PGT Philosophy Question Bank Chapterwise - for PGT Teachers Mocktime Publication, PGT Philosophy Question Bank Chapterwise for PGT Teachers Facts, Values and Objectivity in Economics José Castro Caldas,Vitor Neves,2012-03-22 Is Economics an objective or positive science independent of ethical and political positions The financial crisis that began in 2007 gave rise to renewed doubts regarding the objectivity of economics and brought into the public arena a debate that was previously confined to academia A remarkable feature of the public debate on the value neutrality of economics since then was that it not only involved indictments of ideological biases in economic theory but also the attribution of the crisis itself to the unethical orientation of economic agents of economists acting as experts and of economic science itself The contributors to this volume believe that economists of all persuasions are once again compelled to probe the normative foundations of their discipline and give a public account of their doubts and conclusions Economics of Good and Evil Tomas Sedlacek,2011-07-01 Tomas Sedlacek has shaken the study of economics as few ever have Named one of the Young Guns and one of the five hot minds in economics by the Yale Economic Review he serves on the National Economic Council in Prague where his provocative writing has achieved bestseller status How has he done it By arguing a simple almost heretical proposition economics is ultimately about good and evil In The Economics of Good and Evil Sedlacek radically rethinks his field challenging our assumptions about the world Economics is touted as a science a value free mathematical inquiry he writes but it s actually a cultural phenomenon a product of our civilization It began within philosophy Adam Smith himself not only wrote The Wealth of Nations but also The Theory of Moral Sentiments and economics as Sedlacek shows is woven out of history myth religion and ethics Even the most sophisticated mathematical model Sedlacek writes is de facto a story a parable our effort to rationally grasp the world around us Economics not only describes the world but establishes normative standards identifying ideal conditions Science he claims is a system of beliefs to which we are committed To grasp the beliefs underlying economics he breaks out of the field s confines with a tour de force exploration of economic thinking broadly defined over the millennia He ranges from the epic of Gilgamesh and the Old Testament to the emergence of Christianity from Descartes and Adam Smith to the consumerism in Fight Club Throughout he asks searching meta economic questions What is the meaning and the point of economics Can we do ethically all that we can do technically Does it pay to be good Placing the wisdom of philosophers and poets over strict mathematical models of human behavior Sedlacek s groundbreaking work promises to change the way we calculate economic value A PLATO Course in Reading Sumerian Cuneiform Economic Texts: Course ,1979 , Articulations of Nature and Politics in Plato and Hegel Vicky Roupá,2020-09-03 Hegel and Plato are towering figures in the history of philosophy but often readers puzzle over what they are saying There are very few books that deal with them clearly and intelligently Hardly any that do so jointly This book is exceptional in offering a clear scholarly and intelligent guide to their work It focuses upon how

Plato and Hegel deal with nature While recognising the subtlety of Plato and Hegel on nature Vicky Roupia establishes a nuanced yet clear exposition of their thought The bonus is that the book is written in a highly readable style This is a great book Gary Browning Professor of Political Thought Oxford Brookes University This book examines nature as a foundational concept for political and constitutional theory drawing on readings from Plato and Hegel to counter the view that optimal political arrangements are determined by nature Focussing on the dialectical implications of the word nature i e how it encompasses a range of meanings stretching up to the opposites of sensuousness and ideality the book explores the various junctures at which nature and politics interlock in the philosophies of Plato and Hegel Appearance and essence inner life and public realm the psychical and the political are all shown to be parts of a conflictual structure that requires both infinite proximity and irreducible distance The book offers innovative interpretations of a number of key texts by Plato and Hegel to highlight the metaphysical and political implications of nature s dialectical structure and re appraises their thinking of nature in a way that both respects and goes beyond their intentions

Stackhouse, 1995-09-05 An invaluable resources for the study of the relation of business economics ethics and religion Behavioural Economics and Business Ethics Philip Alexander Rajko, 2013-03-01 Economics and moral philosophy have in recent years been considered to be distinct and separate fields. However, behavioural economics has started to reconcile various aspects of morality and economics which has offered new conceptual opportunities to advance economics ethics and business ethics. This book aims to advance economic ethics and business ethics by combining normative principles and empirical evidence grounded on the key motivational forces in economic decision making. It has three core objectives: to assess order ethics as a theory of both economic ethics and business ethics using behavioural economics methods and evidence to identify cardinal virtues for modern business ethics; to set up valuable guidelines for the implementation of economic ethics and business ethics. PGT Political Science Question Bank Chapterwise - for PGT Teachers Mocktime Publication, PGT Political Science Question Bank Chapterwise for PGT Teachers Values and Economic Theory S. A. Drakopoulos, 1991 This study aims to show that contrary to popular belief, hedonism has played a central and continuous role in the development of economic theory. The work starts with a brief discussion of the nature and meaning of hedonism. This is supplemented with a short examination of the origins of hedonistic ideas. Sections deal with the systematic appearance of hedonistic ideas in modern thought and its subsequent introduction to the field of economics with the work of Bentham, Mill, Senior and Cairnes; the attempts to downplay hedonism as found in the work of Wicksteed, Pareto and Fisher; the modern attempts towards a neutral economic science without psychological or philosophical connotations; the works of Robbins, Hicks, Samuelson as well as the current developments in economic theory and especially in consumer theory; a discussion of alternative economic approaches which stem from non-hedonistic paradigms: Adam Smith, Marx, Keynes, Institutionalists and Post Keynesian economists as examples of non-hedonistically orientated economists; the methodological issues arising from the connection of a value system, hedonism, with economic theory. Knowledge and Persuasion in Economics Deirdre N. McCloskey, 1994-05-05 Is economics a science? Deirdre McCloskey says Yes, but Yes, economics measures and predicts, but like other sciences it uses literary methods too. Economists use stories as geologists do and metaphors as physicists do. The result is that the sciences, economics among them, must be read as rhetoric in the sense of writing with intent. McCloskey's books The Rhetoric of Economics (1985) and If You're So Smart (1990) have been widely discussed. In Knowledge and Persuasion in Economics he converses with his critics, suggesting that they too can gain from knowing their rhetoric. The humanistic and mathematical approaches to economics, says McCloskey, fit together in a new interpretive economics. Along the way he places economics within the sciences, examines the role of mathematics in the field, replies to critics from the left, right and centre, and shows how economics can again take a leading place in the conversation of humankind. Educational Theory (RLE Edu K) Terence Moore, 2012-05-04 This book comes strongly to the defence of educational theory and shows that it has a structure and integrity of its own. The author argues that the validity of educational theory may best be judged in terms of the various assumptions made in it. His argument is illustrated by a review and critique of some particularly influential theories of education those of Plato Rousseau James Mill and John Dewey He stresses the need for an on going contemporary general theory of education and examines the ways in which the disciplines of psychology sociology and philosophy can contribute to a general theory of this kind

University of Edinburgh,1897 Nietzsche's New Darwinism John Richardson,2004-10-14 Nietzsche wrote in a scientific culture transformed by Darwin He read extensively in German and British Darwinists and his own works dealt often with such obvious Darwinian themes as struggle and evolution Yet most of what Nietzsche said about Darwin was hostile he sharply attacked many of his ideas and often slurred Darwin himself as mediocre So most readers of Nietzsche have inferred that he must have cast Darwin quite aside But in fact John Richardson argues Nietzsche was deeply and pervasively influenced by Darwin He stressed his disagreements but was silent about several core points he took over from Darwin Moreover Richardson claims these Darwinian borrowings were to Nietzsche s credit when we bring them to the surface we discover his positions to be much stronger than we had thought Even Nietzsche s radical innovations are more plausible when we expose their Darwinian ground we see that they amount to a new Darwinism The book s four chapters show how four of Nietzsche s most problematic ideas benefit from this Darwinian setting These are his claim that life is will to power his insistence that his values are higher yet also just his his disturbing ethics of selfishness and politics of inequality and his elevation of aesthetic over moral values Richardson argues that each of these Nietzschean ideas has a clearer and stronger sense when set on the scientific ground he takes from Darwin NCERT Political Science Class 11 Dr. J. C.
