Man Who Organized Nature Gunnar Broberg, 2025-05-20 A vivid portrait of the life and work of Carl Linnaeus Carl Linnaeus 1707 1778 known as the father of modern biological taxonomy formalized and popularized the system of binomial nomenclature used to classify plants and animals Linnaeus himself classified thousands of species the simple and immediately recognizable abbreviation L is used to mark classifications originally made by Linnaeus This biography by the leading authority on Linnaeus offers a vivid portrait of Linnaeus's life and work Drawing on a wide range of previously unpublished sources including diaries and personal correspondence as well as new research it presents revealing and original accounts of his family life the political context in which he pursued his work and his eccentric views on sexuality The Man Who Organized Nature describes Linnaeus's childhood in a landscape of striking natural beauty and how this influenced his later work Linnaeus's Lutheran pastor father knowledgeable about plants and an enthusiastic gardener helped foster an early interest in botany The book examines the political connections that helped Linnaeus secure patronage for his work and untangles his ideas about sexuality These were not as often assumed an attempt to naturalize gender categories but more likely reflected the laissez faire attitudes of the era Linnaeus like many other brilliant scientists could be moody and egotistical the book describes his human failings as well as his medical and scientific achievements Written in an engaging and accessible style The Man Who Organized Nature provides new and fascinating insights into the life of one of history s most consequential and enigmatic scientists The Harvard Lampoon ,1894 Kissed By Alexandra Chasin,2007

Alexandra Chasin is a hugely brave writer She dares to push the extremes of style while daring to push the extremes of emotion Jonathan Safran Foer Alexandra Chasin s remarkable stories employ forms as diverse as cryptograms in ELENA AGAIN and sentence diagrams in Toward a Grammar of Guilt to display her interest in fiction as a form constituted by print on the page every bit as much as poetry In They Come From Mars the words are arrayed on the page like troops embodying the xenophobic image of invading armies of immigrant and illegal aliens that animates the narrative One story incorporates personal ads Lynette Your Uniqueness another is organized alphabetically 2 Alphabets while another leaves sentences unfinished Composer and I A number of stories take metafictional turns calling attention to the process of writing itself The last piece in the collection plays with genre distinctions including an index of first lines and a general index Set in New York New England Paris and Morocco these tales are narrated by men and women old and young gay straight and bisexual one narrator is not a person at all but a work of art Each of these deft playful and sometimes anarchic fictions is different from the others yet all are the unmistakable offspring of the same wildly inventive imagination Talking Book Topics ,2015-05
