Indo Nepalese K.K. Muktan,2018-01-01 This book makes a critical re appraisal of the ethno cultural dimensions of Nepal and India and traces the parameters of socio cultural political religious and linguistic unities and uniformities that exist between the two countries The Gangetic valley of India was the cradle of Indo Aryan civilization while Gandaki river of Nepal happened to be the ancient habitat of the Nepalese people The former was known as Aryavarta land of Aryans while the latter was called Sapta Gandaki basin of seven tributaries of Gandaki As the Aryans grew up in population they advanced further towards the east and pushed the indigenous tribes living there up the sub Himalayan region As a result the Kiratas were the first historically known people to enter Nepal from the North Eastern frontiers of India A few centuries thereafter more advanced Hinduised people from northern India known as the Lichchhavis Thakuris and Mallas went to Nepal and established their kingdoms They carried with them India s vedic culture and religion and initiated the people of Nepal into their culture and faith The advent of the Rajputs in 14th century and the rise in power of the Gorkha dynasty eventually succeeded in uniting the small principalities into a greater Nepal in the middle of 18th century Mr Muktan in this book lucidly brings out the close affinities of culture religion language and ethnicity that exist between the peoples of India and Nepal and yearns for a closer relationship harmony and richness of life between them

All is Burning Jean Arasanayagam, 1995 In these stories Jean Arasanayagam brings us voices that are not normally heard those of anonymous men and women searching for order and reason in the midst of a ruthless civil war While many succumb to the horror of their times there are others who discover in themselves unexpected reserves that will help them survive Thus a young Sinhala man turns his back on an aimless upper class existence and joins a group of Tamil refugees smuggling themselves into Germany a woman goes out alone to see the scene of a carnage to try and find her daughter s lover among the dead and dying a maid returns from the rich desert city of Doha to the green half jungle of her village in northern Sri Lanka and rediscovers happiness despite the uncertain future In addition to stories about the effects of war and violence this collection also explores aspects of ethnicity and individual choice in a multicultural society All is Burning is truth telling at its poignant best Jean Arasanayagam s writing contains some of the most powerful and truthful stories to come out of Sri Lanka She is a wonderful writer and should be read everywhere Jean Arasanayagam is one of the most significant voices writing in Sri Lanka today Her fiction is deeply political in the very best sense of the word concerned as it is with personal politics of post colonial identity Her luminous prose enables her to go straight to the core of her characters social and personal dilemmas Professor John Thieme Department of English The University of Hull Forever China Robert Payne, 1945 London edition W Heinemann Ltd has title Chungking diary Revelry, Rivalry, and Longing for the Goddesses of Bengal Rachel Fell McDermott, 2011 Annually during the months of autumn Bengal hosts three interlinked festivals to honor its most important goddesses Durga Kali and Jagaddhatri While each of these deities possesses a distinct iconography myth and character they are all martial Durga Kali and Jagaddhatri often demand blood sacrifice as part of their worship and offer material and spiritual benefits to their votaries Richly represented in straw clay paint and decoration they are similarly displayed in elaborately festooned temples thronged by thousands of admirers The first book to recount the history of these festivals and their revelry rivalry and nostalgic power this volume marks an unprecedented achievement in the mapping of a major public event Rachel Fell McDermott describes the festivals origins and growth under British rule She identifies their iconographic conventions and carnivalesque qualities and their relationship to the fierce Tantric sides of ritual practice McDermott confronts controversies over the tradition of blood sacrifice and the status seekers who compete for symbolic capital Expanding her narrative she takes readers beyond Bengal's borders to trace the transformation of the goddesses and their festivals across the world McDermott's work underscores the role of holidays in cultural memory specifically the Bengali evocation of an ideal culturally rich past Under the thrall of the goddess the social political economic and religious identity of Bengalis takes shape

Garland of Visions explores the generative relationships between artistic intelligence and tantric vision practices in the construction and circulation of visual knowledge in medieval South Asia. Shifting away from the traditional connoisseur approach, Jinah Kim instead focuses on the materiality of painting its mediums, its visions, and especially its colors. She argues that the adoption of a special type of manuscript called pothi enabled the material translation of a private and internal experience of seeing into a portable device. These mobile and intimate objects then became important conveyors of many forms of knowledge: ritual, artistic, social, scientific, and religious, and spurred the spread of visual knowledge of Indic Buddhism to distant lands. By taking color as the material link between a vision and its artistic output, Garland of Visions presents a fresh approach to the history of Indian painting.
