The mediated Arctic Johannes Riquet, 2024-09-24 The mediated Arctic analyses the multiple relations between geography and cultural production that have long shaped and are currently transforming the circumpolar world. It explores how twenty-first century cultural practitioners imagine and poeticise various elements of Arctic geography and in doing so negotiate pressing environmental, geo-political and social concerns. From the plasmatic force of ice in Disney's Frozen films to the spatial vocabulary of circumpolar Indigenous hip hop, it addresses Arctic geographical imaginaries in a wide range of media including literature, cinema, comic books, music, videos and cartographic art. The book brings together a plurality of voices from within and outside the circumpolar North, both in terms of the works analysed and in its own collaborative scholarly practice. The book bridges Indigenous and Southern mediations of the Arctic and combines different epistemologies to do justice to these imaginaries in their diversity.

Connecting Past and Present Aaron M. Kahn, 2015-10-05 In this volume experts on the Spanish Golden Age from the United Kingdom Ireland and the United States offer analyses of contemporary works that have been influenced by the classics from the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries Part of the formation of a sense of national identity always a problematic concept in Spain is founded in the recognition and appreciation of what has come beforehand and no other era in the history of Spanish literature and drama represents the talent and fascination that Spaniards and non Spaniards alike possess with the artistic legacy of this country In order to establish properly a context for the study of literature or history one cannot always study the works writers or era in isolation rather performing scholarly studies on these topics as a continuation of what has come before reveals that many thoughts concepts character types criticisms and social issues have been thoroughly explored by our literary ancestors This era is referred to as the Golden Age not only because of the voluminous production of art literature drama and poetry but also because writers such as Miguel de Cervantes Lope de Vega and Pedro Calder n de la Barca influenced by the re birth of the Classical masters presented the reading and viewing public with genuine human emotions and experiences in a more comprehensive manner than in previous eras In the twentieth century Spain faced a series of political crises the Spanish Civil War 1936 39 and the Franco Dictatorship 1939 75 followed by the Transition and the concept of historical memory have provided contemporary Spanish writers with the impetus and freedom to express their views A frequent source of inspiration has been the Golden Age that epoch of history that produced such political and religious upheaval and this book explores the manner in which contemporary Spaniards have reached into the past to connect with their present world

The Routledge Handbook of Identity and the Environment in the Classical and Medieval Worlds Rebecca Futo Kennedy, Molly Jones-Lewis, 2016-01-08 The Routledge Handbook of Identity and the Environment in the Classical and Medieval Worlds explores how environment was thought to shape ethnicity and identity discussing developments in early natural philosophy and historical ethnographies Defining environment broadly to include not only physical but also cultural environments natural and constructed the volume considers the multifarious ways in which environment was understood to shape the culture and physical characteristics of peoples as well as how the ancients manipulated their environments to achieve a desired identity This diverse collection includes studies not only of the Greco Roman world but also ancient China and the European Jewish and Arab inheritors and transmitters of classical thought In recent years work in this subject has been confined mostly to the discussion of texts that reflect an approach to the barbarian as other The Routledge Handbook of Identity and the Environment in the Classical and Medieval Worlds takes the discussion of ethnicity on a fresh course contextualising the concept of the barbarian within rational discourses such as cartography medicine and mathematical sciences an approach that allows us to more clearly discern the varied and nuanced approaches to ethnic identity which abounded in antiquity The innovative and thought provoking material in this volume realises new directions in the study of identity in the Classical and Medieval worlds
