Three Day Road English Edition:

Re: Reading the Postmodern Robert David Stacey, 2010 Bringing together many of the country's most significant critics including several of the originators of postmodern thought in Canada this book marks a first step towards a history of Canadian postmodernism exploring the development of the idea of the postmodern debates about its meaning and its applicability to various genres of Canadian writing and charting its decline in recent years as a favoured critical trope book cover

Carnivalizing Reconciliation Hanna Teichler, 2021-10-15 Transitional justice and national inquiries may be the most established means for coming to terms with traumatic legacies but it is in the more subtle social and cultural processes of memory work that the pitfalls and promises of reconciliation are laid bare This book analyzes within the realms of literature and film recent Australian and Canadian attempts to reconcile with Indigenous populations in the wake of forced child removal As Hanna Teichler demonstrates their systematic emphasis on the subjectivity of the victim is problematic reproducing simplistic narratives and identities defined by victimization Such fictions of reconciliation venture beyond simplistic narratives and identities defined by victimization offering new opportunities for confronting painful histories

National Plots Andrea Cabajsky, Brett Josef Grubisic, 2010-10-04 Fiction that reconsiders challenges reshapes and upholds national narratives of history has long been an integral aspect of Canadian literature Works by writers of historical fiction from early practitioners such as John Richardson to contemporary figures such as Alice Munro and George Elliott Clarke propose new views and understandings of Canadian history and individual relationships to it Critical evaluation of these works sheds light on the complexity of these depictions The contributors in National Plots Historical Fiction and Changing Ideas of Canada critically examine texts with subject matter ranging from George Vancouver's west coast explorations to the eradication of the Beothuk in Newfoundland Reflecting diverse methodologies and theoretical approaches the essays seek to explicate depictions of the historical in individual texts and to explore larger questions relating to historical fiction as a genre with complex and divergent political motivations and goals Although the topics of the essays vary widely as a whole the collection raises and answers questions about the significance of the roles historical fiction has played within Canadian culture for nearly two centuries

New Soundings in Postcolonial Writing Janet Wilson, Chris Ringrose, 2016-08-29 New Soundings in Postcolonial Writing is a collection of critical and creative writing in honour of the postcolonial critic editor and anthologist Bruce King There are essays on topics relating to Caribbean authors Derek Walcott Simone and Andre Schwarz Bart diaspora writers in England Zadie Smith Andrea Levy Michael Ondaatje South East Asian writing in English Arun Kolatkar recent Pakistani fiction Anita Desai and New Zealand Canadian and Pacific writers Albert Wendt Patricia Grace Bill Manhire Joseph Boyden Greg O'Brien The creative writing section features new work by David Dabydeen Fred D Aguiar Arvind Mehrotra Jeet Thayil Meena Alexander Keki Daruwalla Adil Jussawalla Tabish Khair Susan Visvanathan and others reflecting King's pioneering work on Indian poetry in English and his many friendships

Recruiting News ,1933 U.S. Army Recruiting News United States. Adjutant-General's Office,1933 Catching the Torch Neta Gordon,2014-03-25 Catching the Torch examines contemporary novels and plays written about Canada's participation in World War I Exploring such works as Jane Urquhart's The Underpainter and The Stone Carvers Jack Hodgins's Broken Ground Kevin Kerr's Unity 1918 Stephen Massicotte's Mary's Wedding and Frances Itani's Deafening the book considers how writers have dealt with the compelling myth that the Canadian nation was born in the trenches of the Great War In contrast to British and European remembrances of WWI which tend to regard it as a cataclysmic destroyer of innocence or Australian myths that promote an ideal of outsize masculinity physical bravery and white superiority contemporary Canadian texts conjure up notions of distinctively Canadian values tolerance of ethnic difference the ability to do one's duty without complaint or arrogance and the inclination to show moral as well as physical courage Paradoxically Canadians are shown to decry the horrors of war while making use of its productive cultural effects Through a close analysis of the way sacrifice service and the commemoration of war are represented in these literary works Catching the Torch argues that iterations of a secure mythic notion of national identity one that is articulated via the representation of straightforward civic and military participation work to counter current anxieties about the stability of the nation state in particular anxieties about the failure of the ideal of a national character Sanctioned Ignorance Paul Martin,2013-10-15 Bilingual literary scholar builds bridges spanning institutional silos to found an inclusive literatures of Canada Teaching Representations of the First World War Debra Rae Cohen,Douglas Higbee,2017-07-01 Offers pedagogical techniques for teaching First World War literature in the college classroom including considerations of gender queerness modernism pacifism imperialism code switching children's books graphic novels community based learning the Middle East South Asia and the influenza pandemic Contains information on reference works and online resources Gives syllabus suggestions for undergraduate and graduate courses A New Companion to The Gothic David Punter,2012-02-20 The thoroughly expanded and updated New Companion to the Gothic provides a series of stimulating insights into Gothic writing its history and genealogy The addition of 12 new essays and a section on Global Gothic reflects the direction Gothic criticism has taken over the last decade Many of the original essays have been revised to reflect current debates Offers comprehensive coverage of criticism of the Gothic and of the various theoretical approaches it has inspired and spawned Features important and original essays by leading scholars in the field The editor is widely recognized as the founder of modern criticism of the Gothic The Palgrave Handbook to Horror Literature Kevin Corstorphine,Laura R. Kremmel,2018-11-07 This handbook examines the use of horror in storytelling from oral traditions through folklore and fairy tales to contemporary horror fiction Divided into sections that explore the origins and evolution of horror fiction the recurrent themes that can be seen in horror and ways of understanding horror through literary and cultural theory the text analyses why horror is so compelling and how we should interpret its presence in literature Chapters explore historical horror aspects including ancient mythology

medieval writing drama chapbooks the Gothic novel and literary Modernism and trace themes such as vampires children and animals in horror deep dark forests labyrinths disability and imperialism Considering horror via postmodern theory evolutionary psychology postcolonial theory and New Materialism this handbook investigates issues of gender and sexuality race censorship and morality environmental studies and literary versus popular fiction Canadian Gothic Cynthia Sugars, 2014-01-15 This book explores the Gothic tradition in Canadian literature by tracing a distinctive reworking of the British Gothic in Canada It traces the ways the Gothic genre was reinvented for a specifically Canadian context On the one hand Canadian writers expressed anxiety about the applicability of the British Gothic tradition to the colonies on the other they turned to the Gothic for its vitalising rather than unsettling potential After charting this history of Gothic infusion Canadian Gothic turns its attention to the body of Aboriginal and diasporic writings that respond to this discourse of national self invention from a post colonial perspective These counter narratives unsettle the naturalising force of this invented history rendering the sense of Gothic comfort newly strange The Canadian Gothic tradition has thus been a conflicted one which reimagines the Gothic as a form of cultural sustenance This volume offers an important reconsideration of the Gothic legacy in Canada Our War Paint Is Writers' Ink Adam Spry, 2018-02-15 For the Anishinaabeg the indigenous peoples of the Great Lakes literary writing has long been an important means of asserting their continued existence as a nation with its own culture history and sovereignty At the same time literature has also offered American writers a way to make the Anishinaabe Nation disappear often by relegating it to a distant past In this book Adam Spry puts these two traditions in conversation with one another showing how novels poetry and drama have been the ground upon which Anishinaabeg and Americans have clashed as representatives of two nations contentiously occupying the same land Focusing on moments of contact appropriation and exchange Spry examines a diverse range of texts in order to reveal a complex historical network of Native and non Native writers who read and adapted each other's work across the boundaries of nation culture and time By reconceiving the relationship between the United States and the Anishinaabeg as one of transnational exchange Our War Paint Is Writers' Ink offers a new methodology for the study of Native American literatures capable of addressing a long history of mutual cultural influence while simultaneously arguing for the legitimacy and continued necessity of indigenous nationhood In addition the author reexamines several critical assumptions about authenticity identity and nationhood itself that have become common wisdom in both Native American and US literary studies A Companion to American Gothic Charles L. Crow, 2013-09-10 A Companion to American Gothic features a collection of original essays that explore America's gothic literary tradition The largest collection of essays in the field of American Gothic Contributions from a wide variety of scholars from around the world The most complete coverage of theory major authors popular culture and non print media available Collaborating to Support All Learners in English, Social Studies, and Humanities Faye Brownlie, Leyton Schnellert, 2009-10-23 How can we help students develop the thinking skills they need to be successful learners How does this relate to deep learning of important concepts How can we engage and support diverse learners in inclusive classrooms where they develop understanding and thinking skills In this book Faye and Leyton explore these questions and offer classroom examples to help busy teachers develop communities where all students learn This book is written by two experienced educators who offer a welcoming and can do approach to the big ideas in education today In this book you will find insightful ways to teach diverse learners e g literature and information circles open ended strategies cooperative learning inquiry curriculum design frameworks e g universal design for learning UDL and backward design assessment for of and as learning lessons to help students develop deep learning and thinking skills in English Social Studies and Humanities excellent examples of theory and practice made accessible real school examples of collaboration teachers working together to create better learning opportunities for their students

The Red Atlantic Jace Weaver,2014 Red Atlantic American Indigenes and the Making of the Modern World 1000 1927

Reading Beyond the Book Danielle Fuller,DeNel Rehberg Sedo,2013 This volume offers the first critical analysis of mass reading events and the contemporary meanings of reading in the UK USA and Canada based on original interviews and surveys with readers and event organisers The authors interrogate the enduring attraction of an old technology for readers community organizers and government agencies exploring the social practices inspired by the sharing of books in public spaces and revealing the complex ideological investments made by readers cultural workers institutions and the mass media in the meanings of reading

Prizing Literature Gillian Roberts,2011-10-29 When Canadian authors win prestigious literary prizes from the Governor General s Literary Award to the Man Booker Prize they are celebrated not only for their achievements but also for contributing to this country s cultural capital Discussions about culture national identity and citizenship are particularly complicated when the honorees are immigrants like Michael Ondaatje Carol Shields or Rohinton Mistry Then there is the case of Yann Martel who is identified both as Canadian and as rootlessly cosmopolitan How have these writers identities been recalibrated in order to claim them as representative Canadians Prizing Literature is the first extended study of contemporary award winning Canadian literature and the ways in which we celebrate its authors Gillian Roberts uses theories of hospitality to examine how prize winning authors are variously received and honoured depending on their citizenship and the extent to which they represent Canadianness Prizing Literature sheds light on popular and media understandings of what it means to be part of a multicultural nation

Policy, Belief and Practice in the Secondary English Classroom Bethan Marshall,Simon Gibbons,Louise Hayward,Ernest Spencer,2020-05-28 Studies of comparative classroom practice in the teaching of secondary English are limited especially when it comes to exploration of the day to day practice of English teachers in the secondary classroom This book presents a case study analysis of secondary classroom practice in three countries Canada England and Scotland Each country has had different degrees of state involvement within the secondary English curriculum over the last twenty years England has had the highest degree of state involvement in that it has had several statutory national curricula and a variety of assessment regimes Scotland has had a non statutory curriculum and no national tests and Canada has had no national curriculum at all with education being determined at province level and each province varying its policies The research adopts a case study approach involving both classroom observation and interviews with teachers Through this the authors explore the impact of state involvement on the reality of what happens in secondary English classrooms The book invites readers to consider the applicability of the findings to their own contexts to examine their own practice in the light of this and to consider the nature of the relationships between policy personal belief and practice in the teaching of English

Re-Inventing the Postcolonial (in the) Metropolis Cecile Sandten, Annika Bauer, 2016-09-27 The notion of the postcolonial metropolis has gained prominence in the last two decades both within and beyond postcolonial studies Disciplines such as sociology and urban studies however have tended to focus on the economic inequalities class disparities and other structural and formative aspects of the postcolonial metropolises that are specific to Western conceptions of the city at large It is only recently that the depiction of postcolonial metropolises has been addressed in the writings of Suketu Mehta Chris Abani Amit Chaudhuri Salman Rushdie Aravind Adiga Helon Habila Sefi Atta and Zakes Mda among others Most of these works probe the urban specifics and physical and cultural topographies of postcolonial cities while highlighting their agential capacity to defy appropriate and abrogate the superimposition of theories of Western modernity and urbanism These ASNEL Papers are all concerned with the idea of the postcolonial in the metropolis from various disciplinary viewpoints as drawn from a great range of cityscapes spread out over five continents The essays explore on the one hand ideas of spatial subdivision and inequality political repression social discrimination economic exploitation and cultural alienation and on the other the possibility of transforming reinventing and reconfiguring the postcolonial condition in and through literary texts and visual narratives In this context the volume covers a broad spectrum of theoretical and thematic approaches to postcolonial and metropolitan topographies and their depictions in writings from Australia and New Zealand South Africa South Asia and greater Asia as well as the UK addressing issues such as modernity and market economies but also caste class and social and linguistic aspects At the same time they reflect on the postcolonial metropolis and postcolonialism in the metropolis by concentrating on an urban imaginary which turns on notions of spatial subdivision and inequality political repression social discrimination economic exploitation and cultural alienation as the continuing postcolonial condition
