple Intelligence Theory proposed by Howard Gardner. When products are thoughtfully blended with subject matter content such as mathematics or science concepts for a specific audience in a specific educational context such as a school, one is using educational technology. The words educational and technology in the term educational technology have the general meaning. Educational technology is not restricted to the education of children nor to the use of high technology.

We live at a time that not only witnesses an increase in Chinese American leaders on U.S. campuses but also mounting incidents of discriminatory treatment of this group. This book showcases 36 stories and reflections from past, present, and future leaders, including the five previously published stories.
