Conference New Zealand

Geographical Society. Conference,1995 Linguistic Typology and Representation of African Languages John M. Mugane,2003 For the thirty third consecutive year the Annual Conference on African Linguistics ACAL has provided the major forum for the discussion of linguistic data geared towards understanding how African languages are constituted acquired and used This volume represents a selection of 25 peer reviewed papers from the 33rd ACAL held in March 2002 at Ohio University in Athens The papers cover language acquisition syntax phonetics phonology morphology historical linguistics as well as language use and function in Africa by making proposals concerning the proper analysis and representation of linguistic information Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts ,2009-02 Rethinking South Africa's Past Christopher J. Lee,Andrew Offenburger,2025-03-18 This book presents key historical scholarship published in Safundi from 1999 to 2024 tracing South Africa s past through approaches of comparative history transnational history and visual history in addition to addressing the importance of topics like gender labor and class dynamics as well as regional historiographies The first section of the book focuses on comparative history as a founding method for Safundi given the journal s origins in American and South African studies while also recalibrating this approach through a variety of topics cities biographies and practices of violence rather than nation states writ large Drawing upon innovative sources of evidence the second section moves beyond the comparative method to address transnational histories as a new narrative technique for storytelling and analysis Whether issues of education immigration or visiting musicians to South Africa these chapters demonstrate the importance of a post national approach for understanding the past The sections that follow fan out into other subject areas including the uses of visual history gender roles class cultures and environmental history all of which illuminate connections between South African history and other parts of the world This book will be an indispensable resource for scholars students activists and policymakers as well as those readers who are generally interested in understanding South Africa s complex history over the past several centuries Resources in Education ,1981 South Africa Yearbook ,2009 Visualizing Africa in Nineteenth-Century British Travel Accounts Leila Koivunen,2008-11-19 This study provides the first sustained analysis of the process by which images of Africa were transformed into the illustrations of the continent that appeared in nineteenth century European travel books Koivunen examines the actual production process of images and the books in which they were published in order to demonstrate how why and by whom the images were manipulated Colonial Reports, Annual ,1938 Language Planning and Policy in Africa Richard B. Baldauf,Robert B. Kaplan,2004 A longer range purpose is to collect comparable information on as many polities as possible in order to facilitate the development of a richer theory to guide language policy and planning in other polities that undertake the development of a national policy on languages This volume is part of an areal series which is committed to providing descriptions of language planning and policy in countries around the world BOOK JACKET National Migration Study: Migration to Botswana towns ,1978 Mafeking Diary Solomon Tshekisho Plaatje,1990 Sol Plaatje s Mafeking Diary is a document of enduring importance and fascination The product of a young black South African court interpreter just turned 23 years old when he started writing it opens an entirely new vista on the famous Siege of Mafeking By shedding light on the part played by the African population of the town Plaatje explodes the myth maintained by belligerents and long perpetuated by both historians and the popular imagination this this was a white man s affair One of the great epics of British imperial history and perhaps the best remembered episode of the Anglo Boer war of 1899 1902 is presented from a wholly novel perspective At the same time the diary provides an intriguing insight into the character of a young man who was to play a key role in South African political and literary history during the first three decades of this century It reveals much of the perceptions and motives that shaped his own attitudes and intellectual development and indeed those of an early generation of African leaders who sought to build a society which did not determine the place of its citizens by the colour of their skin The diary therefore illuminates the origins of a struggle which continues to this day John L Comaroff ed in his preface Library Association Record
