Designing Mobile Service Systems Els van de Kar,Alexander Verbraeck,2008 Annotation In this book we describe the design of services from a systems perspective In this systems perspective we explain three elements of the service system that have to be balanced the service concept with the value proposition to the users the organisational network in which stakeholders have to cooperate to develop and deliver the service and the technical architecture that uses information and communication technologies to deliver the content These three main elements of a service system are described in detail and illustrated with examples of services from different domains The elements are integrated into a methodology that describes how to design implement and test mobile service systems The trend is that service systems will become time and place independent and at the same time context dependent Therefore the design of service systems that can be used anytime and anyplace will become common practice Jacket The Routledge Handbook of Geospatial Technologies and Society

Alexander J. Kent,Doug Specht,2023-08-17 The Routledge Handbook of Geospatial Technologies and Society provides a relevant and comprehensive reference point for research and practice in this dynamic field It offers detailed explanations of geospatial technologies and provides critical reviews and appraisals of their application in society within international and multi disciplinary contexts as agents of change The ability of geospatial data to transform knowledge in contemporary and future societies forms an important theme running throughout the entire volume Contributors reflect on the changing role of geospatial technologies in society and highlight new applications that represent transformative directions in society and point towards new horizons Furthermore they encourage dialogue across disciplines to bring new theoretical perspectives on geospatial technologies from neurology to heritage studies The international contributions from leading scholars and influential practitioners that constitute the Handbook provide a wealth of critical examples of these technologies as agents of change in societies around the globe The book will appeal to advanced undergraduates and practitioners interested or engaged in their application worldwide Studies in Temporal Urbanism Fabian Neuhaus,2011-08-04 This book is very much about what the name urbanTick literally says about the ticking of the urban the urban as we experience it everyday on the bus in the park or between buildings It is about the big orchestrated mass migration of commuters the seasonal blossoms of the trees along the walkway and the frequency of the stamping rubbish eater trucks It is also not to forget about climate infrastructure opening hours term times parking meters time tables growing shadows and moon light But most of all it is about how all this is experienced by citizens on a daily basis and how they navigate within this complex structure of patterns The content of this book is based on the content of the urbanTick blog between 2008 2010 One year blogging about this topic brought together a large collection of different aspects and thoughts It is not at all a conclusive view the opposite might be the case it is an exploratory work in progress while trying to capture as many facets of the topic as possible The Future of Commercial Law Orkun Akseli,John Linarelli,2020-04-16 The papers collected in this volume derive from a Society of Legal
