ARIS — Business Process Modeling August-Wilhelm Scheer, 2012-12-06 ARIS Architecture of Integrated Information Systems is a unique and internationally renowned method for optimizing business processes and implementing application systems This book describes in detail how ARIS methods model and realize business processes by means of UML Unified Modeling Language leading to an information model that is the keystone for a systematic and intelligent method of developing application systems Multiple real world examples including knowledge management implementation of workflow systems and standard software solutions SAP R 3 in particular address the deployment of ARIS methods Business Process Management Wil M.P. van der Aalst, Boualem Benatallah, Fabio Casati, Francisco Curbera, 2005-09-19 This volume contains the proceedings of the 3rd International Conference on Business Process Management BPM 2005 organized by LORIA in Nancy France September 5 8 2005 This year BPM included several innovations with respect to previous editions most notably the addition of an industrial program and of co located workshops This was the logical result of the significant and still growing industrial interest in the area and of the broadening of the research communities working on BPM topics The interest in business process management and in the BPM conference was demonstrated by the quantity and quality of the paper submissions We received over 176 contributions from 31 countries accepting 25 of them as full papers 20 research papers and 5 industrial papers while 17 contributions were accepted as short papers In addition to the regular industry and short presentations invited lectures were given by Frank Leymann and Gustavo Alonso This combination of research papers industrial papers, keynotes and workshops all of very high quality has shown that BPM has become a mature conference and the main venue for researchers and practitioners in this area. We would like to thank the members of the Program Committee and the reviewers for their efforts in selecting the papers. They helped us compile an excellent scientific program. For the difficult task of selecting the 25 best papers (14% acceptance rate) and 17 short papers, each paper was reviewed by at least three reviewers except some out of scope papers.

Data Warehousing SCN Education B.V., 2013-11-11. Data from acquisition to interpretation. Historically, the major challenge for organizations was capturing data. Years ago, businesses were able to leverage the information they could get but weren't very good at getting detailed information across a range of business processes. In the business environment of today, virtually every transaction and minute business data is recorded in databases to enable better, more effective decision making throughout the organization. Most of the technology emphasis has been on storing data, with less attention paid to tools for transforming data into meaningful information which can be easily accessed and shared by executives. A data warehouse system can take meaningless data and using intense analytical processing offer insight into changing market conditions before they occur. The capability to optimize customer interactions and supply chain operations is becoming a source of great competitive advantage. This Hon Guide will give you access to all the essential information about the newest ways to store and interpret data through articles by expert trendwatchers on strategic considerations, how to reports defining the various ways to extract the data needed for critical business decisions, technical papers clarifying technologies and tools, business cases and key concepts that will provide the reader with a comprehensive overview of a business solution that is already indispensable.

Implementation of an Enterprise Resource Planning System with

Focus on End-User Training Elke Simon, 1999-11-24 Inhaltsangabe Abstract The implementation of an Enterprise Resource Planning ERP system refers to Information Systems Business Processes and People Basically it is a changing procedure in organizations that strive for company wide high performance Business Process Transformation is about changing a company's focus from products to customers Information Systems are replaced by a homogenous system environment which integrates all information into a common system The behaviour and skills of the company wide personnel are adapted to perform in the new world The big challenge of the implementation is to have the properly trained people for a high performance organization Unfortunately most companies do not recognize that need They underestimate the impact that the human factor has on an ERP approach they consider the implementation as a software installation with influence to the business But the implementation is much more complex This thesis is dedicated to all those persons who intend to implement an Enterprise Resource Planning system and who want to understand the theory of Business Process Transformation and how it is linked to Enterprise Resource Planning To emphasize the importance of the human factors within the implementation chapter 4 elaborates on End User Training as a significant part of an implementation for a company dedicated to becoming a high performance organization This paper also includes a case study of an ERP implementation at Mitel Corporation The case study presents information about the Company its ERP implementation and its approach to End User Training
