

SHOPLIFTING POLICY – Procedures and guidelines for use in shoplifting or suspected shoplifting situations. [TEMPLATE – Items in blue should not be included in final policy]

This template is intended to provide management with information on developing a written shoplifting policy. This information should not be considered as legal advice or legal opinion as specific facts, that must be included as defining elements on the subject but a tool providing general information for the reader. The laws you work are designed to comply with Federal and state regulations concerning shoplifting situations. Should you wish, you should consult with their own legal counsel before implementing any of the suggested policies and procedures contained in this document.

FACT: Shoplifting is estimated to cost every retail establishment between .1% and 2.2% of receipts, with the average estimated to be 1.2%.

FACT: It DOES happen at this store.

FACT: This company takes a "hard-line" position against shoplifting.

FACT: In order to do that, we must be careful, even-handed, and persistent.

FACT: Shoplifting is a crime of opportunity and shoplifters will almost always move to an easier target if one is available.

MAKING THE STORE A LESS ATTRACTIVE TARGET

- Place more expensive merchandise under lock and key, or behind counters, or preferably both.
- Install a surveillance system and an alarm system. Make the camera or camera housings and the various sensors obvious. Even "dummy" cameras can be effective deterrents. Hide and make secure the recording devices.
- Train the sales floor staff to be observant and to offer assistance to customers regularly and often.
- Post signs saying that shoplifters will be prosecuted.
- If you have a paging system, periodically make a generic page along these lines: "Security, report to department 9." Be sure to vary the department number or name.
- Store management should train one or two "shoplifting experts or specialists" on each shift. These persons will be trained more thoroughly in decision making, detention procedures, processing and documentation.
- Prosecute shoplifters! Word will get around!

WHAT SHOULD ALL EMPLOYEES DO [at all times while working on the sales floor]

- Watch for suspicious behavior(s) from customers.
  1. Is (are) the customer(s) wearing heavy bulky clothing even though the weather is good?
  2. Is the customer constantly looking behind, left or right, or above as if to see if anyone, or anything, is watching?
  3. Is a group of customers acting in a bold/cocky manner as if to call attention to themselves?
  4. Is a customer spending an inordinate amount of time looking at the same relatively high priced merchandise?
  5. Is a customer seemingly nervous or uneasy when a sales associate asks if they can assist?
- Make mental and/or written notes, including descriptions, of any of the conditions noted above.
- Report any of the above conditions to store management or the shift shoplifting "expert."
