Evaluation

Methodologies for Aid in Conflict Ole Winckler Andersen, Beate Bull, Megan Kennedy-Chouane, 2013-12-13 Knowledge and rigorous evidence around the role of external development partners in situations of conflict and fragility is still lacking There is little accountability for the billions in aid being spent in places like Afghanistan Iraq and the Democratic Republic of Congo This book analyses evaluation theory and practice in order to help fill this knowledge gap and advocates a realistic and rigorous approach to evaluating international engagement Through a series of case studies this book highlights both the promise and potential pitfalls of taking a more evaluative approach to understanding aid in conflict regions These illustrate the methodological and analytical approach taken by researchers working to understand the results and effectiveness of conflict prevention and peacebuilding support While well grounded in current theoretical and methodological debates the book provides valuable practical information by examining how and why different choices were made in the context of each evaluation The book shows what future steps may be envisaged to further strengthen evaluations of support for conflict prevention and peacebuilding The analysis draws on a wealth of perspectives and voices to provide researchers and students in development studies and conflict and peace studies as well as development evaluators with a deep and broad understanding of evaluation methods and approaches

Emissions, Pollutants and Environmental Policy in China Bo Miao, 2013-09-02 As the world's biggest polluter the environmental challenges that China faces in controlling its airborne emissions are crucial not only to its own population in terms of tackling the severe domestic air pollution but also to the planet as it faces calls from the international community to accept its responsibilities in cutting greenhouse gases Deteriorating air quality clearly shows that China's current environmental regime is unsuited to either tackle the rampant domestic air pollution or contribute fairly to international climate action As such this book explores the feasibility of applying a national emissions trading system to control multiple air pollutants in China It begins with an outline of the existing emissions management system and goes on to explore whether a national emissions trading system is a viable choice to combat China's conventional air pollutants To this end there is an in depth analysis of the two pilot sulphur dioxide emissions trading programs in Taiyuan and Jiangsu as well as an examination of emissions trading schemes in the US and EU Finally the book discusses the key design elements of a multi pollutant cap and trade scheme that addresses both conventional air pollutants and greenhouse gasses This book will be of great interest to students and scholars interested in the fields of environmental studies Chinese politics and environmental law It will also be invaluable to policy makers in the field

Structural Change, Competitiveness and Industrial Policy Aurora Teixeira, Ester Silva, Ricardo Mamede, 2014-06-20 The onset of the global crisis has emphasised the persistence of substantial differences in development and social progress within the euro area The specific case of countries located in the southern periphery region has come to the centre stage due to the harsh economic conditions that all these countries have experienced in the recent past In the aftermath of the American subprime credit bubble these countries high indebtedness raised doubts as to their ability to sustain public finances with the financial crisis developing and gaining momentum due to the fragilities presented in the economy To varying degrees of severity all of these economies have since been forced to introduce strong fiscal tightening programmes in order to achieve fiscal consolidation which have translated into recession and rising unemployment This book undertakes a comprehensive analysis of the causes of the crisis in southern European countries showing that the Achilles heel of these economies is rooted in the dismal evolution of productivity and in a specialisation pattern excessively based on the so called traditional low and low medium tech industries which yield low margins declining export shares and ultimately withering international competitiveness Such evidence suggests that the southern European periphery industrial growth model has reached its limits demanding a multidimensional policy approach capable of overcoming the magnitude and complexity of the present crisis Without denying the need to adjust public and private balance sheets it is argued that finding a sustainable path out of the present problems requires addressing the challenges of productivity growth and competitiveness in the long term

Climate Justice T. Thorp, 2014-08-28 In this ground breaking work Teresa Thorp tackles the causes and effects of climate injustice by methodically mapping out an approach by which to reach a negotiated consensus with legal force to protect present and future generations Using the law and policy of climate change as a vehicle for illustrating how to shape our future she comprehensively overturns the widely held contemporary view of climate justice as inconstant charitable acts relative systemic notions and static concepts isolated from the common good and a congruent rule of law Responding to the adverse impacts of climate change heat waves extended drought severe flooding and desertification which represent an urgent and potentially irreversible threat to human societies and the planet requires a new and cohesive way of thinking about global policy and the law The mission of guaranteeing and realising human dignity human security and human rights is multi fold Looking through the lens of kaleidoscopic normativity a nextensile language anchored in common juridical elements should facilitate how norms enter the socio legal frame and interact within it Users need to be able to display and interpret the congruent legal norm in order to obey and apply it Galvanising this process by constitutionalising first principles and consequential norms are vital for attaining fraternity between nations and among all people. Climate Justice: A Voice for the Future is an essential read for scholars, practitioners and all those genuinely interested in reaching consensus on a post 2015 global climate accord, a unified development agenda and a cohesive pact for disaster risk reduction.

Extended Urbanisation Christian Schmid, Milica Topalovic, 2023-10-24. Extended methods of analysis for urbanisation processes illustrated in eight world regions. Urbanisation processes are unfolding far beyond the realm of agglomerations, profoundly transforming agrarian areas, rain forests, deserts and oceans. Inextricably bound to the earth's ecologies, these developments are causing manifold planetary crises which require urgent scrutiny and call for new conceptions and cartographies of the urban beyond the city. Through detailed analysis and fieldwork captured in text, photographs and hand-drawn maps, the book portrays the effects of extended urbanisation in eight world regions. It offers a redefinition of the very notions of the city, urban and urbanisation and outlines new urban agendas developed to address planetary challenges. This book decenters the perspective on the urban, foregrounds urban struggle and transcends rural-urban and north-south divides. Fundamental book for urbanism studies. Redefinition of the terms city, urban and urbanisation. Analysis of urbanisation processes in eight world regions.

The book looks at the effects of IMF/ECB-led austerity policies in Europe.
