which individuals construct and integrate self positions in a transcultural context by adopting a pluralist theoretical and methodological approach that includes both Western post modern viewpoints and ancient Chinese philosophical ideas The book starts with stories of two second generation Chinese young people and their mothers life experiences in the UK which can be seen as an epitome of individuals living in the modern and complex environment of the time Using social constructionist viewpoints it then analyzes the overt interaction between the individual and outside environment and interprets the recessive interaction such as the individual s psychological response to the outside environment which might be unknown to him or herself using the psychodynamic approach based on object relations theory and other psychoanalytic concepts such as defense mechanisms The book uses Confucian philosophy to show how Chinese people think about the relation between other people and themselves and also integrates different and even opposing theories and viewpoints from Taoist philosophy This creative book provides a theoretical and practical approach to explore the conception of self and the way in which individuals construct their self positions in a complex context Combining cutting edge Western psycho social viewpoints and ancient Chinese philosophy it appeals to readers interested in self psycho social approaches psychoanalytic viewpoints and Chinese philosophy Non-Imaging Microwave and Millimetre-Wave Sensors for Concealed Object

Detection Boris Y. Kapilevich, Stuart W. Harmer, Nicholas J. Bowring, 2014-09-17 In response to the ever increasing global threat of terrorist attacks the personal screening industry has been growing at a rapid rate Many methods have been developed for detecting concealed weapons and explosives on the human body In this important new book the authors discuss their experiences over the last decade designing and testing microwave and millimetre wave detection and screening systems It includes examples of actual devices that they have built and tested along with test results that were obtained in realistic scenarios The book focuses on the development of non imaging detection systems which are similar to radar These systems do not form a conventional image of the scene and the person s being screened Instead the sensors detect and analyze the effect that the body and any concealed objects has on a transmitted waveform These systems allow remote detection of both metallic and dielectric devices concealed on the human body in both indoor and outdoor environments The book discusses a number of sensor types including active millimetre wave sensors using the direct detection and the heterodyne approach active microwave sensors for CNR based object detection passive millimetre wave sensors and the role of shielding effects in operating non imaging MM wave sensors The goal of this book is to systemize the test results obtained by the authors helping specialists to develop improved screening systems in the future Another goal is to show how the use of non imaging systems can reduce the cost of the screening process

Abstraction in Science and Art Chiara Ambrosio, Julia Sánchez-Dorado, 2024-09-30 This volume explores the roles and uses of abstraction in scientific and artistic practice Conceived as an interdisciplinary dialogue between experts across histories and philosophies of art and science this collection of essays draws on the shared premise that abstraction is a rich and generative process not reducible to the mere omission of details in a representation When scientists attempt to make sense of complex natural phenomena they often produce highly abstract models of them In the history and philosophy of art there is a long tradition of debate on the function of abstraction and more recently its relation with theories of depiction Adopting a process oriented perspective the chapters in this volume explore the epistemic potential of a diversity of practices of abstracting The systematic analysis of a wide range of historical cases from early twentieth century abstractionist painting to contemporary abstract photography and from nineteenth century physics to recent research in biology and neurosciences invites the reader to reflect on the material lives of abstraction through concrete artefacts experimental practices and theoretical and aesthetic achievements Abstraction in Science and Art Philosophical Perspectives will be of interest to scholars and advanced students working in aesthetics philosophy of science and epistemology as well as to historians of science and art and to practicing artists and scientists interested in exploring foundational questions at the heart of the creative practice of abstracting The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license Open access for this book was funded by University College London

The Star Gate Archives Edwin C. May, Sonali Bhatt Marwaha, 2019-07-29 Star Gate is the largest funded program in the history of psi research receiving about 19 933 million in funding from 1972 to 1995 Researchers from SRI International and later at Science Applications International Corporation in association with various U S intelligence agencies participated in this program Using the remote viewing method research focused on understanding the applicability and nature of psi in general but mostly upon informational psi Volume 1 Remote Viewing 1972 1984 and Volume 2 Remote Viewing 1985 1995 include all aspects of RV including laboratory trials and several operational results Volume 3 Psychokinesis focuses on laboratory investigations Volume 4 Operational Remote Viewing Government Memorandums and Reports includes an analysis of the applied remote viewing program and a selection of documents that provide a narrative on the behind the scenes activities of Star Gate In a total of 504 separate missions from 1972 to 1995 remote viewing produced actionable intelligence prompting 89 percent of the customers to return with additional missions The Star Gate data indicate that informational psi is a valid phenomenon These data have led to the development of a physics and neuroscience based testable model for the underlying mechanism which considers informational psi as a normal albeit atypical phenomenon The Star Gate data found insufficient evidence to support the causal psi psychokinesis hypothesis

All Data Are Local Yanni Loukissas, 2019-04-30 How to analyze data settings rather than data sets acknowledging the meaning making power of the local In our data driven society it is too easy to assume the transparency of data Instead Yanni Loukissas argues in All Data Are Local we should approach data sets with an awareness that data are created by humans and their dutiful machines at a time in a place with the instruments at hand for audiences that are conditioned to receive them The term data set implies something discrete complete and portable but it is none of those things Examining a series of data sources important for understanding the state of public life in the United States Harvard's Arnold Arboretum the Digital Public Library of America UCLA's Television News Archive and the real estate marketplace Zillow Loukissas shows us how to analyze data settings rather than data sets Loukissas sets out six principles all data are local data have complex attachments to place data are collected from heterogeneous sources data and algorithms are inextricably entangled interfaces recontextualize data and data are indexes to local knowledge He then provides a set of practical guidelines to follow To make his argument Loukissas employs a combination of qualitative research on data cultures and exploratory data visualizations Rebutting the myth of digital universalism Loukissas reminds us of the meaning making power of the local

Physics and Literature Aura Heydenreich,Klaus Mecke,2021-12-20 Physics and Literature is a unique collaboration between physicists literary scholars and philosophers the first collection of essays to examine together how science and literature beneath their practical differences share core dimensions forms of questioning thinking discovering and communicating insights This book advances an in depth exploration of relations between physics and literature from both perspectives It turns around the tendency to discuss relations between literature and science in one sided and polarizing ways The collection is the result of the inaugural conference of ELINAS the Erlangen Center for Literature and Natural Science an initiative dedicated to building bridges between literary and scientific research ELINAS revitalizes discussion of science literature interconnections with new topics ideas and angles by organizing genuine dialogue among participants across disciplinary lines The essays explore how scientific thought and practices are conditioned by narrative and genre fiction models and metaphors and how science in turn feeds into the meaning making of literary and philosophical texts These interdisciplinary encounters enrich reflections on epistemology cognition and aesthetics

Economics for a Fairer Society Tim Gooding,2019-04-23 This Palgrave Pivot presents experiments that reveal core dynamics of trade in a complex system Monetary trade is stripped of all its complications and placed in agent based models a complexity research tool capable of reproducing emergent behaviour and evolution Included are ground breaking repeatable experiments exploring the impact of evolutionary prerequisites empirically present in markets Isolating the core dynamics of trade results in very simple agent based models However decades of complexity research demonstrate that even the simplest systems result in emergent behaviour that is extremely difficult to anticipate Readers who are only familiar with the linear system theories and models used to train almost all undergraduate economics students might be surprised to witness price detaching from supply and demand and extreme poverty and wealth arising in trade systems populated by agents with equal ability and opportunity Watch as empirical evolutionary prerequisites are introduced and price patterns characterising two different markets asset markets and speculative markets emerge irrespective of supply and demand In addition to laying the groundwork of monetary trade in a complex system more complicated models feature mortal reproductive agents Including living populations in economic models reveal how the complexity characteristics of our market economy are impacting impoverishment and starvation This book invites anyone interested in economics to join the growing ranks of people who are fascinated by the insights offered by complexity research Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications United States.
