The Community Visioning And Strategic Handbook:

Community Visioning Programs Norman Walzer, Gisele Hamm, 2017-10-02 Communities have practiced strategic planning for decades using a variety of tools and programs based on the initial Take Charge programs of the early 1990s. These efforts generated a large amount of research regarding their effectiveness as well as ways to measure long term outcomes and other related issues in efforts to better understand the process of community change. This book provides contributions written by researchers and practitioners describing both visioning and other strategic planning efforts. The Great Recession challenged the future of many small and medium sized cities especially in non metropolitan areas renewing the interests of community leaders and elected officials in finding innovative ways to revitalize their local employment base and economic opportunities. Having access to a collection of best practices and successful approaches can greatly assist these practitioners in selecting strategies and techniques for use in their community efforts. The material in this book is especially useful because it includes both methodologies as well as case studies of how and why various approaches used in alternative cultural settings have succeeded. This book was originally published as a special issue of Community Development. A Place at the Table Kathleen de la Pena McCook, 2000-06 While libraries deliver a vital public service within diverse communities they are often invisible in the community development process initiated by civic planners, activists and local government officials. Award winning librarian educator author and activist Kathleen de la Pena McCook challenges librarians everywhere to get involved early by demanding a place at the community planning and development table. Describing the experiences and insights of librarians who have blazed trails of community involvement and development around the country, McCook outlines practical ways to become involved in policy making early and build a grassroots campaign. Connect with powerful partners in the community visioning process. Promote the tangible strengths and assets of the library.
